WILLKIE VIEWS CAMPAIGN AS A GREAT CRUSADE

Feels Trend Pushing Him Into Office.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 29 [Special].—Wendell L. Willkie explained today why, in his opinion, this is a unique Presidential campaign, with party lines destroyed; and why Republicans and Democrats alike are reaching a common viewpoint on the basic American principles which he, as the Republican nominee, advocates.

His statement, made at a press conference, shows why he considers this a crusade rather than an ordinary political campaign, and why he thinks he represents a "trend" that will sweep him into office.

An increasing flood of reports of Democratic support is coming into Willkie headquarters. This is true of northern as well as southern Democrats. Willkie's conviction is growing stronger and stronger that he will break the solid south, and he plans a hard campaign with that in view.

Compares Democratic Platforms.

Asked as to the significance of these reports, he said:

"I do not know of any reason why any Democrat who subscribed to and believed in the 1932 Democratic platform, or believes in the historic principles of the Democratic party, or who was a Woodrow Wilson Democrat, should not vote for me in preference to the President—not at all on the basis of personality, but on the basis of what he and I respectively believe and advocate."

Questioned as to Republican voters, Willkie said:

"I think the Republican party, thru me, likewise is advocating the cause that represents the viewpoint of the Republicans of the country, namely, opposition to the policies and practices of the Roosevelt administration, particularly with reference to domestic questions.

"In other words, both Republican and Democrat have a common viewpoint. The people who should not vote for me are those who believe in the New Deal and the Democrats bound by rigid party ties or those controled by the corrupt and nauseating party machines that are dominating some of our major cities with relief funds and other funds furnished by the federal government."

At Work on Speech.

Willkie received a few visitors today, but spent most of the time writing his acceptance speech, which will be delivered on the afternoon of Aug. 17 at Elwood, Ind. He announced that after the delivery of this address he might fly to Chicago to make an appearance that evening at the Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, at Soldiers' field. Homer Capehart of Indiana, chairman of the notification day arrangements committee, suggested this to Willkie on his recent visit here. Willkie is considering accepting the invitation if plans can be worked out.

Willkie's acceptance speech will be something new in American politics, just as the candidate himself is something new. It will be refreshingly informal and will be approached from the standpoint of Willkie's home town folks—the standpoint of a typical small middle western town.

Declaration of Principles.

This troubled world and the great questions of policy which Willkie must announce on that day will be focused thru this lens and will seek to express the true American mind today. It will be a declaration of principles rather than a new platform, altho the great specific questions of foreign policy, agriculture, labor, etc., will be taken up and answered.

Willkie is about half thru writing the speech, which will be short. The agricultural commitments in the speech will be written after his conference in Des Moines next Monday with governors and agricultural leaders from several midwestern states.

Willkie has no specific plans after the Elwood speech, altho the governor of Michigan and others have invited him to retire to Mackinac island for a week or more before he starts his actual campaign of travel thru all the states. He is seriously considering this proposal.

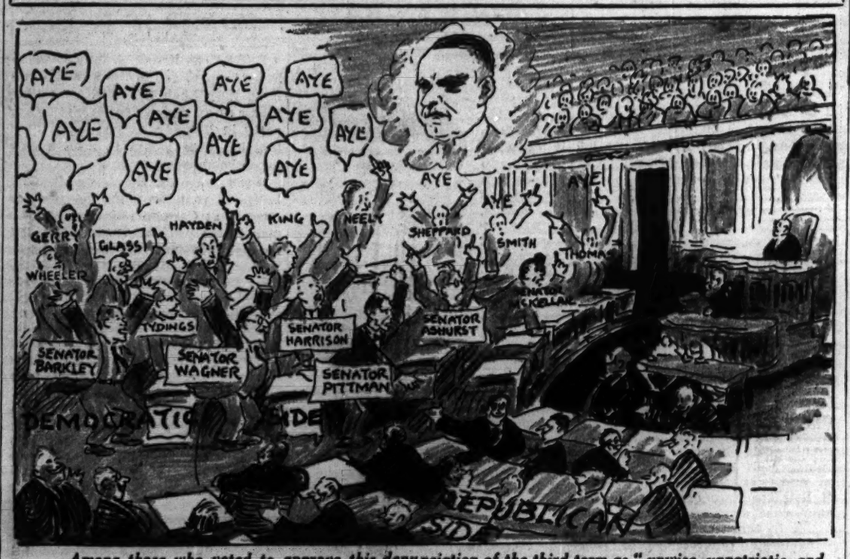
CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES

On Feb. 10, 1928, the senate of the United States adopted the following resolution: That it is the sense of the senate that the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions.



Among those who voted to approve this denunciation of the third term as "unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions" were Senator Alben Barkley, Senator Robert F. Wagner, Senator Key Pittman, Senator Pat Harrison, Senator Henry F. Ashurst, and the following other distinguished Democrats, all members of the present senate: Gerry, Glass, Hayden, King, McKellar, Neely, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, Tydings, and Wheeler. They probably had President Coolidge in mind.

Many of these Democrats have now become ardent third termers.

BALKS AT PLAN TO STOP HITLER COLONIAL GRAB

Seeks Way to Avoid Offending Nazis.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, July 29.—The 21 American republics tonight approved the program of the United States for resisting the influence of Nazi Germany in the western hemisphere.

With Argentina hedging on its final vote and secretly resentful of the pact, the Americas agreed to the plan for administration of any colonies threatened with change of European ownership as a result of the war.

The declaration approved by the republics states that an "imperative emergency" will require the appointment of a committee to take over the colonial possessions.

Insist Upon Reservation.

The Argentine delegates insisted upon the reservation that "the signing of this act and resolution does not affect and leaves intact our governmental powers established in the constitutional forms which obtain in Argentina." This reservation indicated the desire of the Argentines for a way to evade the agreement, which is known as the "Act of Havana," and avoid offending Adolf Hitler or the Italian Fascists.

While signing the agreement, members of the Argentine delegation said they were incensed because the American press pictures them as inimical to the United States and friendly to Germany. They are going home, they said, with the feeling that they have not been given fair publicity in America.

Waits Until Last Minute.

The Argentine action created a complicated situation with regard to the old Pan-American conference custom of unanimity.

Just as Argentina waited until the last minute on Thursday to introduce its own resolution on foreign possessions in this hemisphere, it waited until the "Act of Havana" was ready for the final plenary action—the formality of signature—before slipping in the reservation about the necessity of getting its government's approval.

It came when all the other delegates were certain that everything had been accomplished as planned in Havana and many of them already were thinking about transportation home.

Provides Provisional Rule.

Provision for the United States' assumption of the control of the French, Dutch, British, and Danish colonies in the new world is worded as follows:

"If a non-American state shall directly or indirectly attempt to replace another non-American state, thus threatening the peace of the continent, such territory shall automatically come under the administration of this act."

The "provisional administration" may be put into effect by any one or any group of the American nations if the emergency is too great to permit consultation among all members, but would be established only on the understanding that when the emergency has passed the affected regions would be returned to their original status or made autonomous territories.

Points to Grave Menace.

The act recognizing that conquest of European held possessions in the Americas may be attempted "as a result of the present European war," points to the "grave menace" of those colonies becoming "strategic centers of aggression against the American continent."

In an agreement for the control of subversive activities, the republics agreed upon complete interchange of information regarding foreign agents, asserting that "under the existing world conditions the interest of all the republics" demands such cooperation.

The resolution calling for economic coöperation among the American republics said that "immediate measures and arrangements of mutual benefit tending to increase trade" were essential. The Roosevelt administration's scheme for expansion of the Export-Import bank was given approval indirectly.

President Asks Again for Right to Call Guard

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—President Roosevelt in a message to the senate today renewed his demand for authority to order the National Guard and the regular army reserve into active service, but he did not mention the administration's conscription program.

Altho the army high command has favored calling the National Guard into federal service as the first step in the proposed creation of a mass conscript army, increasing opposition to the conscription program caused administration leaders in congress to proceed with extreme caution.

The Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, as modified according to the recommendations of the war department, was scheduled last week to come up for senate consideration today. The senate military affairs committee delayed final approval of the bill, however, until its meeting tomorrow, with a view to beginning senate consideration Wednesday. Today Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky indicated senate debate will be delayed at least until next Monday in order to let senators study the measure.

Seek to Avert Vote.

While there is much talk in the senate of some compromise on the conscription issue to permit drafting only enough men between 21 and 31 to establish and maintain an army of 750,000, many loyal administration supporters are urging both Majority Leader Barkley in the senate and Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas in the house not to force a vote on the issue. Altho they express their willingness to support some measure of conscription if it comes to a vote, they are urging caution because of the possible consequences.

Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.], a New Deal third termer who opposes peacetime conscription, has told his friends in the senate that if Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican Presidential nominee, comes out against conscription he will defeat President Roosevelt next November.

Opposition Is Disturbing.

There were indications also that Mr. Roosevelt is disturbed by the increasing opposition to the conscription program. It was learned in official quarters that the army high command, having been forced against its judgment to come out for conscription, is fearful that Mr. Roosevelt will abandon the scheme and leave the army out on a limb.

Altho Mr. Roosevelt has not publicly indorsed the Burke-Wadsworth bill, he approved the principle of compulsory selective military training in a message to congress on July 10 and again in his speech of acceptance following his renomination for a third term by the Democratic national convention.

Two days after the President's first indorsement of the conscription principle the army high command appeared before the senate military affairs committee and took charge of the Burke-Wadsworth bill, which has been completely rewritten under the supervision of the war department.

G. O. P. Stand a Factor.

Unless some comparatively modest compromise is agreed upon, the chance of passing conscription legislation at the present session will depend, at least in the house, upon the attitude of the Republicans, which may be influenced greatly by the position of Willkie.

With many house Democrats opposed to conscription, it is conceded that a substantial Republican vote will be required to pass a bill. At present the majority of the Republicans in the house is opposed to conscription. Other members are waiting for Representative Joseph

FLYERS STRIKE AT BLACKED OUT BRITISH TOWNS

English Shoot Down 23 German Craft.

LONDON, July 30, Tuesday (AP).—German predawn raiders struck again today thru the darkness at blacked out towns of southeastern England where massed dive bombers yesterday pounded at the key defense works of Dover, within sight of the Nazi held coast of France.

In one southeastern town bombs smashed into a working class residential district, wrecking homes. Residents fled to air raid shelters, but the first bombs exploded before all could take cover. There was no estimate of casualties.

During the night bombs were dropped in a northeast town and in a few southwestern districts. One enemy plane was downed in southeast England, the air ministry said.

Other raiders streaked inland from the northeast and southwest. For three hours German planes circled over Wales, dropping 14 bombs in one area.

Blasted for Half Hour.

Adolf Hitler hurled his greatest thunderbolt of the air war on England in a daylong series of savage attacks yesterday on Dover. For an explosive half hour, wave upon wave of dive bombers and fighters—80 in all—blasted at the channel port, only 22 miles from the French coast and possible initial objective in the first major invasion attempted against England in 874 years.

British fighter planes, long awaiting just such an attack, swarmed into the skies to tangle with the attackers. Official figures placed the bag of Nazi craft downed in this engagement at 20, but unofficially the total was given as 23.

The ministry of information, relaxing its restrictions against naming towns attacked, gave permission last night to name Dover as the scene of yesterday's major battle. Earlier the action was referred to only as over a "southeastern port."

Important Military Center.

Some of the most important military concentrations in England are at Dover, a town of 40,000, and it was at these the Germans apparently were aiming their bombs.

Towering above the city is an ancient fortress, modernized in recent years. Military men say it can withstand virtually any assault. Protecting Dover's fine harbor are huge stone breakwaters thru which in peacetime pass ships on the cross channel route between Dover and Calais. From the Dover cliffs the shores of German occupied France may be seen on a bright day.

Yesterday's tremendous attack led many Britons to believe Hitler would not be long in launching his threatened frontal assault against Britain—the first since the legions of William the Conquerer successfully invaded this island kingdom in 1066.

28th Destroyer Lost.

Yesterday's overwhelming score in favor of Britain's defenders was offset somewhat by the announcement of the sinking of the destroyer Wren, the 28th destroyer casualty of the war, by a Nazi air bomb.

The admiralty's account said the 1,200 ton destroyer was hit squarely. It did not disclose the date or the loss of life. The Wren, built in 1918, carried a normal complement of 134 officers and men. The destroyer Montrose, which was accompanying the Wren, shot down two German attackers.

Britain has been turning out destroyer replacements at a pace described as more than replacing the losses. Britain started the war with 179 destroyers.

The admiralty announced last night that the trawler Staunton had been sunk by an enemy mine. Casualties were mentioned, but no number was given.

Along Coast from Wales.

From Wales to the southeast coast the Germans blasted away at these isles with an intensified ferocity. Southeastern coastal areas bore the brunt of yesterday's assault.

"German machines were falling like autumn leaves," one eyewitness reported. "Fragments of German planes, some blown to pieces by direct hits on their bomb racks, came down literally in showers.

"People who should have been in shelters stood transfixed. The fighters, darting back and forth from be-

British Insist Japan Prove Spy Charges

TOKIO, July 30, Tuesday (AP).—Britain has demanded a full investigation of the death of Melville James Cox, veteran English newspaper man who, Japanese said, committed suicide after his arrest on espionage charges, reliable sources disclosed early today.

Britain also has called for substantiation of charges of a British "espionage network" operating in Japan following Tokio's action in rounding up several prominent British business men.

Balk at Accepting Note.

British officials were not inclined to accept a purported farewell note Cox was reported to have left to his wife. It read: " . . . I have been well treated, but there is no doubt about how matters are going."

The Japanese foreign office issued a statement declaring Cox "threw himself from the second story room of the Tokio military police headquarters altho guards tried to prevent him."

"Espionage Network" Charged.

Regarding the arrest of other Britons, the statement said:

"In view of the ever increasing activities of foreign organs of espionage conspiracy in this country lately, the military police, under the direction of the prosecutors, arrested as a first step July 27 those constituting part of the British espionage network covering the entire country."

[Reports in Shanghai said 11 prominent business men had been seized.]

JAPAN CRACKS DOWN

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, July 30, Tuesday.—Japan today cracked down on foreign nationals conducting propaganda and espionage and warned that the army was taking firm action against unpatriotic Japanese working for such persons or establishments.

The war office issued a statement warning the Japanese people that "contacts with foreigners in the interests of international friendship play into the hands of the other parties." The authorities are said deeply to deplore the employment of Japanese by foreign economic, religious, and communications enterprises which carry on propaganda and espionage. They intend to take firm action against such unpatriotic Japanese.

LONDON PAPER OPENS NEW ATTACK AGAINST 'COOPER'S SNOOPERS'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 30, Tuesday.—The Daily Herald this morning launched a new attack against "Cooper's snoopers." Alfred Duff Cooper, minister of information, after Prime Minister Winston Churchill had wiped out the much ridiculed "silent column," announced a scheme under which investigators would make a "morale and social survey" of the nation in a house to house canvass, and by "drawing deductions from conversations overhead in pubs, in clubs, on buses, and in other places."

In addition to a front page story, the Herald in an editorial charged that "dilettante dabblings of the minister of information have now passed from irritating to intolerable."

"Not only are experts instructed to knock on doors and cross-examine the householders, but they are told to eavesdrop on private conversations in public places and thus 'make deductions' about the morale," the editorial said. "When will Nicolson [Harold Nicolson, parliamentary undersecretary of the information ministry] and Duff Cooper be made to understand that the private life of the British citizen is his own property?"

Chamberlain, Ex-Premier, Under Knife

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—Former Premier Neville Chamberlain, now lord president of the council, today underwent a successful abdominal operation and tonight his condition was "satisfactory," his physicians announced.

A bulletin said the operation was "for the relief of intestinal symptoms of an obstructive nature."

It was added that "it is anticipated that Mr. Chamberlain will be able to return to his office in two or three weeks."

The news of the operation came as a surprise. After being examined by Lord Horder, physician in ordinary to the king, the operation was performed by E. G. Slessinger, senior surgeon of Guy's hospital.

SUFFERER FROM GOUT.

The tall, bushy browed predecessor of Winston Churchill as Britain's war prime minister has been a chronic sufferer from gout.

Despite his 71 years and frail appearance, however, Chamberlain felt equal to the burden the hostilities thrust on his shoulders.

Only last April, remonstrating mildly against allusions to his years, he declared:

"My eye is undimmed and my natural force unabated."

During an attack of gout last November, when Chamberlain still was prime minister, it was necessary for Sir John Simon, then chancellor of the exchequer, to read Chamberlain's weekly war report to the house of commons.

But there has been no sign of any serious decline in his health and he has been pictured recently by Churchill as "a man of very tough fiber."

hind the clouds, were so high they were only tiny specks.

"The dramatic moment came when two German machines came down together, belching smoke and flame as they grew larger and finally plunged into the water, sending up tremendous twin geysers.

"Almost immediately another ship slid, swerved out of control and skimmed over the rooftops. It righted itself just in time. It turned out to be a British fighter and the crowd returned the gunner's wave with thunderous cheers."

A German bomber dropped three "scream bombs" that nearly bounced two motor fishing boats out of the sea and was shot down in turn by a British fighter as it tried to escape.

"This Jerry all of a sudden came out of a cloud only a few hundred feet up," said the skipper of one boat, "he dropped three bombs. They exploded about 400 yards away and nearly lifted our little boats out of sea.

"Columns of water shot up probably 150 feet. We slipped our nets and ran. We heard machine gun fire and saw the plane trying to slip into a cloud. We don't know whether it was aiming at us or just jettisoning bombs."

Watchers on shore reported the plane shot down.

Bomb German Airdromes.

Slashing back at the Germans, the air ministry reported 17 Nazi airdromes in Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, and northern France, and oil depots and docks in Germany were bombed during Sunday night. Three British craft failed to return.

Many fires were started when British planes raided the Cherbourg [France] oil tanks, the British said.

Informed Dutch sources were quoted in London last night as saying British bombers have littered the Ijssel river, important waterway link with the Rhine, with the wreckage of barges. Germans were said to have warned navigators that the east channel is cluttered with sunken river craft.

Monday's bag of German planes brought Britain's official count of invading craft downed by home defenses to 318, and to 244 since the first German mass raid on June 18.

It was announced officially that 77 German airmen had been captured in the last four days.

Report Nazi Sea Attacks.

BERLIN, July 29 (AP).—Germany still waited today for Adolf Hitler to give the "go" signal for a blitzkrieg attack on Great Britain, as German warplanes and submarines harassed vulnerable British shipping in the English channel.

"The English must see," said the newspaper Allgemeine Zeitung, "that a new order in Europe is being created thru the axis powers while they themselves wait in powerless rage to see what will be demanded of them."

The German high command communique emphasized U-boat raids on Britain's commerce.

Claim Five Ships Sunk.

The high command's communique said in part:

"One submarine, under command of Lieutenant Commander Wilhelm Krollman as already announced in a special report, sank out of a strongly protected English convoy five armed merchant ships of a total of 48,000 gross registered tons, including an auxiliary cruiser of 18,000 tons. The convoy was dispersed.

"Moreover, this submarine torpedoed an armed British merchantman of 6,000 gross register tons.

"Another submarine sank out of a strongly secured convoy 18,750 gross register tons of enemy cargo space.

"A third submarine succeeded in sinking off the British coast an armed enemy merchantman of more than 6,000 tons.

"In the night of the 28th-29th, British airplanes dropped only a few bombs in northern and western Germany, without causing damage. Only in Hamburg, one bomb exploded in a residential district. Speedy action by the air protection organization, however, prevented heavy damage."

British bombers, it said, failed to hit any military targets in Sunday night raids on German objectives and air operations cost Britain 11 planes and Germany only two.

Admiral Sims' Grandson Is Decorated by Britain

LONDON, July 29.—The first American serving with the British army to be decorated in this war is Harold Arthur Sims, grandson of Admiral W. S. Sims, commander of the United States fleet in European waters in the world war. Sims, a lance corporal in the Royal Iniskilling Dragoon guards, won the military medal for gallantry at Dunkirk, where he served as a radio operator and gunner in a tank. Tho born in Britain, Sims has not adopted British nationality. He celebrated his 21st birthday in Belgium. His younger brother, 19 years old, is in the royal air force.

CHARGE GERMANS DISGUISE PLANES WITH RED CROSS

British Tow Hospital Craft to Port.

LONDON, July 29 (AP).—After the air ministry had announced that two German seaplanes, marked with the Red Cross emblem, had been shot down yesterday and charged that they had been making "valuable reconnaissances," a twin engined seaplane was towed into a southeast coast harbor today and found to be unarmed and equipped with hospital cots and medical supplies. British flyers had forced the plane down into the channel.

The pilot of the salvaged plane, which carried a crew of four, told his captors the machine was one of a fleet provided at the request of German bomber crews who have been attacking channel shipping and asked that rescue planes be provided if they were shot down into the sea.

Air Ministry Communique.

The air ministry communique concerning the shooting down of the Red Cross marked planes was as follows:

"For some time past aircraft of the royal air force have observed German seaplanes painted white and marked with a Red Cross flying over British convoys within a few miles of the British coast.

"These aircraft, which are fitted with wireless, are known to make valuable reconnaissances on behalf of the enemy.

"Early in July two such aircraft were forced down, one a few miles from Hartlepool and the other in the English channel near Walmer. The crews were made prisoners of war.

"The log book of one of the captured aircraft showed that under cover of the Red Cross emblem it had been used as a communication aircraft by Maj. Gen. Tittel, commander of an infantry division, and his adjutant and also that it had been used to make bogus war films for the general war news service.

Germans, Italians Warned.

"In view of this, his majesty's government caused the following communication to be made thru the proper channels for transmission to the German and Italian governments:

"'It has come to the notice of his majesty's government in the United Kingdom that enemy aircraft bearing civil markings and marked with a Red Cross have recently flown over British ships at sea and in the vicinity of the British coast, and that they are being employed for purposes which his majesty's government cannot regard as being consistent with the privileges generally accorded to the Red Cross.

"'His majesty's government desire to accord to ambulance aircraft reasonable facilities for the transportation of the sick and wounded in accordance with the Red Cross convention. An aircraft engaged in the direct evacuation of sick and wounded will be respected provided they comply with the relevant provisions of the convention.

Ambulance Planes Warned.

"'His majesty's government are unable, however, to grant immunity to such aircraft flying over areas in which operations are in progress on land or at sea or approaching British or allied territory or territory in British occupation or British or allied ships. Ambulance aircraft which do not comply with the above requirements will do so at their own risk and peril.'

"Yesterday, Sunday afternoon, two German seaplanes marked with a Red Cross which approached the British coast in company with heavy enemy fighter patrols were shot down into the sea by British fighters."

IT'S THE LIFE OF RILEY FOR TOMMIES BILLETED IN RICH LONDON FLATS

LONDON, July 29 (AP).—British soldiers, whose fathers fought the last war in muddy, vermin-infested trenches, may be billeted this winter in luxurious London apartments, many of them with swimming pools and squash courts. The government announced today it was taking over many apartment houses, including some in which apartments normally rent at $15,000 a year. With luxury demands gone since the war started, the owners are happy to get the little the government will pay.

RUMANIA SCOFFS AT STORY BRITAIN WILL SEVER TIES

Gives London Scant Hope of Regaining Favor.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 29 [Passed by censor].—Rumanians today voiced skepticism concerning reports that Great Britain might sever diplomatic relations with King Carol's realm because of the tendency of the Bucharest government to follow Adolf Hitler's policy. However, it was said that Britain has little hope of regaining its once favored position here now that the European lineup has changed so radically.

Rumanian newspapers published a dispatch from London declaring that the British explained the seizure of three Rumanian ships at Port Said, Egypt, as reprisals because, "the Rumanian government has taken a number of measures detrimental to British interests in Rumania."

Refers to Ouster of Britons.

"It has introduced restrictions on British shipping movements on the Danube and taken measures prejudicial to British petroleum interests, expelling British engineers from Rumania and interfering with the administration of the Astra-Romana company," the dispatch was quoted as saying.

Rumania recently took over the Astra-Romana firm, the country's biggest oil company. It belongs to the Anglo-Dutch-Shell interests.

The shipping measures referred to include seizure of 20 French and Dutch Danubian barges on behalf of the Germans after they had been transferred to British registry. The Germans claimed the barges because they were the property of conquered nations.

Take Over 20 Barges.

Control of available barges on the Danube has been one of the important goals in the struggle for dominance in Rumanian oil production and transport. After Holland and Belgium were defeated the Germans seized some of the barges belonging to those countries but were unable to get the rest because they had been placed under the British flag.

Three weeks ago Rumanian authorities took over 20 of those barges at Braila. They issued orders to the British that none of the vessels could leave Rumanian waters. The barges were placed under guard.

News of the British seizure of the tankers Oltenia and Steaua Romana and the freighter Bucegi in Port Said was reported here for the first time on Saturday, tho it happened several days earlier. The British explanation followed.

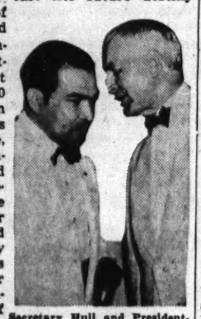
CUBA TO OFFER U. S. FACILITIES FOR WAR BASES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, July 29.—Cuba has decided to cast her future destiny with that of the United States, independently of what the other 20 American republics may decide, it was announced here tonight. She will offer the United States any facilities needed for establishment of army, naval, and air-plane bases for continental defense, as well as political or agricultural cooperation.



Secretary Hull and President-elect Batista meet at reception.

Such are the definite results of private and unofficial deliberations between Secretary of State Cordell Hull of the United States and Secretary of State Miguel Angel Campa of Cuba which have been going on simultaneously with Pan American conference deliberations.

Hull, Campa, and President-elect Col. Fulgencio Batista met informally last night at a reception given by Campa to conference delegates. The three were reported to have discussed the proposed Cuba-United States alliance. Batista pledged unconditional support of Hull's plans.

REPORT HITLER PLANS TO MAKE REXIST CHIEF PREMIER OF BELGIUM

BERNE, Switzerland, July 29 (AP).—Freed from prison in the French Pyrenees, fiery Leon Degrelle, long time leader of an aggressive Fascist minor party in Belgium, was reported here tonight to be slated to head a new pro-German government.

Word reaching the Swiss frontier indicated that Degrelle's release was effected at German request; that the man whose pro-Nazi Rexist party bid for power before the war, then lost in the elections, might become premier in his German occupied homeland.

These reports hinted that King Leopold, whose surrender precipitated the allies' defeat in Flanders, would remain king of the Belgians and would be asked to approve Degrelle as his premier.

With 2,000 of his followers, Degrelle was arrested because of known pro-Nazi sympathies May 10, the day Adolf Hitler smashed into the Low Countries. Many were set free when the Germans entered, but Degrelle was moved as a prisoner into France at the time the Belgian government went there. There his release was effected under the armistice clause requiring release of prisoners of war.

BRITISH LINERS BRING 1,323 TO UNITED STATES

New York, July 29 (AP).—The armed British liners Britannic and Cameronia steamed into New York harbor today, their secretive arrival contrasting sharply with the gala reception accorded the new United States liner America which followed in their wake.

The British ships brought 1,323 passengers, including 372 children—one of the largest contingents to arrive aboard belligerent vessels since the war began.

Aboard the Britannic were Lord Primrose, 11 years old, son of the Earl of Roseberry; George Vivian Smith, 6, and his sister, 1, who were greeted at the pier by J. P. Morgan, the financier, who earlier had given a haven to five other young English children.

Hear Hitler Gives Rumania Until Sept. 15 to Yield Land

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 29 (AP).—Germany has given Rumania until Sept. 15 to settle her territorial differences with Hungary and Bulgaria by direct negotiation, it was reported tonight in authoritative quarters. If there is no agreement then, it was said, the axis powers plan to step in and impose their own settlement.

Other than expressing satisfaction with the outcome of the Salzburg conference with Adolf Hitler, Premier Ion Gigurtu and Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu made no public comment upon their return today. They reported direct to King Carol.

Voices Appreciation.

The government later issued a communique expressing appreciation for the German-Italian "comprehension of real interest for Rumania and the maintenance of peace in this part of the continent."

The communique said that "only general principles to establish conditions which can lead to a definite entente in the Danubian basin" were discussed at the talks with Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

Juliu Maniu, leader of Rumania's powerful peasant party, opposed any further ceding of territory.

Points to Nation's Position.

"Nobody can imagine what will happen among the people of Transylvania if any cession is made," he said.

He said that the real strength of Rumania's position is Germany's desire to keep war out of the Balkans at all costs.

Rumania's pro-Nazi Iron Guard organization also has said there must be no further loss of territory and has declared that the people would fight first.

Sources close to the government indicated that Rumania might try a compromise to solve Hungary's claims.

May Offer Three Cities.

Rumania's proposal, slashing deeply across Hungary's 20 year old demands for adjustment of frontiers, apparently is contemplated with confidence of German backing.

The plan, these sources said, is twofold:

1. Outright cession to Hungary of the cities of Satu-Mare, Oradea, and Arad, and their environs.

2. Exchanges of populations in other districts.

All three cities are just across the Rumanian frontier from Hungary, on the western fringe of the Transylvanian area. Their population includes only a small fraction of the 1,900,000 Hungarians which the Budapest government contends are in the Transylvanian zone, most of them in the southern part.

[Official Rumanian figures give the Magyar population in the entire kingdom as 1,426,178, about eight per cent of the total. Populations of the three cities mentioned, respectively the eighth, tenth, and fifteenth largest in Rumania, are Oradea, 80,872; Arad, 75,725, and Satu-Mare, 51,708.]

Bulgaria Pessimistic.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 29 (AP).—Diplomatic circles were pessimistic tonight over Bulgaria's chances for regaining Dobruja soon despite reports that Adolf Hitler gave Rumania just seven weeks to come to terms on her neighbors' territorial demands.

The belief was expressed that negotiations by Hungary and Bulgaria with Rumania might drag on beyond the deadline, and probably would end in promises to restore disputed territories later, rather than actually effecting their transfer.

However, Premier Bogdan Philov and Foreign Minister Ivan Popov expressed satisfaction over their talks at Salzburg and told of finding "the warmest regards for the Bulgarian people and a complete understanding of our position."

Russia Makes Demand.

MOSCOW, July 29 (AP).—Soviet Russia formally demanded today that Rumania return railway equipment which the Russians charge was taken out of Bessarabia when Rumania withdrew her forces from that province, recently ceded to Russia.

GERMANS CARVE NEW FRONTIER DEEP IN ALSACE

Open Customs Houses West of Strasbourg.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE GERMAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION AT STRASBURG, France, July 29.—German authorities are establishing customs houses along the Alsace-Lorraine border west of here.

Map locates zone of customs border.

Altho the Nazi officials were silent as to Germany's future frontiers, a party of newspaper men with whom I was en route to Nancy was stopped at Donon, 28 miles west of Strasburg, by a German customs guard who asked to see our papers. A gate was being constructed across the road and a newly erected cardboard sign bore the words "Zoll" and "Douane," the German and French words, respectively, for "Customs."

Before the world war the German border ran along the plateau of Donon, the elevation of which at this point is 2,398 feet. The rugged Vosges mountains, which fall away steeply west of Donon, form a natural frontier. Eleven miles west of the customs house is the town of Badenweiler [Badonviller] in the French province of Lorraine, where the "Badenweiller March," which may be played only in Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's presence, was composed. Hitler's regiment stormed Badenweiller in the world war.

French Influence Erased.

The French influence is rapidly being exterminated in Alsace. In Strasburg and in towns and villages the streets have been given German names. Bulletin boards in public squares list the old French names with the new German ones in adjoining columns. French street signs are being taken down and replaced by German ones, and where French and German signs had been hung side by side under the French, only the German ones now are permitted to remain. Marks on the corners of many buildings show where the French signs have been removed.

Some towns already have an Adolf Hitler street. Another favorite is Unter den Linden, the name of a prominent Berlin thorofare.

Signs indicating the presence of branch offices of a French ministry are being painted over, as are numerous French outdoor advertising signs. Some of these advertised French war bonds with the words, "Every bond purchased is a blow struck for liberty."

An appeal to the people of Alsace is made in large posters showing a German soldier with one child in his arms leading another by the hand. The posters state in French, "Abandoned population: have confidence in the German soldiers."

Jewish Shops Closed.

Jewish owned shops have been closed and bear notices stating that they are in the custody of police authorities.

Most of the half million French soldiers taken prisoner in this section remain in camps, but the native Alsatians are being freed. Some are permitted to go home and others are taken to Germany to work in the fields. Apartments and factory buildings house thousands of prisoners in Strasburg.

200,000 Still Absent.

About 20,000 persons have returned to Strasburg, a city of 220,000 which was evacuated at the beginning of the war. The Germans expect the population to return, with the exception of about 40,000 Frenchmen and Jews. A few restaurants have been reopened to serve German officials, but the stores remain closed and the streets are largely deserted.

Stores in Nancy were open and the streets were crowded, but supplies of merchandise were running low.

FRANCE TO KEEP ARMY ON DUTY IN THE NEAR EAST

BEIRUT, Syria, July 29 (AP).—Reorganization of the French army in Syria and other near eastern mandated territories was seen today in the announcement that French military authorities were not demobilizing any further classes.

Approximately eight divisions are being maintained under the command of Gen. Fougere, who recently replaced Gen. Eugene Mittelhausser.

The command set up by Gen. Maxime Weygand covering "the theater of operations in the eastern Mediterranean" has been dissolved and the whole army is now considered "the French levant [near eastern] army." Gen. Fougere said he was prepared to resist the effort of any power to invade Syria or Lebanon.

French authorities in Syria were reported to be facing a serious economic crisis, with food and other vital supplies on hand estimated to be sufficient for not more than four months.

CANADA TO TRAIN 300,000 MEN FOR DEFENSE FORCE

To Call 30,000 Unwed Recruits Monthly.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29.—Three hundred thousand unmarried Canadians are to be trained for war in successive monthly waves of thirty thousand each, Canada's defense minister, James L. Ralston, told parliament tonight. There are to be no exemptions. Under the government defense conscription law the first class will report on Oct. 1. It is unlikely that married men will be called during 1940.

James L. Ralston.

This new army will be separate from the Canadian active service force, which now numbers 133,572 men. It will not be sent outside Canada. In addition to these recruits, there will be available to man coastal defenses and in reserve 100,000 men enlisted for the duration of the war.

Ralston indicated that for the present no more men would be sent overseas.

Equipment Is Big Need.

"There is at the moment no shortage of man power in England," he declared. "The real demand is for equipment."

The new recruits will not be kept in uniform after their month in camp is over, but their training will be continued in the nonpermanent militia.

At the head of the priority list of Canada's military preparations, Ralston placed the strengthening of Canada's Atlantic coast fortifications.

Command headquarters are to be organized at once in the maritime provinces and fortifications already erected are to be strengthened. The general in charge of the new command will be in control of the troops in Newfoundland as well.

Strengthen Internal Defense.

As an additional measure of home defense, steps to coördinate police and military protection for internal security of the country were announced. Angus McDonald, new minister for naval service, will take charge of internal defense matters.

Ralston also announced that a new rifle factory will shortly be in production in Canada. All surplus rifles were given to the British government two months ago.

Production of small arms ammunition will be increased 50 per cent in the next month and doubled before the end of the year. Machine gun production is now ahead of schedule, the minister stated.

Parliament was assured that Canadien overseas forces were now completely equipped with mechanized transport and that Canadian factories had turned their whole production over to making good the losses suffered by the British army in Flanders. All the transport was modified from British design to be capable of mass production under North American conditions.

A report by the air ministry stated that 88 airfields with training schools will be in operation by the end of the summer.

Report Spain Takes Over British Power Company

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—The British owned power plant at Ebro, Spain, has been taken over by the Spanish government, it was reported here tonight. At the same time it was said that Generalissimo Francisco Franco has ordered two British banks to close up. The reported action was interpreted here as increased Spanish hostility toward British business interests.

Arrive by Clipper

New York, July 29 [Special].—Archdukes Carl Ludwig, 22 years old, and Rudolph, 19, and Archduchesses Adelaide, 26, and Charlotte, 20—all children of the former Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary—arrived here today on the Yankee Clipper.

The four refugees and the other passengers had been delayed at Horta, the Azores, for a week because of mechanical difficulties on the Atlantic Clipper, which brought them from Lisbon.

The four Hapsburgs, who traveled under the name of "De Bar," one of several family names, were unfashionably dressed, both archduchesses wearing shapeless white hats with floppy brims, flat brown oxfords, and brown stockings.

The empress and three other children, Archdukes Otto and Felix and Archduchess Elizabeth, who recently arrived here, were not at the field to greet them. The newcomers were met by Count Francis von Trauttmansdorff, aide de camp to Archduke Otto; Count Edmond Czernin, Countess Terese Kerssenbrock, and Count Henri Degenfeld.

The four Hapsburgs left to join the empress and the others in Royalston, Mass.

2,000 REFUGEES FROM ENGLAND REACH CANADA

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, July 29 (AP).—Two ships carrying nearly 2,000 war refugees from England, among them Mrs. W. Somerset Maugham, wife of the British author, arrived safely here today. More than 1,000 of the passengers were children. Mrs. Maugham said she would travel thru Canada and the United States and keep parents in England advised of the welfare of their children.

The ranee of Sarawak, en route to New York "on a good will tour" and for an interview she hopes to have with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on a plan for removing children from the British Isles, was among the arrivals.

"What Canada and America have done for us in Britain is terrific," she said, "and I am going to lecture, expressing my appreciation for it. There is no panic in England."

Her husband is Sir Charles Viner Brooke, the white rajah of Sarawak, a British protected state in Borneo.

U. S. Group to Send 1,000.

LONDON, July 29 (AP).—The United States committee for the care of European children today disclosed it will send 1,000 children from the war zones to the United States in about three weeks if a ship is available. The children, of various nationalities, will be billeted by Americans who have offered to care for them.

RUMANIAN POLICE HUNT AMERICAN MISSING 11 DAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 29.—Police tonight were trying to trace a mysterious phone call purporting to come from Countess Freda Douglas, who has been missing with her German-American husband, Count Albrecht Douglas, since July 18, when they left their boarding house without taking any luggage or personal papers except passports. On Saturday their landlady received a telephone call saying they were safe and were staying with friends. Then the caller hung up.

The Douglasses once lived in New York, where he became an American citizen. She came to Europe in January, 1939, and he followed in April. They were in Germany before they arrived in Bucharest on May 6.

To the American legation's suggestion that they return to America they replied that they had no money, but their landlady reported seeing the count with as much as $500 in Rumanian currency. Apparently determined to stay in Rumania by any means, Douglas, who is a doctor of medicine, had been doing minor laboratory work for the Cantacuzene bacteriological institute here.

NAME NEW BOARD TO PUSH REFORMS IN BRITISH ARMY

7 Men to Study Changes in War Office.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—Far reaching army reforms were forecast tonight after the announcement that a standing committee of seven, including three businessmen, had been set up to streamline the war office. Anthony Eden, war minister, made the appointment after a prolonged newspaper campaign urging radical changes in the administrative organization of the war department.

The committee will study and recommend reforms, both in the war office and the military command, that will give the department the "elasticity which wartime conditions demand." Special attention is promised to timing any changes so as not to cause "dislocation or interruption of the war effort."

Members of Committee.

The committee chairman is Sir James Grigg, permanent undersecretary of the war office. He is 49 years old and previously was financial expert for the India government. Other members include, Sir Percy Bates, 61, chairman of the Cunard White Star line; G. W. Dunkley, formerly with the Irak Petroleum company; Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert Haining, 58, vice chief of the imperial general staff, a barrister as well as a soldier and regarded as one of the army's "intellectuals;" R. J. Sinclair, 47, formerly with the Imperial Tobacco company; Gen. Sir Walter Venning, 58, quartermaster general, and Lieut. Gen. H. C. B. Wemyss, 49, formerly with Imperial Chemical industries.

The committee, with the exception of the professional soldiers, corresponds to America's "dollar a year men" in the last war. It was stated that the firms they represent have "placed them at the disposal of the war office during the war."

Promise Labor Relief.

Their expert advice is expected to remove the "cumbersome, vexatious, and incredibly dilatory administrative methods" which are said to be hampering the war department as it now is functioning.

Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin also promised relief from the long hours and strain on the employés in munitions factories. He declared the nation is training skilled workers at the rate of 400,000 yearly and their introduction into the factories already is producing great results in increasing per capita productivity.

Recently Bevin recommended the stepping down of the work week, which in many factories now is as high as 78 hours. It was found, he said, that the long hours not only are having a deleterious effect on the health of the workers, but actually are resulting in decreased per hour output. He announced plans for reducing the working week to 55 hours.

EXPECT BRITISH STATEMENT ON NEW BLOCKADE

LONDON, July 30, Tuesday (AP).—Minister of Economic Warfare Hugh Dalton was expected to give in the house of commons today his delayed statement on a British decision to intensify contraband control over all ships bound for Europe and certain North African ports.

The statement originally had been scheduled for last Thursday, when it was reported the main objective would be to halt oil shipments to Germany via Spain.

FRANCE SETS UP A COURT TO TRY WAR GUILT HEADS

Cabinet Approves Special Bench.

VICHY, France, July 29 (AP).—The French cabinet tonight approved a measure creating a national supreme court of justice before which, it was understood, persons accused of responsibility for France's entry into the war against Germany may be tried.

A communique said the cabinet, which is under Philippe Petain, chief of state, also discussed the matter of responsibility for France's going to war.

Frenchmen who enroll in any foreign army or enlist others for service in behalf of a foreign power are subject to the death penalty under terms of a decree published by the government. Those already in foreign armed service and remain there are included.

Thousands Aid British.

There are thousands of French troops in England who, while not enlisted in the British army, are continuing the war at Britain's side. Whether they are included awaits a final interpretation of the decree.

The death penalty also is provided for any one delivering arms, munitions or other war materials to a foreign power from stocks on hand in France, even if the stocks are not owned by the government.

The only exceptions made in any of these cases are in the event that special permission is granted by the Vichy government. This is not the case in regard to troops and officers remaining in England.

Another decree annulled the wartime requisition of property belonging to Germans and Italians.

Britons Fail to See Mandel.

LONDON, July 29 (AP).—Official circles disclosed today that the British minister of information, Alfred Duff Cooper, and General Viscount Gort had flown to North Africa in an unsuccessful attempt to see Georges Mandel, former French interior minister, and other French statesmen who had fled there.

These sources said the French local authorities in North Africa made it clear the British mission was "unwelcome" and that the two officials left without communicating with the group.

An announcement from Rabat, French Morocco, said proceedings had been opened against Mandel on a charge of having plotted against the security of the state.

Mandel went to French Morocco about the time of the French capitulation to Germany. Paul Reynaud, who was succeeded by Marshal Philippe Petain as premier of France, at that time was reported desirous of setting up a refugee government in North Africa to carry on the war against Germany.

Pamphlet Raids Discussed.

Paul Morand, French minister plenipotentiary, was understood to have discussed informally with the British foreign office the question of continued British pamphlet raids on France.

Informed sources said there was no question of a formal protest having been presented by France, altho Morand took up the matter on instructions from the Petain government.

[At Vichy, seat of the French government, it was announced the Petain régime had sent Britain an energetic protest against leaflet raids on France and over French North Africa, and that antiaircraft guns had driven off British pamphlet-dropping planes.]

100 Foot Branches

It has been 10 years since Jerry Del Guidice planted a fig tree in the basement of his barber shop at 518 South Laramie avenue. Since that time the tree has grown steadily upward, thru a hole cut for it in the floor and now its branches—100 feet of them—fill one side of the shop. The upper part of the tree gets sunlight thru the barbershop's windows, but many have marveled at the sunless growth before it reached upstairs.

'ENEMY AT THE DOOR,' ULSTER SPURS RECRUITING

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 29 (AP).—Lord Craigavon, prime minister of Northern Ireland, launched a new recruiting drive today with the declaration that it is urgently necessary to bring the fighting forces to maximum strength "with the enemy on the doorstep."

He urged women to show preference for "men in battle dress." Northern Ireland, altho part of the United Kingdom, does not come under Britain's conscription law.

Four men sentenced in Belfast for activity in the outlawed Irish Republican Army were given terms varying from 3 to 10 years today. All were charged with illegal possession of arms and explosives.

DESKS-TO-KHAKI TROOPS OUTWALK TWO AMBULANCES

Business Men Soldiers Take Hike in Stride.

Three weeks ago 180 portly privates and corpulent corporals passed in review before Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commander of the 6th corps area, on the parade ground at Fort Sheridan.

There were two companies of the elder men. Many prominent business and professional leaders of Chicago were in the ranks. Their enrollment at Ft. Sheridan marked an innovation in the Citizens Military Training camp plan.

Yesterday these same men made a good start toward proving the efficacy of the experiment in middleaged soldiering. They broke camp at 7:30 a. m., marched six and three-tenths miles toward the west, pitched a new camp, and were ready for their day's drills and instruction three hours later.

Cover Distance in Two Hours.

They had covered the distance from their camp to a clearing just south of the Albert D. Lasker estate, west of Lake Forest, in two hours and five minutes. This included two 15 minute rest periods. It took but an hour more to pitch their two man tents and make camp.

It was a sprightly group of soldiers that marched out of the northwest gate of Fort Sheridan and headed west on Old Elm road for the hike. In girth, they averaged two inches less per man than when they reported for duty July 6—and this takes into consideration the fact that a few of the leaner enrollees have gained weight. In posture, their backs averaged 10 degrees closer to the perpendicular than when they first marched before Gen. Ford.

Each citizen soldier carried equipment weighing 19 pounds—a lightweight pack, containing eating utensils; a canteen filled with a quart of water, and a 9 pound army rifle. The 90 degree heat did not seem to bother them.

It's No Worse Than Golf.

There seemed to be no time for complaining. A half mile from the Fort Sheridan reservation the hikers passed Old Elm Golf club to the left of the route. Those who had played the course argued that today's tramp was no worse than playing 18 holes in the sun at Old Elm.

When they made the turn from Buena road into Old Mill road, a third of the way to the Lasker estate, some one struck up an apropos song: "Down by the Old Mill Stream." This and the songs that followed betrayed the ages of these soldiers. One of the songs was "O, Sussanah," another was "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am." A third was "Glorious, Glorious, one bottle of beer for the four of us."

Altho two ambulance trucks followed the marching men, there was no occasion for first aid treatment. Maj. James O. Tarbox, commander, ordered the rest periods en route. One of these occurred just three-quarters of a mile from the new camp site, thus putting the soldiers in condition for their heavy camp building duties.

Menu Gives Reducing Hint.

A hint as to why the unit has lost weight is given in the menu for yesterday's luncheon. It included baked beans, spinach, cole slaw, one boiled potato, two slices of bread and butter, and lemonade.

A hint as to the discipline that is in effect at the camp is contained in the case of William J. Blum, a Chicago investment broker. Mr. Blum, it seems, was one of the first soldiers to pitch his tent. In the hope of having a good night's sleep he went to a field nearby and procured an armful of hay. Sad to relate, Mr. Blum fell afoul of the major and was obliged to return the hay to the exact windrow from which he took it.

The marchers spent last evening lounging around, telling stories, and making visits to a truckload of cool soft drinks parked near by. Shirttails were tucked in hastily when Mr. and Mrs. Lasker dropped over to pay a call. Lights went out at 9 o'clock. Reveille was set for 5 a. m.; breakfast for 5:30, and the start of the hike back to camp at 7 today.

'AMERICAN CARS TO PACK FOOD TO CAPTIVE FRENCH

PARIS, July 29.—All vehicles of the American field service have returned to Paris in good condition, Wayne Chatfield-Taylor of Chicago, European delegate of the American Red Cross, said today. Other ambulances will arrive from Pau this week.

Most of the American volunteer ambulance drivers in France are believed to have left for home. Their ambulances will be manned by French drivers and many will be used to carry food to French prisoners. A supply of gasoline for work in the Paris area has been assured.

The morale of prisoners in camps near Paris has improved because of the work of the American Red Cross, according to Chatfield-Taylor, who said the prisoners now have more and better food.

False Teeth Will Gleam With Stera-Kleen

To scientifically help to improve mouth cleanliness wearers of dental plates are advised to get a 30 cent bottle of Stera-Kleen and follow the simple directions.

That's all you have to do to beautify and purify any artificial dental mouth improvement—make them glisten with purity—sparkle with natural beauty.

Tens of thousands of thankful people know this—you may search the world for anything so effective. The mucin—the miniature food deposits—the stains—all vanish in 10 minutes. Your mouth feels cleaner—your breath should be sweeter. A 30 cent bottle lasts a long time—no harmful brushing.

Policeman Jails Suspect as His Fugitive Attacker

Sergt. Patrick O'Malley of the Stockyards station yesterday arrested Eugene Cahill, 29 years old, in a restaurant near 45th and Halsted streets, as one of two men who assaulted him on May 14. O'Malley had placed the two under arrest and was taking them to a patrol call box when they attacked him. Cahill, who gave his address as 416 East 62d street, denied the charge, stating that the policeman was mistaken in his identification.

PRESIDENT AGAIN ASKS POWER TO CALL OUT GUARD

Conscription Bill Delayed by Senate Committee.

W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, Republican national chairman and Republican leader of the house, to reveal his position. This will be accepted as Willkie's position, altho the Republican Presidential nominee does not intend to discuss questions of policy until he makes his speech of acceptance on Aug. 17.

The position of Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, minority leader of the senate and Republican nominee for Vice President, also is expected to reflect the attitude of Willkie. McNary thus far refused to commit himself on the conscription issue.

Regardless of the scope of any conscription bill that may be pushed to a vote, a bipartisan group of senate noninterventionists will offer a substitute calling for greater inducements for voluntary enlistments. Among the leaders of this group are Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], and Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.].

Senator Vandenberg said he has received more mail opposing conscription than he received during the fight over repealing the arms embargo last fall or during the controversy over Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Supreme court in 1937.

10,000 Messages Received.

From noon Saturday until 10 o'clock this morning he received 10,000 letters and telegrams, 99 out of 100 of which opposed conscription, Vandenberg said.

"The shocking thing to me," the senator added, "is that this program, affecting the fundamental liberties of the people and tearing up 150 years of history, was about to slide thru the senate a week ago without any more thought or consideration than an appropriation for a beaver dam would get."

Senator Wheeler announced that he would propose voluntary enlistments for one year, instead of three years, as now required by army regulations.

"The American people ought to be told why all this haste and why all the hysteria," Senator Wheeler said. "Are we going to war with Japan? Are we going to set up an armed camp between now and election time?

"The American people have a right to know! The Presidential candidates ought to tell us what they think about conscription and about war.

"Hitler started out conscripting people in peacetime. He then conscripted capital—one follows the other."

Resolution Is Submitted.

President Roosevelt's message to the senate was accompanied by the draft of a resolution. The resolution would empower the President, during the period ending June 30, 1942, to order the National Guard and the reserve and retired personnel of the regular army into active service, with or without their consent, for a period of not more than one year. The resolution would permit the President to employ the guard and the army reserve units anywhere in the western hemisphere and in the territories and possessions of the United States, including the Philippine Islands.

Altho many opponents of peacetime conscription indicated their willingness to accept the National Guard training proposal as a substitute, the noninterventionists said they would exclude the Philippines from the President's authority to send the guard overseas. They regarded the President's reference to the Philippines as a gratuitous slap at Japan.

Points to Earlier Request.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled that some weeks ago he asked authority to order the National Guard into active service should an emergency arise while congress was not in session.

"That proposal," the President said, "is no longer sufficient, as I am now convinced that the security of the nation demands that this component of our army be brought to the highest possible state of training efficiency more rapidly than its present program permits. Moreover, this group of men who of necessity must be among the first to fight in the nation's defense have a right to the best preparation that time and circumstance permit."

Text of Roosevelt Guard Request

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—Following is the text of a letter sent by President Roosevelt to the senate today asking congress to grant him authority to order the National Guard and the Officers Reserve corps into active training:

"The increasing seriousness of the international situation demands that every element of our national defense structure be brought as rapidly as possible to the highest state of efficiency, in training as well as in equipment and material.

"The National Guard of the United States, an integral and vital part of the army, comprises a body of men who have voluntarily assumed an obligation to serve the nation in any crisis. To the extent possible under normal conditions, the officers and men of the National Guard have prepared themselves for this service, and I am assured that today the guard has reached the highest state of efficiency in its peacetime history.

Need for Training Stressed.

"The developments of modern warfare are such, however, that only the seasoned and highly trained troops can hope for success in combat. Our citizen soldiery, no matter how willing and earnest, can not possibly attain the necessary degree of efficiency thru their normal training activities. Even our professional soldiers required months of intensive training to bring them to their satisfactory state. We know too well the tragedy that ensues when inadequately trained men are assailed by a more skilful adversary.

"Some weeks ago I asked the congress for authority to order the National Guard into active service should an emergency require this action when your body was not in session. That proposal is no longer sufficient, as I am now convinced that the security of the nation demands that this component of our army be brought to the highest possible state of training efficiency more rapidly than its present program permits.

Against Further Postponement.

"Moreover, this group of men who of necessity must be among the first to fight in the nation's defense have a right to the best preparation that time and circumstance permit.

"Realizing as I do the personal sacrifice that a period of extended active duty demands of the National Guard, I have deferred until now any request for immediate action in this respect. I can not, with clear conscience, longer postpone this vitally essential step in our progress toward adequate preparedness, and I am therefore transmitting herewith legislation that, if enacted, will enable me to order the National Guard of the United States to active service for such period of intensive training as may be necessary to raise its efficiency to a point comparable with that of our small regular establishment.

"If this authority is granted, I propose to order the guard to duty in successive increments to permit the effective use of training facilities and equipment immediately available. Each increment will, of course, be released when it attains the desired state of efficiency.

"Of equal importance is the Officers Reserve corps. The splendid body of officers has had little opportunity for service with troops, and to the maximum extent possible their training should now be perfected by an adequate period of active service. If ordered to active duty, they can acquire the desired efficiency and at the same time supply the increased need for officers in our expanded regular army. The authority I am requesting is therefore drawn so as to include the Officers Reserve corps.

"I ask your earnest consideration of this program and your prompt and favorable action thereon."

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

Following is the text of proposed legislation the President sent to congress in asking for authority to order the National Guard and Officers Reserve corps into active training:

"Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that during the period ending June 30, 1942, the President be, and is hereby, authorized to order into the active military service of the United States for a period of not to exceed one year any or all members and units of any or all reserve components of the army of the United States, and retired personnel of the regular army, with or without their consent, to such extent and in such manner as he may deem necessary for the strengthening of the national defense: provided, that the members and units of the reserve components of the army of the United States ordered into active federal service under this authority shall not be employed beyond the limits of the Western Hemisphere except in the territories and possessions of the United States, including the Philippine Islands.

Subject to Present Laws.

"Section 2. All National Guard, reserve, and retired personnel ordered into the active military service of the United States under the foregoing special authority, shall, from the dates on which they are respectively required by such order to report for duty in such service, be subject to the respective laws and regulations relating to enlistments, reënlistments, employment, conduct, rights, and privileges, and discharge of such personnel in such service to the same extent in all particulars as if they had been ordered into such service under existing general statutory authorizations.

"Section 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby suspended to the extent that they may be in conflict with any provision hereof."

MUNITIONS BLAST AT GIBRALTAR KILLS 4 BRITONS

Soldier's Carelessness with Grenade Blamed.

LA LINEA, Spain, July 29 (AP).—Four British soldiers were reported killed and seven injured today in the explosion of an ammunition dump in Britain's rock fortress at Gibraltar.

Reports reaching here said a hand grenade carelessly handled by a soldier set off a magazine of antiaircraft shells. British officials would not discuss the blast.

[The Rome radio said a recent Italian air raid killed 12 soldiers and wounded 50. Parts of the arsenal also were destroyed, the radio said.]

Unidentified planes flew over Gibraltar last night and drew heavy antiaircraft fire.

Unconfirmed reports received at La Linea said several members of an antiaircraft battery were court martialed for delay in manning their guns during a raid on July 26.

The final removal of all civilians from Gibraltar was reported in Madrid.

Four Killed in Aden Raid.

ADEN, July 29 (AP).—Four natives were killed and 15 wounded when Italian air raiders dropped several bombs on this British free port in southwestern Arabia today. There was no material damage.

[The Rome radio said one ship was hit and "serious damage" inflicted.]

Italians Renew Malta Raids.

LONDON, July 29 (AP). — Italians bombed the island fortress of Malta in five week-end attacks which the British said caused one civilian casualty and slight damage. Four raiders were downed. Italian losses in attacks on Malta were announced officially as 25 planes, and Britain was said to have lost one.

A British communique from Nairobi, Kenya, told of heavy casualties inflicted on Italians by British bombers at Moyale, captured recently by Premier Benito Mussolini's troops after a long siege.

A contingent of South African troops has arrived in Kenya to bolster British troops fighting the Italians. Its size was not disclosed.

6 Planes Destroyed, Say British.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 29 (AP).—Three Italian planes were shot down, three destroyed on the ground, and others damaged in extensive air operations over Italian African possessions, the royal air force reported today.

BALTIC LANDS WARN CITIZENS TO QUIT GERMANY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 29.—The Latvians, Lithuanians, and Estonians living in Germany have been advised by the men now in charge of their countries that they must return home or lose their citizenship.

Many were known as opponents of the soviets and feel that it would be dangerous for them to return. Their position also will be difficult in Germany, since the Germans do not want to take any step the Russians might resent.

ARMY OFFERS TRAINING IN MOTOR WORK

The army recruiting service yesterday cited the opportunities afforded young men for training in the growing field of motor transportation thru the conversion of the army into motorized and mechanized units which is now in progress.

In calling for the enlistment of mechanically minded men between the ages of 18 and 35, Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding the 6th corps and 2d army, said selected soldiers can qualify as foremen and supervisors of motor transport operations and maintenance, or as technical inspectors and general mechanics.

Specialist ratings can be obtained in such fields as automotive research, practical foremanship, body and radiator repair, battery and tire repair, work, painting, upholstering, sheet or carburetion, welding, blacksmith's work, paiting, upholstering, sheet metal work, maintenance shop work, and garage layout and management.

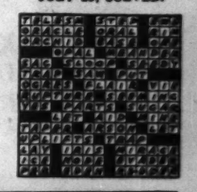
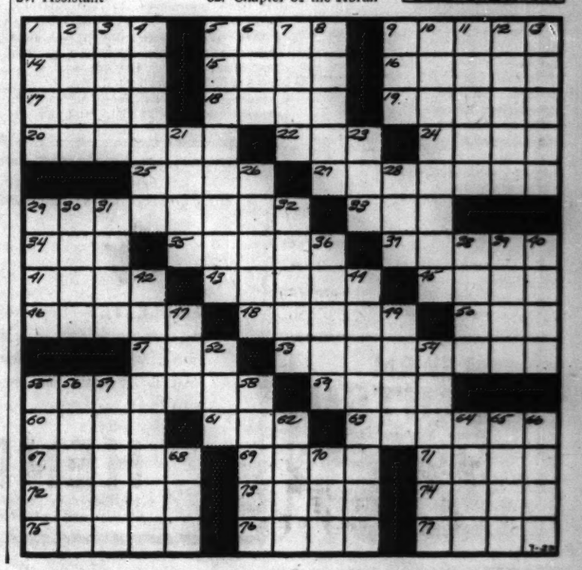
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, JULY 29, SOLVED.





UNION WORKMEN URGE 6 DAY WEEK TO RUSH DEFENSE

President Laughs at Plea on Tour of Shipyards.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Norfolk, Va., July 29.—Union workmen in the navy's great shipyards at Portsmouth, Va., are eager to discard the five day week and work six days to speed the nation's rearmament program, Rear Admiral Manley H. Simons told President Roosevelt today during the latter's politico-inspection tour of the Chesapeake bay defense region.

In a day-long round of rigorous activity, the army and navy put on an impressive preparedness demonstration for the President, climaxed late in the afternoon by gigantic air maneuvers at nearby Langley Field, Va., one of the chief training centers for the air force.

The five day week has been one of the chief bones of contention between the army general staff and the New Deal stalwarts since the nation's war industries began booming with defense preparations.

Urge Industry Have Free Hand.

Army officials—off the record, of course—insist that industry must be permitted to go ahead at top speed if the country is to rearm itself adequately within the next few years.

The New Dealers have refused to budge from their stand against abrogation of any of what the administration calls social reforms. They fear, it is said, that such a move might be interpreted as an admission of the failure of all such legislation.

Last week navy officials announced that because of a shortage of skilled workers at coastal ship yards it will be necessary to import trained men from the interior of the country. The shortage, it was admitted, has slowed ship construction and the navy department feels it cannot waste the time necessary to train unskilled men.

Laughs Off Suggestion.

Admiral Simons is commandant of the Portsmouth yards. Near the end of the President's visit to the yards, the admiral volunteered his statement about the desire of workers to put in more time than the maximum now permitted.

"The men here are wondering why they can't work longer than five days a week," said the admiral. "They want to work six days, or anything else that will help us move things along."

The President shook with laughter over this proposal. Then he shrugged and said the men want to work longer only to make more money.

The Portsmouth yard was the President's first stop after a leisurely week-end cruise down the Potomac river from Washington. Others in the party included Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, Representative Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], chairman of the house naval affairs committee, and Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate military affairs committee.

Workers Line Driveway.

After a 21 gun salute the President entered his automobile and was escorted around the yards. There were about 25 automobiles in the procession carrying reporters, cameramen, and news reel photographers.

The workers had been turned out from the shops and dry docks and stood in little clusters along the driveway, clapping their hands as the cars drove by. It was a blazing hot day.

Once the party paused in the shadow of the towering superstructure, erected preparatory to building the battleship Alabama, designed to be one of the largest combat ships afloat.

The next stop was the Norfolk naval training station where Mr. Roosevelt was driven out on the parade ground to review the garrison. In the parade were many new recruits who have joined the navy since the limited emergency proclamation of last September. They were crisp and white in newly starched uniforms.

The public had been excluded from the post for the day, as from all other places on the President's itinerary. Civil employes and the families of officers and enlisted men turned out by the hundreds, however.

Recalls 1936 Tours.

The President's trip was supposed to be nonpolitical, but resembled the dust bowl trips of 1936, which enabled him to go before the country on what appeared to be official business. The routes he traveled, however, had been announced well in advance and the highways were lined with people almost the entire distance.

After leaving the Norfolk training station, the Presidential party reboarded the yacht Potomac for the short trip across the bay to Old Point Comfort, and Fortress Monroe. There Mr. Roosevelt was treated to an exhibition of antiaircraft marksmanship and received two more 21 gun salutes.

The next stop was Langley field air station, where the President saw planes in flight.

Visits Building Ways.

The last stop was the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, where the President saw several vessels in various stages of construction. In a brief interview in the presence of newspapermen, Capt. Roger Williams, vice president of the company, told Mr. Roosevelt that 12,000 men are employed in the yards, compared with a normal payroll of 6,000. The maximum expected to be employed, he said, is between 18,000 and 20,000.

Two aircraft carriers and two cruisers are being built at the Newport News yards, the President was told, and as soon as the pending $4,848,000,000 defense appropriation bill is passed by congress, work will be started on three more aircraft carriers and two more cruisers.

The President, before returning to Old Point Comfort to board the yacht for his return trip to Washington, praised the army and navy for the demonstration.

Browder Asks High Court to Set Aside Conviction

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—Earl Browder, communist candidate for President, petitioned the Supreme court today to set aside his conviction on a charge of falsifying a passport. Browder was convicted in the federal court of southern New York and sentenced to two years imprisonment and fined $2,000.

RELIEFERS RIOT; RAID OFFICE, AND HOLD 3 PRISONERS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29 [Special].—Taking over the California state relief administration offices by force, more than 400 rioting reliefers and Workers' alliance members held three officials prisoners for more than five hours today. At the same time another group held two executives at a district office.

At the main relief headquarters the mob finally broke up after a squad of officers rescued the officials—N. H. Mather, acting state relief administrator for Los Angeles county; Martin Ruderman, assistant state relief administrator, and Mrs. Louise Thompson, Los Angeles county social service supervisor.

Sam Jones, colored, spokesman for the mob, said the demonstration would spread thruout the state as a protest to the lack of state funds to carry on the load of 70,000 relief cases thru August and September at the present rate.

JAPAN ASSURED U. S. EXPORT CURB IS NO EMBARGO

TOKIO, Japan, July 29 (AP).—Yakichero Suma, foreign office spokesman, today said Undersecretary of States Sumner Welles had assured the Japanese ambassador in Washington that the United States licenses on oil and scrap iron exports did not constitute an anti-Japanese embargo.

Japan understands officially, Suma asserted, that the order is aimed at restricting export of materials vital to American national defense, and that Japan will not be affected greatly. Japan has been buying approximately 60 per cent of the United States' scrap iron exports recently and much oil.

Hungary Seeks to Send Jews to Foreign Lands

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 29 (AP).—The Hungarian government is negotiating with "foreign powers" for wholesale emigration of Hungary's Jews, the newspaper Pesti Ujsag asserted today. The paper said the government hoped to send all Jews under 50 years of age out of the country. Hungary has 445,000 professing Jews and many others who have become Christians.

CHINA BARS JAP GRAB OF BRITISH, FRENCH COLONIES

Rejects Offer by Tokio to Halt Hostilities.

HONGKONG, July 29 (AP).—China today was reported to have turned down unconditionally Japanese peace overtures giving Japan five northern Chinese provinces outright plus indirect hegemony over the Asiatic possessions of France and Britain.

Foreign quarters close to the Chungking government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek listed the Japanese proposals:

1. Outright cession by China to Japan of five provinces, Hopei [which includes Tientsin and Peking], Chahar, Shantung, Shansi, and Suiyuan.

Demand Wang's Recognition.

2. Recognition of Wangching-wei, Japan's puppet premier in Nanking, as president of a Chinese republic made up of the remaining provinces plus British Burma, French Indo-China, and Thailand [Siam], in which China and Japan would share economic opportunities.

[This proposal apparently was predicated on a defeat of Britain by Germany. France's defeat already has jeopardized her Asiatic possessions and Japan has wrung concessions from both Britain and France to increase her blockade of China.

[Thailand is independent but unable to defend herself.]

Chiang Fights Settlement.

3. The status of Manchukuo would be left in abeyance indefinitely. Manchukuo is dominated by the Japanese army, but is nominally independent. It was carved out of China's former Manchurian provinces.

When the proposals were communicated to the Chiang government, it was said, the generalissimo led a successful fight to block their acceptance.

Soldiers' Field Peace Rally Backed by State V. F. W. Chief

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will be introduced by Merrill C. Meigs, a Chicago publisher and sportsman flyer, for his speech at the peace meeting Sunday afternoon in Soldiers' field, it was announced yesterday by Avery Brundage, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Keep America Out of War. Admission will be free.

United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], one of the leading noninterventionists in congress, who also will speak at the rally, will be introduced by Col. Thomas Gowenlock, head of G-2 [intelligence service] in the 1st army during the world war. The two, who were buddies overseas, were active in founding the American Legion.

Brundage also made public a letter from William Smith of Edwardsville, Illinois commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, saying that all posts in the state have been urged to send representatives to the meeting.

Rally Backed by V. F. W.

"The Keep America Out of War meeting should be a great demonstration of Americanism," Smith wrote. "We indorse the meeting and encourage all our posts, auxiliaries, and citizens to participate in the ceremonies.

"Col. Lindbergh and Senator Clark are great American leaders and the messages they have for our people will be received with unusual interest in these times of stress, trouble, and uncertainty.

"One of the definite planks of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is 'Peace for America—Keep America Out of War.' I am happy to say that the Sunday meeting is in line with the policy of America's overseas fighting men. I shall be there."

Civil War Vets to Be Represented.

Civil war veterans will be represented by a delegation of 11 members of the Grand Army of the Republic headed by Capt. Thomas Ambrose, adjutant general of the G. A. R., who will address the audience.

Invitations to attend the demonstration have been sent to United States Senators Scott W. Lucas and James M. Slattery of Illinois, and to Republican and Democratic state ticket leaders.

A MODERN NATION 4,900 YEARS OLD RISES IN MUSEUM

Babylon Exhibit Mirrors Today's Civilization.

Three thousand years before the birth of Christ the worldly citizens of ancient Babylonia were living a surprisingly modern life in their elaborate, stucco decorated residences.

Babylonian earring.

Men shaved every day with keen bronze razors. Women wore girdles. Brewmasters did a thriving business in four grades of beer. Dice was the most popular method of losing money. The Royal Babylonian Mail, possibly a forerunner of the Pony Express, annually delivered tons of letters written on clay tablets and sealed in clay envelopes.

A reconstruction of this ancient civilization, which was modern in many ways, was previewed yesterday in the new hall of Babylonian archaeology in the Field Museum of Natural History. Museum officials said the hall will be opened to the public beginning tomorrow.

18 Years of Research.

Eighteen years of painstaking research and study are behind the new exhibit, according to Dr. Richard A. Martin, curator of near eastern archaeology, who is in charge of the new hall. He estimated a quarter of a million dollars was spent in unearthing the objects in the exhibit and transporting them to Chicago.

"Excavations at the ancient City of Kish, and at still more ancient Jemdet Nasr and Babylon itself, were conducted from 1923 to 1933 by the Field Museum-Oxford university joint expedition to Mesopotamia," Dr. Martin said. "The actual digging was ended in 1933. During the ensuing seven years the museum staff has been busy restoring the unearthed objects, most of which were found in fragments, and studying their meaning in relation to the life of those days."

Dr. Martin explained that ancient Babylonia lies in the modern kingdom of Iraq, not far from the City of Bagdad.

5,000 Pieces in Collection.

The 5,000 piece collection in the new hall gives strong indications the ancient Babylonians were not the mysterious people that legend has painted them. Indeed, they must have been intensely practical and, according to museum officials, probably greedy and quarrelsome.

Their practical side is seen in the clay tablets of cuneiform writing unearthed by the excavators at Jemdet Nasr. One tablet, believed to be about 5,000 years old, contains the business like inscription:

"One and one-half shekels of silver have been paid to Nabtani [probably an ancient liquor dealer] for one gur [40 gallons] of beer." The tablet was signed "Larsa."

Concerning the greed and quarrelsome ways of the Babylonians, museum officials pointed to the large collection of weapons—spear heads, daggers, war chariots, heavy maces, and barbed arrow tips—found at the diggings, and also to the history of Babylonia's conquest of the tribes of the northern Euphrates river valley.

These northern tribes controled natural resources as important now as they were 3,000 years before Christ—vast deposits of asphalt. They refused to yield to the Babylonians, and their conquest followed.

In a collection of jewelry found by the expedition is one ornately designed gold earring found in a grave belonging to the period of Nebuchadnezzar II., who ruled Babylonia 2,500 years ago. The earring, unearthed at the City of Kish in 1931, is said to be one of the most beautiful objects ever found in Mesopotamia.

SUBMARINE TRAP PLANNED BY NAVY IN U. S. HARBORS

Project Bared in Orders for Net Tenders.

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—A confidential navy plan to station towing vessels in every major harbor to lay submarine nets in an emergency was disclosed today by the defense commission.

Deep in a 28 page report of recent army and navy orders the commission listed six contracts totaling $16,499,000 for the construction of net tenders.

Inquiry at the navy department uncovered the information that the tenders were being built to lay and operate submarine nets.

Congress has provided 20 million dollars for the nets, and supplies of cable to manufacture them have been purchased piecemeal for several weeks.

Made in Navy Yards.

The nets, hung on floats and reaching to the ocean floor, probably will be manufactured in navy yards, the department said. A spokesman added the net tenders would be stationed in every important harbor, including Honolulu.

Contracts went to the following companies:

American Shipbuilding company, Cleveland, O., $6,513,000; General Engineering and Drydock company, Alameda, Cal., $2,036,000; Marietta Manufacturing company, Point Pleasant, W. Va., $2,040,000; John H. Mathis company, Camden, N. J., $2,036,000; Lake Washington Ship Yard, Houghton, Mass., $1,916,000; and Commercial Iron Works, Portland, Ore., $1,958,556.

Reports had been received here that some of those yards were doing navy work, but the news was confirmed officially only today.

Number Not Disclosed.

Neither the number to be bought nor dates of delivery were given by the defense commission. Nor was a description of the vessels available immediately, but it was understood they probably would be similar to tugboats, with special equipment and designs.

While the price of each vessel was not known, $500,000 was considered a likely figure. At that rate, perhaps 32 or 33 would be built under present contracts.

Other previously undisclosed army and navy orders were included in the defense commission's list. Among them were contracts for $8,700,000 in artillery guns to be made at the Watervliet [N. Y.] arsenal, $16,000,000 in ammunition and bombs at the Picatinny [N. J.] arsenal, $5,661,600 in rifles at the Springfield [Mass.] armory, and $14,597,630 in cartridges at the Frankford arsenal at Philadelphia.

EDUCATOR WHO SLEW 5 PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGES OF MURDER

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29 (AP).—Verlin Spencer, 37 years old, former South Pasadena Junior High school principal, pleaded guilty today to the murder on May 6 of five associates and the attempted murder of a sixth. He placed himself at the mercy of the court.

Verlin Spencer.

Deputy District Attorney Arthur Veitch agreed to the change in plea from innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, with the recommendation that Spencer's sentences should run consecutively.

Testimony given at the coroner's inquest will be read Wednesday before Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose. He will consider this and the reports of three state appointed alienists, and fix the degree of the murders and the penalty. Judge Ambrose released the report of Alienist Dr. Victor Parkin, who found Spencer was legally sane.

JOB HELD TRADE, NOT PROFESSION; BEAUTICIAN FINED

Ruling that beauty culture is a business instead of a profession, Municipal Judge William V. Daly yesterday imposed a fine of $25 and costs on Mrs. Jean Maggi, 38 years old, owner of a beauty shop at 5454 South Shore drive, for withholding payroll records from the state department of labor.

Mrs. Maggi's lawyer, Philip E. Ringer, claimed exemption for his client because the minimum wage law for women and minors does not specifically require that professional people report. Judge Daly cited an Illinois Supreme court decision classifying barbering as a trade or business, and stated that the dictionary defines a profession as a business.

Mrs. Maggi was released in $200 bond pending an appeal.

MERCHANT FLEET QUEEN GETS WILD WELCOME IN N. Y.

New York, July 29 (AP).—The huge new United States liner America—$17,500,000 queen of the American merchant marine—arrived here today. It received a tumultuous welcome reminiscent of jubilant receptions of the middle '20s.

Boat whistles screamed on half a hundred ships, crowds cheered on the waterfront, multicolored flags whipped in the wind.

The gleaming ship—which displaces 34,500 tons and is the largest passenger vessel ever built in this country—had an advance welcome far down the bay as it nosed toward its home port from the builders' yards at Newport News, Va. A vanguard welcome committee of 94 New Yorkers hailed the vessel from the bunting decked rails of the S. S. Riverside.

The ship bore 851 male guests on the 333 mile trip, which was a preview to the America's maiden voyage from New York to the West Indies. The voyage will begin Aug. 10.

REPORT BRITISH EYE GOLD CACHE AT MARTINIQUE

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, July 29 (AP).—A $250,000,000 cache of gold bars was reported today to be the primary reason for a British naval patrol off the French island of Martinique.

The island has been watched by the British ever since the fall of France for fear the gold as well as aircraft aboard French ships there might fall into German hands.

Martinique and the other French colonies in the West Indies were described today as hopeful the Pan-American conference at Havana would result in United States protection for them.

DRESS AND FOOD PROVE A BORE TO WILLKIE'S WIFE

Daily Her Many Graces Astound Callers.

BY MARCIA WINN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 29 [Special].—Any one who comes to the Willkie retreat here expecting to find Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie a timid little wife is in for a surprise.

Mrs. Willkie.

Daily she astounds her callers. She has simplicity, but she is far from simple. She at times is ingenuous, but she is not naive. She lacks neither social grace, aplomb nor quick insight, and she has a marked independence of spirit and mind.

She came from a background of wide culture and shows it in every fiber. She is widely read and widely traveled, in Europe as well as in the United States, altho she has spent little time, until now, in the far west which she loves. She knows art, music, literature.

She is deeply interested in foreign affairs, social questions, and politics, and scans the newspapers avidly each day, but she takes no public part in anything.

Worked with G. O. P. in 1936.

She was active in the 1936 campaign, working with the National Woman's Republican Club of New York, of which she is a member, but even then she kept far in the background, refusing to let her name be used.

"I worked hard," she says, "if you can call my dabs work. I addressed envelopes and did all sorts of little necessary things."

She prefers to be unobtrusive, a quality which is reflected in her dress. Clothes, as a matter of fact, bore her, as does food.

"All I ask," she says, "is that a dress fit the occasion and fit me." Here she generally wears simply cut sports clothes, often a powder blue sweater and skirt.

Today, for a long brisk walk thru the park and around the lake, she wore a two piece cotton sports dress of a light blue and white polka dot. She also wore it for luncheon, and for dictating letters, changing to its twin in silk crepe for dinner.

Jibes with Cameramen.

When she goes out, she usually pulls on a small white piqué hat with a visor effect brim. The cameramen tell her it makes her cheek bones look broad. "But they are," she reminds them.

Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson of Oklahoma, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with its 2,000,000 federated women, arrived last night, her car labeled with "Another Democrat for Willkie" placard, to have dinner with the Willkies.

It was her first meeting with either of them, altho a week ago she offered her unstinted support toward Willkie's election. She came away from dinner with unstinted praise of his wife, as well as of him.

"She is most charming," she said. "She is the friendly American type, gracious and yet with a dignified reserve which I admire in any one.

"Not only has she a charming personality, but she has an alert, keen mind, and a wholesome sense of humor that is rare. She is very approachable."

"That," she concluded, "has a great deal to do with success in life, I think."

WIDOW'S SAVINGS DISAPPEAR FROM CACHE IN GROUND

On June 22 Mrs. Mary Topis, for a reason yet unexplained, drew out the $1,700 she had on deposit in the South Chicago Trust and Savings bank. The money was left to her by her husband who died a year ago.

Mrs. Topis put the bills in a fruit jar, dug a hole in the dirt floor of her bungalow at 13532 Avenue K, and buried the jar. She put a pile of kindling over the caché. Yesterday was the first time Mrs. Topis had needed any of the money. She dug, first slowly, then frantically. The jar was gone.

She notified a son-in-law, Elmer Harvat, 15000 Turington avenue, Harvey. Harvat spaded up the floor. No trace of the money. Mrs. George Sockol, a daughter who lives with Mrs. Topis, said her mother had kept the secret of the buried treasure from her. They turned the mystery over to the East Side police.

MICHIGAN WOMAN DIES AT 90.

Coldwater, Mich., July 29 [Special].—Mrs. Alice F. Pague, 90 years old, died here yesterday at the home of a daughter. She was the widow of Dr. Charles Pague, a physician and army surgeon in the Civil war. He practiced in Chicago until his death seven years ago.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CHARGES EX-WIFE SPENDS SUPPORT CASH ON HERSELF

Judge Oscar F. Nelson in the Superior court yesterday ordered a social service bureau investigation of the manner of living of Mrs. Ethel Neff, 35 years old, after her former husband, Vincent B. Neff, 37, charged that she was squandering $50 a week support on herself instead of properly taking care of their children.

Neff, a musician, living at 1209 Sherwin avenue, said the children, Jolene, 14, and Suzanne, 12, were not being properly clothed or receiving dental care. He said his former wife, who lives at 7445 Ridge avenue, was spending the money in taverns, maintaining an expensive car, and had cashed in an insurance policy intended for the children's education.

Judge Nelson directed that investigators report to him Aug. 28. Attorney Irving Eisenman, representing Neff, asked that the father be awarded custody of the children if his charges are upheld. Mrs. Neff obtained a divorce on grounds of desertion last Sept. 21.

Expect Respite Today

Respite from the heat is promised for today by Forecaster Gordon Dunn. Occasional showers should hold the temperature to a maximum of 86, Dunn said, compared with yesterday's high of 95 at 4 p. m. Many Chicago suburbs reported higher temperatures yesterday than the city itself, with Blue Island registering an unofficial 103 and Chicago Heights 102. Cicero and La Grange reported temperatures of 100, and it was an unofficial 99 in Mundelein.

Two Men Assault Bailiff in Corridor and Flee

Two men talking loudly in a corridor outside Women's court assaulted John Supple, 57 years old, of 1326 West 98th street, a bailiff, when he asked them to quiet down or leave yesterday. Supple was knocked to the floor, incurring a possible fracture of the nose, head bruises, and a black eye. The men escaped.

REPUBLICANS GET STEAM UP FOR STATE CAMPAIGN

Volunteers Sought to Aid in Vote Drive.

Temperatures in the 90s have helped put a full head of steam in the Republican boiler, it appeared yesterday in a survey of G. O. P. activities.

Work aimed at organizing Republican sentiment in every precinct of Illinois was in full swing in state and Cook county headquarters, which now occupy the entire third floor of the LaSalle hotel.

"We are far ahead of the point reached at this date in previous Presidential election years," said John T. Dempsey, chairman of the Cook county central committee. "Progress is greater both as to coverage of territory and extent of organization."

Committee Presides at Offices.

Presiding at the state headquarters is an administrative committee composed of Ben Berve, state chairman; Clement A. Nance, secretary, and Charles W. Swanson. Divisions now include ex-service men's, under William Devine; organization, under William Yates Rowe of Jacksonville; speakers, under John F. Tyrrell; Young Republicans', under Alfred Borah; special groups, Livingston Osborne, and publicity, Robert Rennick. There also are divisions handling labor voters' activities, women's activities, Negro activities, and purchases and supplies.

In the Cook county headquarters, James B. Waller, 43d ward committeeman, was placed in charge of enrolling volunteers in the Republican cause. William H. Reid, 16th ward committeeman, will be in charge of training the volunteers for precinct work and polls watchers. Canvassing of every precinct in the county for persons willing to contribute their services will be started Thursday.

Patriotic Citizens Sought.

"We want patriotic citizens to know there is useful work for them to do in the Republican party," Dempsey said. "Every precinct is being organized and manned. Precinct meetings will start in most wards after Labor day. By Sept. 1 we should know the size of our army."

From national headquarters of the Republican Volunteer committee at 120 South La Salle street came word of proposed Willkie First Voters' clubs thruout the country. The clubs will attempt to enroll the 5 million young people who have come of voting age since the last Presidential election.

Edward MaGee, 24 years old, of Raymond, Wash., notified the Republican Volunteer committee yesterday that he would accept the national chairmanship of the clubs. MaGee came to Willkie's attention a week ago thru a letter he had written to his father, telling of his determination to aid Willkie's campaign. He told of spending a month's salary helping to get Willkie nominated.

"For the first time in my life I have a leader I can yell for and mean it," MaGee's letter said.

Robbed of Diamond

MRS. PHILIP BERMAN.

Mrs. Philip Berman, 25 years old, of the Edgewater Beach hotel, was robbed of a $9,000 diamond ring yesterday by two gunmen who drove alongside her car parked in front of 1063 Ainslie street. One of the bandits leaped in beside Mrs. Berman and said: "Give me the diamond and you won't get hurt!" Then he demanded her bracelet and money. She had no bracelet and showed him 45 cents in her purse.

He allowed her to keep the money. The robber then rejoined his companion and they drove west in Ainslie street. Mrs. Berman told Sergt. Oliver Hodges of the Summerdale police she carried $3,000 insurance on the ring. Her husband is associated with Louis Berman & Co., furriers at 333 North Michigan avenue.

GERMAN GROUP'S CLOSED SESSION ATTENDED BY 100

Delegates to the German-American National Alliance from clubs and societies of Chicagoans of German lineage held their monthly meeting last night in Lincoln Turner hall at Sheffield avenue and Diversey parkway. One hundred men and women attended the closed session, which was conducted in German. Acting President Otto Schwarck presided. The American flag was the only one in evidence. One of the speakers was Paul A. F. Warnholtz, chairman of the National Federation of Americans of Germanic Descent. As they left the meeting the delegates were handed notices of the anti-war demonstration in Soldiers' field next Sunday, at which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] will speak.

WILLKIE HAILED BY BABSON, DRY PARTY NOMINEE

Nation Needs Economic Operation, He Says.

Calmly facing defeat in the Presidential election, Roger W. Babson, the statistician who is the candidate of the New Prohibition party, paid his respects yesterday to Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee. Babson conferred here with the prohibition party's national executive committee before leaving on his first campaign tour of the west.

"If Roosevelt had let nature take its course, we'd have been out of the woods long ago," said the man who predicted the 1929 stock market crash. "Now we've lost eight years and 20 billion dollars.

"An operation must be performed if Willkie is elected, and I believe he will perform it. We must stop trying to live by our wits and legislation. The only prosperity comes thru denial, not by spending."

Jobs Termed Up to Jobless.

Solution of the unemployment problem lies with the jobless themselves, Babson declared. The government is justified only in helping them temporarily, he said. The same is true of business companies, he added.

"If they can't climb out after being helped, they should fail—that is nature's method of showing them they are wrong," he said. "The WPA is a hospital for inefficient people and the RFC is a hospital for inefficient business. We are opposed to them."

He said he has no hope that the American people will realize these things except as the result of more hard experience.

Revolution Called Economic.

Babson said that Hitler, without knowing it, is helping to clear out artificial economic devices in this country by creating competition. An economic revolution is in progress, he said. Babson sees as probable a future team of Germany, England, and Japan.

"Japan will control raw materials, Germany will control manufacturing, and England will control the seas," he said. "After the war this country will have to tighten its belt and go to work. We are going to see lower prices and longer hours."

And the only thing that will save American democracy is a spiritual recovery, he said, contending that "character building must be put back into our schools." Honesty thrift, industry, and temperance must once more be inculcated in the citizenry, he said.

Holdup Victims

Three bandits invaded the second floor office of the Illinois Domestic Finance company at 6 East Randolph street at noon yesterday. While loop crowds filed past in the street below, the gunmen forced a woman customer and four employés to lie on the floor. The robbers then took $1,000 from the cash drawer and fled down the stairway. The bandit chief wore a mask made of a stocking, in which eye holes had been cut.

Two of the employés terrorized were women. They were Miss Helen Nelson, 23 years old, of 7645 Langley avenue, the cashier; and Miss Marion Anderson, 26, of 505 Ashland avenue, Park Ridge, a secretary. The other employés were G. H. Kallgren, 33, of 8038 Drexel avenue, the assistant manager; and E. L. Weber, 30, of 1733 West 91st street. The customer left after the robbery without telling her name.

SUBWAY TUNNEL WORK OUTSIDE LOOP COMPLETED

Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and superhighways, announced yesterday that all subway tunneling outside the loop district has been completed on Chicago's eight mile subway project. On the State street route, 27,193 feet of single tube have been dug north of the Chicago river, on State street to Division street, west to Clybourn avenue and north to Clybourn and Willow street. On the Dearborn street route 20,410 feet have been tunneled outside the loop, west under Lake street to Milwaukee avenue and northwest in Milwaukee avenue to Ashland avenue. South of the Chicago river 13,316 feet of single tube have been tunneled under State and Dearborn streets. The tunnel work on the project is 76.5 per cent completed, and construction is under way on nine of the 24 mezzanine stations, Harrington said.

FROM 18 TO 64.

The conscription bill as prepared by the senate military committee at the instigation of Mr. Roosevelt calls for the registration of all male Americans between the ages of 18 and 64.

The country is puzzled by these age limits. The purpose of the draft is to recruit an army to fight in the field. If arms were available for training there would be little objection in principle to registering all young men of military age. But what good purpose is served by listing boys who are below the age of service and men who are far beyond it? Millions of them would not be called if a war lasted 10 years.

Certainly the addition of some 25 million names of men who are not to be called to camp cannot simplify the task of selection. Certainly the army already has all it can do to arm and train itself in new methods of warfare without adding any avoidable complications. If the emergency is anything like as grave as the hysterical voices in Washington would have the country believe, then it is nothing short of criminal folly to add difficulties to the task of preparing the country for defense.

From the political viewpoint, however, the general registration may appear to the New Dealers to have large advantages. It will tend to scare the country out of its senses. Mr. Roosevelt tried in his acceptance speech to persuade the nation that he is seeking the third term not as a vain and ambitious politician but as a great patriot who cannot let his country's call go unanswered. The registration may be expected to excite a great patriotic fervor, and the greater the numbers involved the greater the fervor may become. With the registration day set for some time in the early autumn, the attention of the country is likely to be diverted at a critical moment in the electoral campaign from the defects and derelictions of the New Deal to the excitements and alarms of the draft.

In the concluding speech of his 1936 campaign Mr. Roosevelt revealed the intensity of his desire to "master" any who dared to disagree with his notions and ambitions. He failed in the years which followed his reelection to subdue the opposition. He failed to pack the Supreme court and he failed in his effort to purge the senate and house. The conclusion is justified that with no more power over individuals than he now wields he must continue to fail. The registering of all men between 18 and 64 would give him a lever which he could use as ruthlessly as he has used relief and the pork barrel for his political ends. He would have all the man power in the nation under his thumb.

OUR DIPLOMACY AT HAVANA.

What is called the Act of Havana provides methods by which the American islands or areas held by non-American nations may be taken over if they are in danger "of becoming the subject matter of exchange of territories or of sovereignty." If the peace of the continent presents "an imperious emergency" any of the American republics, either alone or jointly with others, shall have the right to take such steps as are deemed necessary for the protection of the islands and for the defense of the continent.

Provision is made for an emergency committee, consisting of one representative from each of the American republics, which committee is to meet at the request of any of the signers of the resolution. If the situation is deemed too urgent to await committee action, then one of the republics may act and report its action to the committee. The understanding is that a provisional administration will be given the occupied territory pending a settlement later of the form of government best suited to the inhabitants, with a view to self-determination or self-government, when possible or advisable.

The one power in the western hemisphere which has the naval force to take over the islands is, of course, the United States. It is agreed that in an emergency it could act alone. Any joint action, in any event, would be largely if not entirely theoretical because all any of the other republics could do would be to make an appearance. Only the United States could protect such a seizure if the European power claiming title offered resistance or endeavored to eject the intruder.

The arrangement is an elaborate piece of international good will exhibited by this country in its endeavor to achieve united action in this hemisphere and keep other American nations from straying into the European sphere of influence. The lamentable fault of our government in recent years in dealing with this question of European possessions is revealed in the present situation. The refusal to make a good approach to this question when it was possible to deal with it peacefully now makes it necessary to commit what may be regarded, and certainly would be, an act of war in forcibly taking property which in everybody's understanding belongs to some one else.

Three of the possessors of these territories, two in the south and one in the north, France, the Netherlands, and Denmark, are now themselves held by Germany. All three had been overrun and their future and the future of their overseas territory will be determined by peace treaty. Great Britain is awaiting the battle which will decide the question for itself and for the rest of Europe.

We could have had the areas by purchase, at least our government could have made the effort. If it had not been imperative that it should do so before this war started, it became imperative then at once. To Great Britain and France the purchase price has been paid. These countries said they couldn't pay their debts before the war and once the war was started it was certain that they couldn't pay them. As honorable nations they should have recognized that if it were officially brought to their attention, and they also should have recognized the paramount interest of the United States in clearing up a dangerous situation off its own coast and in the region it must protect.

Now the United States apparently will be bound to a collective action, even if it takes advantage of the provision which allows it to act first and consult later. Furthermore, a peaceable means of getting these bases, cleaning up a bad military situation, is almost out of the question. The Nazis have said they are not interested, but no one believes that. If there is a seizure before the peace treaty in Europe decides the status of the territories, an act of violence is committed against the proprietors with whom the United States is not at war. If the present proprietors are allowed to retain them the United States will have a controversy there. If Nazi Germany wants a foothold in this hemisphere, and that is the American conclusion and the reason for its war preparations, the seizure will be an act of war against Germany. The American government has so contrived this whole matter that if it does what is mandatory, if it takes these possessions, it will have given Europe cause for hostilities.

European titles should have been extinguished by purchase. That would have been peaceable, it would have left no problems, and it wouldn't have invited retaliation. That this method is open now it may be doubted. Germany probably wouldn't permit the conquered nations to make the sale, and so because our government would not listen to reason we are put in the way of seizing by force and inviting the consequences. The necessity is there. We can only regret that better judgment did not prevail in Washington while there was opportunity.

STEADY JOBS FOR SOCIAL WORKERS.

New Deal social workers in high government places have made it apparent that they regard the pay roll tax fund in the unemployment compensation reserve as bounty to be distributed by them rather than an emergency aid to help an unemployed worker while he looks for a new job. If they are interested at all in stabilization of employment it is in insuring steady jobs for themselves.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the Social Security board, made the position clear when he told union hosiery workers in Milwaukee that there was enough money available to make payments larger than they have been. He favors increasing benefits 66 per cent.

Having found that the tax provided more money than enough to serve the end for which it was created, it would never occur to the professional social worker's type of mind to reduce the tax to fit the need.

The attitude is shown further in the sniping going on against the Wisconsin plan for helping temporarily unemployed persons. Wisconsin was the first state to enact this type of social aid and its law differs from most others by aiming to stabilize employment rather than to distribute alms.

Briefly, it makes every employer responsible for his own workers, earmarks his tax payments, and when he has acquired a reserve equal to 10 per cent of his pay roll suspends his payments. If he can keep the reserve intact by keeping his men employed he need pay no more tax.

The federal government exercises control by letting most of the state payments serve as an offset to its social security tax. Bills pending in congress would shut off this offset unless that law conforms more directly to the New Deal idea.

The Wisconsin plan has worked so well that 4,000 out of 12,000 employers affected now pay either a reduced tax or none at all for unemployment aid. They have acquired a backlog of more than $51,000,000 credit and, because of their success in stabilizing jobs, pay about six million dollars less in taxes than they did in 1937. This idea is naturally abhorrent to the man trained to spend some other man's money.

In Wisconsin the employers, the merchants and manufacturers, the workers represented by the State Federation of Labor and the American Legion, typifying a cross section of the public, have united with the state industrial commission in an experience meeting in Milwaukee to defend their law against official sharpshooters from Washington.

They are steadily coming to the conclusion that the federal government is less concerned with the jobs and the welfare of the worker than it is in dispensing an increased amount of public money and with imposing as large a burden as possible upon the American taxpayer.

Editorial of the Day

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

On Nov. 5 citizens will go to the polls to choose a President and a Vice President. On Nov. 6 the whole world will know who has been chosen, but the choice will not be official until Jan. 4, 1941.

The reason for this, of course, is the fact that the President and the Vice President are not elected directly by the people but by the electoral college The electors will meet at their respective state capitols on Dec. 16 and will send their votes to congress. They will not be counted until Jan. 4, the day after congress convenes.

It is likely that an effort will be made in the 77th congress to start in motion machinery to amend the constitution to get away from this "anachronism" of an electoral college. Off and on, such an effort has been made for nearly 150 years. As recently as 1934 a proposal to this end was voted on by the senate and failed by only two votes to win the necessary two-thirds majority.

The 1934 proposal would have removed the electoral college but would have retained the present system of the states as units in the election. There is now some sentiment for changing the counting system as well as for abandoning the electoral college. This sentiment, naturally strongest in the larger states, favors a direct vote for President, with the office going to the man who polled the largest number of votes, regardless of their state source.

It may be supposed that if the question of electoral college abandonment comes up in 1941 debate will center more about the alternatives than about the wisdom of maintaining an institution which has contributed nothing to our elections. The real question will be on how the "direct" votes are to be counted.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

THE WATER-WAGON CAPITAL.

Since the war correspondents have not seen fit to explain why the French government chose the relatively small town of Vichy as its seat during the German occupation, we will try to figure it out for ourself. The location is central, to begin with; much more convenient than Evian-les-Bains, another mineral water resort whose bottles are on almost every French table. Moreover, 12 of the 30 or 40 springs at Vichy, with their hotels and sanatoriums, are owned by the French government, and there, we suspect, is the answer to the town's present political importance. These establishments could easily be converted into offices for the migrating administrative bureaus.

The waters of Vichy, cold for drinking and hot for bathing, became famous when the Romans civilized Gaul. They lost their celebrity after that, but in the middle of the 17th century Mme. De Sévigné visited the place, wrote about it in her lively letters, and gave it fashion's blessing. Since then the bottled goods of Vichy have been known the world over.

In the all-day whisky-drinking period of American life, 40 years ago and more, Vichy water was the salvation of the man who wanted to stay sober and yet hear what the boys had to say about business conditions. He could remark, "I'll take water," to the bartender and be served three ounces of Vichy, at the price of whisky, without losing caste. If he had insisted on Lake Michigan water he would have received a dirty look from the bartender and jeers from his companions; he would have been, in short, a bad sport. But Vichy preserved his social standing.

In addition the man who rode the water-wagon with Vichy had a feeling that he was improving his health while the whisky-soakers were losing theirs. This water is alleged to be efficacious for stomach and liver complaints, diabetes, gout, and "the stone." It also used to have a good effect upon the mind of the water-wagon rider. After three mugs of the medicinal and quenching fluid, the conversation of whisky drinkers would begin to bore the Vichy fiend and he quietly withdrew from the roisterers.

There are many more palatable mineral waters, but in looking back upon his old saloon days and nights the Linemaster feels that he owes a great debt to the alkaline and slightly sulphuretted flagons of Vichy.

TO THE BRIDE OF THE LINE.

(Betty-Jane Kendall, known to the readers of this column as B. J. K., was married to George Heitz on Saturday, July 27.)

So, B. J. K., tho times forbid it,
You've up and took and gone and did it!
The writer of them lovelorn verses
Now hooked for better or for worse is!
Well, gal, take it from one old-timer,
There's nothing any more sublimer—
Regardless of who says it's phony—
Than healthy, happy matrimony!
Don't mind the Duke or Shanty Al,
They haven't told it all, my gal!
If you would live till old and gray,
With harmony the whole long way,
Let him on big things have decision—
He's male, and should have lots of vision;
Tell him you'll be content and all,
If he'll let you decide things small;
Which big? Which small? While love endures,
That choice, but naturally, is yours!
So happiness be yours, I say,
And lots of luck, young B. J. K.!

Casual.

While England Waited in 1588.

When Philip of Spain was preparing the Great Armada for an invasion of England in 1588, there were some "fifth column" notions in the air. The Cavaliere Spanocchi, a Spanish sympathizer, wrote:

"The queen will be even more detested by her own subjects than she is now, as she alone will be the cause of all their troubles. The queen's subjects will then open the door to us."

But the private secretary of Lord Chancellor Hatton had different ideas, for he set down for future historians:

"The invader must first be sure of a faction, readily prepared and armed to receive him, of the inhabitants of the country. . . . So that, for my own poor opinion, the state of England being naturally strong by the opportunity of the site and the sea, we need not greatly fear the peril of any foreign invasion, so we be true and faithful within ourselves."

The Venetian ambassador foretold the outcome to his government, thus:

"The English are men of another mettle from the Spanish, and are above all western nations, expert and active in all naval operations, and great sea dogs."

NEW FLOWERS OF DEVON.

In Devonshire the roses used to bloom
Down to the water's edge, and every field
And lane and garden spilled its sweet perfume
Upon the breeze, each month its special yield
Of fragrance of the sweet south.
But today
The gardens yield new blossoms—row on row
Of runner beans with blooms of scarlet spray,
Potatoes like a sea of mauve and snow.
"They're pretty things." So Devon writes; and goes
About its dedicated work with pride
And faith and quiet courage, tho it knows
By day and night, above, death makes its ride.
And Devon's voice is England's. Lord, look down
And shield from harm each faithful little town!

WOOD TICKS ARE VACATION PESTS.

ALL too few of us know much about our own country. Millions who reside along the Atlantic seaboard have never crossed the Alleghanies. Likewise, hordes of westerners are unacquainted with the beauties of the east or the charm of the south. Now that European vacations are out of the question we may anticipate that a large number will visit the great open spaces—perhaps the Rockies. The grandeur of the scenery will well repay the effort.

But one caution may be uttered for health's sake—namely, we should be on our guard against wood ticks. Particularly during the summer season those who trek to the woods in any locality should take this warning to heart. Infected ticks have migrated from the Bitter Root region of Montana, where they were identified originally as disease carriers. More than 30 states have now reported the presence of Rocky mountain fever, one of the ailments which they can spread.

How does the disorder behave? The term "spotted" is used because it describes the character of the mottled rash. From the time that the patient is bitten two to five days usually elapse before the first symptoms appear. In mild cases the interval may be longer; but if the insect carries the organism—which it plants beneath the skin—the victim will suffer chills, headache, sweating, and redness of the eyes. Pain in the abdomen, the bones, and the muscles—with occasional nosebleeds and vomiting—may be experienced.

The eruption is observed early on the knees, ankles, and other parts of the body. The fever lasts, as a rule, two or three weeks and good nursing is the price of safety, as the patient is restless, sleep is difficult, and the skin is highly sensitive. In addition, agonizing stabs may travel along the course of certain nerves.

We are all interested in prevention, and the one who is to take a holiday in a tick-infested spot should be vaccinated. A suitable preparation may be obtained from the United States public health laboratory at Hamilton, Mont. During tramps thru brush or woodsy areas the legs should be covered with high boots or puttees. An important precaution is to remove the clothing after a hiking excursion and search for these noxious insects. Large enough to be seen easily, they may be extracted cautiously, head and all, and the wound cauterized with fuming nitric acid or pure carbolic.

Unfortunately, these pests can live for two years without replenishing their food supply, lying dormant under stones and in soft earth. They crawl upon grass, bushes, and weeds, hoping that an animal, a bird, or a human being will pass their way. As opportunity offers they attach themselves, burrow beneath the epidermis, and then take their fill of blood.

There is no specific antidote once the disease has been acquired. The objective therefore is to keep the patient comfortable, and give liquids, such as fruit juices, eggnog, malted milk, etc., as generously as possible. The fever is best controled by tepid sponges with a little alcohol added to the water.

A typical case is that of a Wyoming rancher, aged 45, who complained of soreness in the head and grippy sensations—aching in every bone and joint. On the sixth or seventh day a rash covered his lower legs, hands, wrists, and chest. At first his temperature was 104 degrees Fahrenheit, but with frequent bathing a level of 102 degrees was maintained as the high point. The illness lasted 34 days and no treatment was required other than an abundance of fluid. As we can understand, complete bed rest is essential so that strength may be conserved.

WART ON FOOT.

J. B. L. writes: I have a plantar wart on the sole of my right foot. It is so painful that it is almost impossible to walk. I had it treated with the electric spark but it returned. What is the next step?

REPLY.

First make certain that your shoes are well fitting and that there are no points of undue pressure. Fulguration, the method you mention, is helpful in some cases. Other plans include the whirlpool bath, surgery, skilled chiropody, and the X-ray.

X-RAYNG INFANTS.

N. Z. writes: Is the practice of X-raying infants at birth general? What is the purpose?

REPLY.

Not general but employed frequently to reduce the size of the thymus gland. If this structure is unduly large, one—or, at the most, two—treatments will safeguard the tot against what is known as status lymphaticus.

LEAD POISONING.

A. B. writes: Should an employé in a paint spraying factory take any special precautions to guard his health?

REPLY.

Lead poisoning is a possibility—provided this metal is employed. Hands should be washed thoroly many times each day and the contamination of lunches brought from home must be guarded against.

TODAY IN HISTORY

July 30, 1619

First representative assembly in North America held at Jamestown, Va. The assembly was called the Virginia house of burgesses, and consisted of representative planters sent to help the governor in reforming and remaking the laws of the colony. Two years later a constitution was established, allowing the people to choose delegates to the house of burgesses annually. The house also sat as a high court to review decisions of county courts.

ASKS FAIRNESS ON RADIO.

Susank, Kas., July 26.—The newspapers, I think, still enjoy the right of free press but there is no freedom of radio. It is completely controled by the present administration. I'm not saying that people like you and me couldn't say what we pleased over the air within the bounds of decency if we could get the radio time.

What I would like to point out is that radio commentators are afraid to say anything against the New Deal. They look at what happened to Boake Carter and decide it is essential to praise the New Deal so they will be allowed to continue to earn a living. This is especially true of network commentators. As yet we have no wide flung Gestapo in this country, so the individual station can "get away" with a little more, but it is too easy to keep a check on the networks [that just takes four men] and as a consequence the networks, as well as their commentators, are afraid.

As to time on the radio. For seven years we have had a series of political and campaign speeches under the guise of "Fireside Chats" coming over the air from every station in the United States. There have been times when the opposition was going to make a talk and I have searched in vain on a 10 tube 1938 R. C. A. for that talk and failed to find it anywhere. On the night that Hoover spoke in Philadelphia the Mutual carried it, but some of those stations cut in on it for "previous commitments." I think some of the Blue network of NBC carried it [those stations aren't very powerful and mostly impossible to tune in]. Columbia and NBC Red didn't carry it. Now compare that to the same night two weeks later. The only stations not carrying the Democratic convention were the Mexican stations. I maintain that in a free country with equal radio rights one side should have the same opportunity for being heard as the other. What I would like to request is that the newspapers of the country start a campaign for this. Can't they stir up such a smell that for every time the "Great Radio Voice" is given time on every station in the country the same amount of time on the same stations will be given to Willkie? This gag of, "Roosevelt is the President and is entitled to the time" shouldn't be allowed to work. He is a candidate for office as Willkie is a candidate for office, the main difference being that Roosevelt has been campaigning for seven years and Willkie hasn't started yet. We'll give 'em that seven years and beat 'em if they will just give us the chance to state our case.

MARGUERITE B. PORTER.

MAYBE THEY'VE SEEN THE LIGHT.

Chicago, July 25.—When in the early days of the New Deal such men as Ironpants Hugh Johnson, Brain Truster Raymond Moley, the great I am; George Peek of the AAA, and John L. Lewis were stanch Roosevelt men, they came in for rather rough treatment from the Republican press.

But it seems that it was all in fun for these boys are no longer Reds and radicals; they are real Yankee Doodle Dandies now that in their frustration they have left the President for the Katzenjammer Kid, Wendell Willkie.

D. J. H.

FLAGPOLES LACK FLAGS.

Chicago, July 26.—While driving into the loop every morning along the Outer drive I have noticed, as I'm sure many others have, that all the buildings in the loop have a flagpole at the top, but only one has a flag flying from it. I am proud to say that building is the Tribune Tower. In these troubled days all the flags should be flying. ROY OLSON.

WPA AND THE ARMY.

Chicago, July 25.—Why should the men working on the WPA be picked to join the army—are they any different from the man who has a job in some other field? I don't think so. Just because those poor men have the misfortune of being unable to get a job is certainly not their fault, and is no reason why they should be singled out to join the army.

I am a firm believer in our army and other phases of our defense plan, but I draw the line when it comes to singling out the WPA worker. It is easy for the individuals who have a job to pass slurs on the beaten fellow, but let that individual lose his job and try to pound the pavements looking for another job. They will soon find out how plentiful jobs are.

Another thing, if the companies in Chicago would hire men living right here instead of hiring their employés from outside towns, states and farms, we would not have the WPA nor the relief here because our own people would have the jobs that are rightfully theirs.

JOBS FOR CHICAGO FOLKS.

IGNORE R. O. T. C. REQUESTS.

Peoria, Ill., July 23.—I want to congratulate you on your article of July 21 calling attention to the large number of colleges and high schools that have been trying vainly, some of them for years, to obtain R. O. T. C. units.

A parochial school and three of the public high schools in Peoria have had applications pending for some time, with apparently not the slightest effort being made to furnish units for these schools, as well as any of the other schools in the corps area.

I am a Legionnaire and a member of the Officers' Reserve corps and I hope you continue to call the attention of the public to this situation. Perhaps that will assist to eventually get some action.

CARL E. PHILLIPS.

MR. WILLKIE'S PICTURE.

Cicero, Ill., July 24.—I thank you for the picture of Wendell Willkie appearing in last Sunday's Tribune. It is refreshing to look at the picture of a prominent man that does not suggest a toothpaste advertisment. I am convinced more than ever that Mr. Willkie is the type of man we need in Washington as our chief executive; a man with eyes and ears open who knows how and when to keep his mouth shut. JOHN BLANG SR.

CONSCRIPTION.

Chicago, July 26.—The Washington chorus of yes men is apparently getting ready to serve the American public a concert on conscription.

I am neither a coward nor unpatriotic, but this looks to me like the beginning of a military dictatorship. There are few Americans who would protest against a reasonable and sensible form of military training. This could be done in our present National Guard armories during the evening without disturbing our entire economic system.

Our representatives will, of course, be exempt from military service. What happens to the rest of us will be just too bad.

A. I. H.

Chicago, July 25.—The duty of every red blooded American is to register a protest against the same conscription propaganda which was so subtly infused into the minds of erstwhile peace loving and trusting citizens in the last war to the tune of "Over There."

GIFTS BEFORE DEATH.

Des Moines, Ia., July 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—An aunt left a will making a brother-in-law sole heir to a sizable estate. However, a year prior to her death she presented the bulk of her moneys and securities to the brother-in-law and three nieces with the understanding that an equal or satisfactory division be made; otherwise the holdings were to be taken care of in accordance with the terms of the will. An agreeable division was made.

1. Is it necessary that these gifts be probated with the rest of the estate in Iowa?

2. Would the recipients pay state and federal inheritance taxes out of their gifts or would the administrator pay these taxes out of estate being probated?

F. O.

1. If the gifts were irrevocably delivered during her lifetime we see no need for probate. But your statement that in certain contingencies the will was to be operative casts some doubt on this point.

2. In general, gifts made within a year of death are presumed to have been made in contemplation of death and are therefore subject to inheritance tax.

THE RACE

MASSED CHORUS OF 5,000 TO SING AT MUSIC FETE

Monday Is Deadline for Choral Contest.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

The deadline for the entry of male, female, and mixed groups in the 11th annual Chicagoland Music Festival choral contest will be 6 p. m. next Monday. The Cook county preliminary contest for choral groups will be held Monday night, Aug. 12, at 7 o'clock in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel. The Chicagoland finals will be held Aug. 17, the day of the festival, in the Drake and Knickerbocker hotels.

Miss Grace Burnham.

The Watseka, Ill., Women's chorus, directed by Miss Grace Burnham, will return to the festival again this summer. It has won one first and three second places in previous Chicagoland contests. The organization is sponsored by the Iroquois County Daily Times of Watseka.

Entered Best Songstress in '33.

C. W. Hinton, co-publisher of that newspaper, has sent many winning groups and individuals to the festival. Naomi Evans of Wellington, Ill., sponsored by Mr. Hinton's newspaper, was chosen as the best woman singer in the 1933 festival contest.

Other choral groups entered in the competitions and their directors, are as follows:

COOK COUNTY.

MEN — Ukrainian Cossack, Samuel Chuba.

WOMEN—Hayt School P.-T. A., Lilyan Sacks; P.-T. A. Mothers', Helen C. Peirce; Alice Stephens Singers, Alice Stephens; Parker Women's, Grace Humphrey.

MIXED—Exclusive Sharps and Flats, Maurice Edwards McGehee; Hartzell Methodist Church Young People's, James T. Campbell.

OUT OF COOK COUNTY.

MEN—Waukesha, Wis., Motor Company Glee club, Dwight Trezise; Michigan City, Ind., Y. M. C. A. Glee club, Walter W. Johnson; Fort Dodge, Ia., Men's Civic Glee club, J. Howard Orth; Public Service, Hammond, Ind., George Calder.

WOMEN—Women's Civic of Burlington, Ia., Mrs. Paul Happ.

All members of competing choruses automatically become members of the festival chorus which will sing in the festival proper Saturday night, Aug. 17, in Soldiers' field.

Dr. Nelson to Direct.

The 5,000 singers in the combined choruses will be directed in two numbers by Dr. Edgar Nelson, general choral director of the festival. The numbers will be the Hallelujah Chorus, by Handel, from "The Messiah," and Haydn's "The Heavens are Telling" from "The Creation."

A rehearsal for members of choruses residing in Cook county will be held Friday night, Aug. 16, at 7 o'clock in Soldiers' field.

The first rehearsal for clarinetists, flutists, and oboeists who will play in the massed High school band of 1,000 pieces was held last night in the Lyon & Healy building at Wabash avenue and Jackson boulevard. More than 200 young musicians attended. They were rehearsed by Oscar Anderson, in charge of band and instrumental music in the public schools. Members of the band were selected by Dr. Helen Howe, director of music in the schools.

Baron Jeanne Pellenc's Son Drowns in Michigan

Traverse City, Mich., July 29 [Special].—Jeanne, 4 years old, son of Baron and Baroness Jeanne Pellenc, drowned in Cedar lake near here this evening. The boy slipped from a dock while his nurse was changing her bathing suit and was in the water approximately 10 minutes. He was brought to this city where an inhalator failed to resuscitate him. The father is with French troops in French Morocco, having been called to the French army when war broke out. The mother is the daughter of the late Frank J. and Mrs. Kier, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa.

CALLS CONGRESS HYSTERICAL; ASKS THAT IT ADJOURN

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.], said today that "congress has become the hysteria center of the country." He urged adjournment on the ground that further sessions would be dangerous, but others held that prospective defense measures made chances remote for leaving the capital.

"There is not a member of congress who is in shape to pass upon legislation," Norris said in an interview, referring to the current heat wave. Temperatures have been in the upper 90's for more than a week.

Majority leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], who unsuccessfully urged adjournment before the political conventions, said that because of pending measures, no one can predict when congress will adjourn. Senator Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], Republican leader and Vice Presidential nominee, was unchanged in his demand that congress stay on the job even during the election campaign.

Sewed Buttons in His Skin 'Just to Make Her Nervous'

Rochester, N. Y., July 29 (AP).—Asserting her husband chewed razor blades, ate glass, and sewed buttons on his arms "just to make me nervous," Mrs. Estelle G. Van Demark, 24 years old, won an annulment of her marriage today. She said she didn't learn until after her marriage last February to Robert C. Van Demark, 26 years old, that he once performed in a circus.

MUSIC INDUSTRY TO OPEN MEETING ON CHEERY NOTE

Instrument Sales Rise; Piano Makers Happy.

The convention of the National Association of Music Merchants opens at the Stevens hotel this morning with 279 manufacturers and wholesalers exhibiting 2 million dollars' worth of instruments. Everything from piccolos to electronic pianos will be on display. The convention will continue thru tomorrow and Thursday. This is an annual event, with Chicago and New York taking turns playing host.

A strong note of optimism will pervade the convention, for the music business is, in general, in flourishing condition. Makers of pianos, for example, point gleefully to their 1939 figure of 114,083 instruments and compare it with the 27,000 delivered in 1932. They can look 1940 in the face, too, for business in the first six months of this year ran 19 per cent ahead of the corresponding period of 1939. It has been estimated that 140,000 pianos will be delivered in 1940.

Demand for Wind Instruments.

There is a great demand for wind instruments, too, resulting largely from the increasing importance of high school bands. In fact, this stress on music in the schools is regarded as one of the principal reasons for the healthy present condition of the music trades. Another important reason is the great widening of interest in music the improvement in broadcasting standards has effected. The bulk of the population now has a chance to learn to like good music.

Registrations yesterday were the heaviest in history for the day preceding the convention.

Committee to Aid Fund.

It was announced yesterday that a committee to aid the Paderewski fund for Polish relief will be formed within the National Association of Music Merchants with the approval of the president of the association, William Howard Beasely of Dallas, Tex.

This committee will seek to interest the music trades and music lovers in general in the fund for Polish relief which is to be presented to Ignace Jan Paderewski in honor of his 80th birthday. The drive for the Paderewski fund is headed by Col. W. J. Donovan of New York.

North Western Train Hits Switch Engine; 100 Jolted

About 100 passengers were shaken yesterday when a three car North Western train, northbound for Lake Geneva, hit a switch engine at the Hough street crossing in Barrington. No one was hurt. The passenger train proceeded after a short delay.

MADAME PERKINS PICKS CHICAGOAN FOR DEFENSE JOB

Harry Guilbert of 11146 Lowe avenue has accepted an appointment by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins as one of eight industrial safety experts who will be in charge of protecting the nation's man power needed in the national industrial defense program, it was learned yesterday. Guilbert is director of the bureau of safety and compensation for the Pullman company, with which he has been connected for 19 years.

He will be in charge of a region consisting of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, and Missouri.

Mme. Perkins also said she will appoint a 24 member national committee for the presevation of man power in defense industries. The members will establish policies, analyze the results of the program, and work out promotional, educational, and technical information.

VOTE TO INDICT 5 IN WOUNDING OF 2 POLICEMEN

True bills charging assault with intent to kill and burglary were reported to have been voted yesterday against the five men accused of wounding two policemen in a gun battle last Sunday. Francis T. McCurrie, assistant state's attorney, said the five will be sent to trial as soon as possible.

The prisoners are Edward Melish, Kenneth Tuftedal, George Montville, Frank Michuda, and George Budka.

Police say they were attempting to rob the safe in a currency exchange at 3632 South Ashland avenue when two squads arrived. Policeman John Conway and Daniel Keating were wounded when the gang attempted to shoot it out.

SPEEDING PLANE USES NEW DEVICE TO PICK UP MAIL

Nashville, Tenn., July 29 (AP).—Speeding at 100 miles an hour, an airplane picked up a 100 pound mail container today in a demonstration of an improved method which is expected to bring air mail service to nearly three score towns without regular air transport service.

Stewart C. Plummer, chief engineer, and Norman Rintoul, chief pilot for All-American Aviation, Inc., conducted the experiment at the Aviation Manufacturing corporation factory here. The new pickup mechanism will be used next week on five lines totaling 2,500 miles and extending from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and Williamsport, Pa.; Jamestown, N. Y., and Huntington, W. Va.

For the last year All-American has been dropping and picking up mail with a grappling hook on the end of a cable which grabbed a sack strung between two 30 foot poles. The new device replaces the dangling rope with a metal pole hinged to the tail of the plane and requires no more elaborate ground equipment than two ordinary bamboo poles which hold a loop of light rope about 10 feet off the ground. Shock absorbing devices reduce the bounce when the plane drops one sack of mail and picks up another.

Dies in Chair for Luring Florida Girl to Her Death

Raiford, Fla., July 29 (AP).—Herbert Goddard, who lured Frances Ruth Dunn, 17 years old, of Miami, to her death by promising to get her into the movies, was executed in Florida's electric chair at state prison here today. The condemned man's last words were: "Good-by, Jean." Jean Bolton of Miami, a friend of Miss Dunn, also was lured on the motor trip during which Miss Dunn was raped and killed.

PRETRIAL PLAN SPEEDS CASES IN FEDERAL COURTS

Disposal of cases in the United States District court has been speeded up in recent months by use of the pretrial plan, a survey among local federal judges indicated yesterday.

The pretrial procedure is one in which both parties to a suit gather in the judge's chambers before the case comes to court. With the judge acting as umpire, both sides outline their cases informally and suggestions for settlements are worked out. If no settlement is reached the case is given to another judge.

Judge Charles Woodward said he has used the plan with great success in civil cases. Personal injury suits are more difficult to treat in the informal manner. Another jurist who has made wide use of the pretrial procedure has been Judge Michael Igoe. Both said the plan has aided in bringing current court calls up to schedule.

Strangler of Woman, 61, Gets a Life Sentence

Philadelphia, Pa., July 29 (AP).—Joseph Guida, 48 year old Washington D. C., produce merchant, was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the murder of Miss Winifred Flannery, 61 year old housekeeper, five years ago. The state said Guida and two companions strangled the woman while attempting to rob the apartment of Lieutenant Commander John S. Morrison, retired naval officer and employer of the victim.

VOTE TO INDICT 19 IN CEMETERY FRAUD SCHEME

Charges Climax Year of Postal Investigation.

Indictments accusing 19 persons of using the mails to defraud 40 investors of more than $300,000 in a cemetery lot syndicate were returned yesterday by the federal grand jury before Judge William H. Holly. The action, one of a series of indictments in the Chicago area in connection with the sale of cemetery lots, climaxed a year's investigation by Postal Inspector M. L. Goldsmith.

Benjamin L. Klar, also known as Kenneth B. Martin, was the principal figure in the syndicate scheme, according to A. Bradley Eben, assistant United States attorney, who presented the information to the grand jury. Both he and his chief aid, Richard Simon, are from New York City. Among the others indicted is Arthur Dunas, former head of a Chicago real estate firm, who was indicted in 1926 on mail fraud charges in connection with the Florida land boom.

Eben Outlines Scheme.

As outlined by Eben, the plan by which the investors, mostly elderly people in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Missouri—were mulcted of their savings worked in this way:

The investors, most of whom owned lots in seven cemeteries in North Chicago, Des Moines, Ia.; Duluth, Minn.; Moline, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo., and Hobart, Ind., were approached by Klar or one of his aids with a "money making proposition."

Those who promised to buy—with $250 down payments, the rest to be paid in 36 months—additional lots allegedly owned by Klar and his associates, received elaborate participating certificates in a syndicate of 50 persons. The syndicate managers promised to resell the investors' lots at huge profits.

This was never done, however, because the Klar outfit did not own the lots which they had sold to the investors, having made only down payments of ½ to the cemeteries on lots costing from $100 to $250. When investors made their down payments to Klar's agents, the $2 was sent to the cemetery owners and the remainder pocketed by the members of Klar's group.

When prospects in one territory failed to keep coming, the promotional outfit closed shop, according to the indictment, and the cemetery companies were left with only $2 per lot and the investors with nothing but the lots they originally had owned and the gaudy and worthless participating certificates.

Others in the indictment are Sam B. Getzler and Joseph Herman, Chicago; Ralph B. Moohr, John Bronstein, R. J. Huss, Michael Wallace, Morris M. Kline, Sidney Gottlieb, L. B. Ballou, and Richard L. Vidaver, New York; Jack Castor, Brooklyn; Lou Fleischmann, Akron, O.; A. H. Lieber, Milwaukee, Wis.; Herman L. Sharshik, Philadelphia, Pa.; Elice Griffith, Kansas City, Mo., and one Reynolds, first name and address unknown. Bond for these and Dunas was set at $5,000 each and for Klar and Simon at $10,000 each.

90% RISE FOUND IN ALCOHOLISM AMONG WOMEN

The Keeley institute for the treatment of alcoholics reported yesterday that alcoholism among women increased 90 per cent since 1933. The increase for both men and women was placed at 42 per cent for the same period.

Professional men were found to be the largest group among all types of patients. Architects, advertising men, brokers, bankers and those engaged in management positions in business and industry were included in the classification. Since 1933 a total of 169 physicians sought treatment, as compared with 48 bartenders. This trend was in conformity with the institute's all time record of treating 17,000 physicians as compared with 505 bartenders.

Second to the professional group among all patients were farmers, cattlemen, and others in agricultural pursuits. The most common occupation among all patients was that of salesman. The institute is in Dwight, Livingston county.

Body of Lake Sailboat Victim Is Recovered

The body of Richard Kunkel, 23 years old, sports editor of the Michigan City, Ind., News-Dispatch, was recovered yesterday by two Chicagoans motorboating about three miles east of the Michigan City harbor in Lake Michigan. Kunkel drowned Thursday night when his sailboat overturned in a sudden squall.

OBITUARIES

Edward J. O'Beirne.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the Masonic temple at Elgin for Edward J. O'Beirne, public works engineer and contractor, who died Sunday night in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Mr. O'Beirne, who lived at 300 Vincent place, Elgin, celebrated his 80th birthday May 9 with his twin brother, William of Woodale, Du Page county. Both brothers served in the navy during the sailing ship era of the last century and Mr. O'Beirne's two sons, Frank and Emmet, are both naval officers and graduates of the United States Naval academy. Mr. O'Bierne's firm designed and constructed electric railways, light and power plants, and gas and water works in scores of communities between 1895 and 1910. Mr. O'Beirne was twice the Democratic nominee for congressman from the 11th district. He was a 32d degree Mason. His widow, Mildred, and seven children survive.

William N. D. Rohde.

Funeral services for William N. D. Rohde, 82 years old, a retired chemist, will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 318 North Central avenue, with burial in Forest Home cemetery. Mr. Rohde, a native of Bergen, Norway, once was chief chemist of the Sanford Manufacturing company, inks. He began with the company 56 years ago as an office boy. Mr. Rohde died Sunday at 536 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, in the home which he had occupied for the last 52 years. Surviving are his widow, Oline; a son, William H. Rohde, and two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Pistor and Mrs. Ethel Oldfield.

Dr. Jesse B. Davis.

Funeral services for Dr. Jesse B. Davis, who died yesterday in his home at 618 Roscoe street at the age of 80, will be held at 8:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 5525 North Clark street. Dr. Davis, prior to his retirement 12 years ago, had practiced medicine for 45 years. He was an instructor at the Bennett Medical school before it became the Loyola university medical school and was a staff physician at the old Washington Park, the Hahnemann and the American hospitals. Mrs. Davis and four half-sisters survive him.

Mrs. Theresa Elgar.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in St. Anselm's church, 61st street and Michigan avenue, for Mrs. Theresa Broussard Elgar, colored, 82 years old, who died Sunday night in her home, 6601 Evans avenue. A prayer service will be held at 8:45 p. m. today in the chapel at 4636 Indiana avenue. Surviving are two sons, Charles A., vice president of local 208 of the musicians' union, and Placid Elgar, and a daughter, Mrs. Theresa Robinson of Woodlawn. Burial will be in Lincoln cemetery.

Isador Becker.

Attorney Isador Becker, prominent in Jewish affairs in Chicago for many years, died last night in Michael Reese hospital after a brief illness. He was 46 years old and lived at 635 Longwood drive, Glencoe. He was a lieutenant in the navy during the world war. The other bridesmaids will be the bride's younger sister, Nancy; the bridegroom's twin sister, Mrs. Kenneth Lane of Richmond; Miss Bryson's roommate at college, Miss Elizabeth Ramsey of Omaha; Miss Lucie Dix and Miss Margaret Tideman of Kenilworth. Miss Jane Bryson will be her younger sister's maid of honor.

The men in the bridal party all will be from away except Jack Bryson, the bride's brother, who will be an usher.

Verner Conrad Kreuter Jr. Wed in Rochester, N. Y.

From Rochester, N. Y., comes the announcement of the marriage on last Wednesday of Miss Jean Curtis Reed and Verner Conrad Kreuter Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kreuter of Rochester, formerly of Chicago. The ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock in the gardens of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harvey Reed, and was followed by a reception After a wedding trip to the Canadian Rockies and California Mr. Kreuter and his bride will be at home in Rochester. The bride, a graduate of the Madeira school and of the Finch Junior college, is a member of the Rochester Junior league. Mr. Kreuter was graduated from the Choate school and attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was graduated from the Sibley college of engineering of Cornell university in 1938.

The Ravinia Festival association has sent out invitations to the trustees, guarantors, contributors, guaranty committee, and coupon book committees that won't be lightly turned down. The hundreds who have helped to make the festival season a success are being asked to come to a buffet supper and postseason musical round-up next Sunday evening after the final concert of the season.

Garden Club Show to Be Kept Open in Evening.

The North Shore Garden club is catering to masculine gardening enthusiasts by keeping its annual show open until 9 o'clock in the evening. The show will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 6, at the Northmoor Country club in Highland Park.

Among the classes of especial interest this year is a series of miniature rooms featuring the mantel elevation and a novice class for exhibitors who never have received a blue ribbon. Another exhibit will be a table arranged by Mrs. B. F. Stein, president of the club, whose collection of Lincolniana typifies her interest in the past. In distinct contrast will be Mrs. Herbert Mayer's streamlined table. Mrs. Mayer is chairman of the show. Admittance to the show will be 50 cents.

A play, written last winter for the amusement of the author and mastered in two weeks by a cast of veteran players, will be given at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Bell school in Lake Forest under the sponsorship of the White Elephant Rummage shop. Mrs. John Andrews King, Mrs. G. Corson Ellis, Mrs. John C. Murphy, Mrs. C. McPherson Holt,

Sally's Movie Guests to Hear Hillbilly Songs

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.].

Well, who's coming to the movies with me?

I'm looking for 100 boys and girls to take to the Studio theater to see a funny new picture, full of comedy, mountain music and dancing. The name of the picture is "Scatterbrain," and by next Thursday I'll know the names of the boys and girls who'll be my guests at our movie party.

They'll be the youngsters who've written the best letters, telling why they'd like to be with me on Aug. 8. So if you think you'd like to be my guest, better get busy on your letter.

The deadline, which is Thursday, is only two days off. If you want to see Judy Canova and hear her sing some of her famous hillbilly songs, let me hear from you without delay.

Any boy or girl is eligible to try for an invitation. All you have to do is tell me why you think you'd enjoy this particular party. The winners will be selected from the best letters, and the boys and girls who'll come to the movies with me will find their names printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. If you expect to be my guest, be sure that you include your full name, address, and age in your letter. Each child must write his or her own letter, and please don't ask for invitations for friends. Have your pals write, too, if they want to come.

I can promise you lots of fun if you win an invitation. Send along that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Chicago Symphony Plays Its Concert in Grant Park Series

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Out in windy Grant park, where the city's hot canyons seemed a million miles away, thousands of persons sat under a benign sky last night to hear the Chicago Symphony orchestra play the first of its traditional series of late summer concerts. Hans Lange conducted.

The program began with the Academic Festival overture of Brahms, but quickly forsook such material for Chadwick's "Tam O'Shanter." The latter's gayety, excitement, and humor made a strange prelude to the cool, chaste tunes of the Bach B minor suite. Devotees of Ernest Liegl's agile and beautifully inflected flute playing found ample opportunity for rejoicing during the suite.

Mr. Lange next offered a novelty in the shape of an arrangement for orchestra of three excerpts from Debussy's "Children's Corner." The more lyrical movements took to orchestral dress as a duck to water, but "The Golliwog's Cake Walk," so admirably suited to the piano's percussive tone, lost some of its ping in the orchestra arrangement.

If this program order seems extraordinary, know ye that the conductor had it arranged quite differently, but that the exigencies of radio broadcasting forced a revision. The postintermission part of the concert was, however, devoted to a conventional closing item—the Brahms first symphony.

The performance of the symphony often exhibited a turbulence which contrasted markedly with the solid, four-square Brahms playing to which we are accustomed, but a very good case can be made out for Mr. Lange's interpretation. Certainly the vigor and even fury of the final movement brought the work to a tremendous climax without departing radically from what we may presume the composer's intentions to have been. And the performance aroused pleasant memories of a July night four years ago when Mr. Lange made his Ravinia debut with this very piece.

The second movement had an ingratiating lyrical line. The violins sang with an exquisite ease and naturalness, and the balance of the parts was beautifully calculated. One of the best moments of the entire performance came at the very opening of the third movement when the theme was put forward with such simplicity and purity and limpid grace.

The Stage

With Ruby Keeler watching the show from the audience before departing for her home in North Hollywood, Eunice Healey took over Miss Keeler's former part in "Hold On to Your Hats" at the Grand Opera house last evening.

Miss Healey, whose only previous appearance on the Chicago legitimate stage was with Ed Wynn in "The Laugh Parade," made a distinctly favorable impression in her new assignment.

Good Morning!

The men who went down to the China seas
In ships in the 1880's
Were as hard a gang as ever swore or killed
Or breathed, my maties! [nautical.]
This Bucko Larson was such a guy
As were Williams, Foster and Grimes, O,
And Ruby who sang in a Singapore dive
Was their female counterpart, O.
The sailors they all loved Ruby lots
And she fleeced 'em all for their money,
For at gold digging, cheating and coarse bon mots
This lady was truly a honey.
One day from a Portugese sailor she learned
Of a pearl bed around Pago Pago
And this information she spilled with great glee
To Bucko and his lousy gang-o.
[Pago Pago's pronounced Pango Pango.] Lucky for me.
These chaps double crossed poor old Ferro, and they
With Ruby set sail for some pearling
And soon, on an uncharted island, the lot,
Hot air, gin and deceit were hurling
At natives so childlike, so sweet and unspoiled,
The while their young chief fell for Ru-by
He made up his mind for to wed her and said [or words to the equivalent]:
"Fair Lady, Frau Kehane please DO be!"
With guile in her eye and with guilt in her soul
She led the poor fellow a sad race
The while she had Bucko with evil intent
Spread Cor-rup-tion all over THE place. [Proper emphasis MUST be observed in this brand of verse.]
And sweet South Sea Malia who loved Kehane true
Had liked to have died of jeal-ous-y
She'd thought he belonged to her, sinker and hook,
But now, for Pete's sake, just whose WAS he?
Well, Lamby Pies I've got no room to relate Succeeding events. If haste you're in
To know all the answers—these words will suffice,
Here's the sort of film Dot La Mour scores in Only THIS trip Miss Farmer puts on the sarong
And HER goodness is full of per-fid-y,
And Kehane, tho he grieves over Ruby's demise
You're darned tootin' is right well rid OF she!
Mr. Hall, as Kehane, is a handsome galoot
With a nature as sweet as a lily,
But you tire of the guy with his wide, guileless smile,
For at times he is just too, TOO silly.
Miss Bradna, as Malia, dances, acts, AND Proves that she's no end of a charmer
And laurels for silk-pursing a sow's ear rôle
I place on the brow of Miss Farmer.

That 'Well Bred Look' Stressed by American Fashion Creators

American style creators' collections for this fall, designed around "that well bred look," will be shown here to buyers from all over the country this week and next.

The 10th anniversary apparel markets opened for fall buying yesterday in the Merchandise Mart and will continue until Aug. 10. Breakfast style clinics are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 6 and 7.

Style Exhibitors, Inc., an organization composed of representatives of 250 of America's foremost creators and manufacturers of women's and children's apparel and accessories, also will show fall and winter lines during this week and next on 10 floors in the Morrison hotel.

Three fashion revues will be staged for more than 2,500 buyers from 34 states, Canada, Hawaii, and South America. The first will be this evening in the Terrace casino of the Morrison. The others will be on Monday and Wednesday evenings, Aug. 5 and 7.

According to Henry Nathan, director of promotions for Exhibitors, milady's clothes this autumn and winter will reflect her reaction to the times. They will be quieter, more simple, and concentrated on dignity rather than dash. She will wear blacks and browns. Sheepless fabrics will be used, fine wools, crepes, and jerseys.

Miss Katherine Ratto, merchandising counsel for the Merchandise Mart, stated yesterday that the important note in women's wear news is the slimmer, more graceful, and more natural silhouette. Shoulders and sleeves are straight, not in the Florodora tradition of the past seasons. Skirts will be short but slimmed down in width to permit only a natural stride.

Meg Carroll, 6 years old, wearing a red, white, and blue school dress.

The flippant note in millinery has been muffled. Instead of perching on the head like a pigeon getting off to a racing start, hats will fit. Coats, too, have undergone a sensible revolution. Instead of looking like a trapper's dream, they will be less befurred and more demure. Collars will be smaller, prettier, and often detachable. Costume suits, matching dresses and coats, will be top fashion. The coats are made so they can be worn with other dresses.

The old fashioned note has crept into junior's and sister's clothing. Red flannel underwear, actually crimson, will be a winter "must." Children's dresses and suits, when not nostalgic of bygone days with prim long sleeved jumper frocks or nautical styles, will be aviation minded with pilot and hostess costumes.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 29.—Monday: A visit with Samuel Goldwyn, who is still aroused over the double bill evil. He says he is always doing something to annoy people in Hollywood, but doesn't care. Says he hopes Bette Davis will do a picture for him, but nothing is settled. . . . Golf at Lakeside with R. Carroll, George Murphy, and Carroll Tracy. I play worse than a B picture, even with the marvelous clubs from the printers back at the shop. Gimme time, boys.

Tuesday: Lunch with Ernst Lubitsch, who has the twinkling eyes of an imp and who greets everybody in the Brown Derby. "Everybody knows everything about everybody else out here," he says. "That's why I never wear a dinner jacket because they all know I've got one and it doesn't impress anybody. I just wear it in New York. Spent two days there last week and caught 'Louisiana Purchase.' It's a wonderful show. Not the caliber of 'Of Thee I Sing,' but a fine show." . . . To a preview of "The Ramparts We Watch," which is a smart job but no epic. It has the best newspaper scenes I ever saw in a movie.

Wednesday: To Metro to see J. MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in a bit of "Bittersweet." Eddy learns to his horror that he is a distant relative of this reporter. "I did hear there was a mad branch of the family 'way back,'" he says. But he looks pretty funny himself in his costume. On the Doctor Kildare set to meet Gene Lockhar, who stops production until he finds out all about the Dutch treat crowd back home. . . . To dinner out past Pasadena, and to hear Tom Geraghty reminisce about Julian Street and Booth Tarkington.

Thursday: To the motor vehicle bureau to get new license plates. Warning to people driving to California for a long stay: if you don't bring the birth certificate, fever chart, ungerprints, bill of sale, contracts, and a blood test of your car along with you, you'll get wound up in more red tape than you'd find in a pre-Hitler French postoffice. . . . To Paramount to watch Jack Benny and Rochester do a scene for "Love Thy Neighbor." Rochester wears loud yellow tights and so does his stand-in. Benny says it's just like a vacation, making a movie without having to be on the radio, too.

Friday: For an early morning golf lesson. Never knew a person could do so many things wrong at one and the same time. . . . Ran into Sid Sutherland, looking brown and prosperous. He spends half of each week on his orange ranch near San Diego.

Saturday: To the new Walt Disney studio, a magnificent wonderland and the happiest film plant in Hollywood. More about it tomorrow.

Sunday: Wrote a piece early in the morning, then for a fine day off at the Palos Verdes ranch. Tennis on the court below Madeleine Carroll's house, but she isn't back from the war and "The Howards of Virginia" yet, so she can't join all the ladies in clucking over my sunburned back.

Hot Weather Story.

Mrs. Roland K. Smith spent most of a recent hot day beside the Saddle and Cycle club pool, reading and writing some notes, and occasionally taking a dip in the pool. Before she left she stopped to write a check for her food and drink. A few days later Mrs. Smith received a telephone call from the Northern Trust company.

"Did you make out a check to the Saddle and Cycle club on last Tuesday?" asked a trust company official.

"Yes. Is there anything wrong?" answered Mrs. Smith.

"Well, you signed the check 'Affectionately, Martha'," explained the bank official.

Rum Drinks.

The tropical influence has hit the town with the arrival of midsummer. Café patrons flock to the bamboo trimmed, island roofed Beachcomber to drink zombies (seven kinds of rum in a zombie). Drink specialties on the roof of the Lake Shore club include the Caribbean Hurricane, made of cognac, white rum, and gin; the Waikiki, served in a whole pineapple, with a double portion of white rum, and the Shark's Tooth, a double cocktail of aloe gin. There is a new Hawaiian apartment at the Park Dearborn hotel, with grass matting on the walls and bamboo and rattan furniture. A cocktail party christened the opening the other day and our scouts report that a new tidbit served was a cube of pineapple wrapped in bacon and broiled, and called Halilanimanna. At the Saddle and Cycle club a popular drink is a long rum drink designated as a "Carpenter special" because it is Kenneth Carpenter's favorite drink from his favorite recipe. . . . But if you really want a cooling summer drink, stick to Rhine wine and seltzer in hot weather.

Gauge.

A man with a noticeable British accent was having trouble keeping his equilibrium during the jerks and jolts of a West Madison street car on which he was a straphanger one hot day last week.

"Things must be really bad over there if they have to come over here and ride these cars," commented one of the passengers.

SYNOPSIS.

Detective Patrick Doyle of New York City is vacationing in a small town resort when, while walking in the woods on the estate of Adolph Wunsch, he stumbles upon a skeleton. He tells Thurman Briault, Wunsch's brother-in-law, his discovery, and Briault tries to bribe Doyle to keep quiet. Instead the detective reports it to police headquarters, and Officer Madden and Judge Blain accompany him back to the spot, only to find the skeleton gone. Trailing fresh footprints, they find the skeleton buried a short distance away. Dr. Blake, the coroner, says it is the skeleton of a girl in her late teens, and that she was murdered. Madden asks Doyle to help him solve the mystery. The judge finds some blue yarn on nearby twigs, and the three men encounter Wunsch playing golf on his estate and question him. In the meantime Wunsch's young wife, Paula, is worrying about her unhappy marriage. She married for money in order to help her mother and her brother, and she found that her husband treated them all like prisoners. While she is feeling sorry for herself, her brother, Thurman, rushes in and says he must have some money as he is leaving.

INSTALMENT VIII.

GETAWAY PLANNED.

Paula's heart leaped. "Truman! What has happened?"

"Don't ask questions," her brother begged. "Just get the money for me."

"How much?"

"All you can lay your hands on."

"Truman, don't leave me alone here. Please don't. First Adolph sends Maman away. And now you are going. I can't bear it."

"Don't think about that," he told her. "Think how you can get the money for me. I must have it immediately."

"I'll give you every cent I have, of course. And I can send you more later. Sometimes I get the dress shops to advance me cash and bill Adolph for gowns I haven't bought. Only I'm afraid to pull that trick too often."

"God bless you, darling. You'll manage. I know you."

He held his hand out to her and she clung to it.

"There's another thing," he said. "If any one comes here asking questions about me—you don't know anything. Understand?"

She looked at him bewildered. "No, Truman, I don't understand."

"It doesn't matter," he said wearily. "Just remember I don't want information given out about me."

"But you haven't done anything wrong," she protested. Then a thought leaped like fire. "Truman! I saw you this morning. From my window. Why did you go out so early?"

He stared at her aghast. "O, my God." It was some moments before he could speak. "Did Wunsch see me?"

His face was drawn, frightful to see.

"No, no. No one. Only I."

"Paula. Listen. Never tell any one. Never. Promise me."

"I promise." She was so frightened that her lips could barely form the words.

Long after luncheon had been announced, Paula sat irresolutely in the library.

What was troubling Truman? Why did he insist on lunching alone in his room? From what awful thing was he fleeing? And where was Adolph?

She rose, coming to a sudden decision. Better go into luncheon now. The servants would be wondering. But she paused with her hand on the door knob. The loneliness. And the fear. She felt she would welcome even the presence of Grossvater Wunsch, tho he seldom spoke to her.

But he lunched always in his own rooms, appearing downstairs occasionally for dinner. Perhaps he would lunch with her if she asked him, Paula thought. And, moved by impulse, she went up to the old man's sitting room and knocked softly.

Miss Doty opened the door, her hair gleaming red-gold, like fire over the snowy white of her uniform. She stood aside silently when she saw Paula, and Paula moved past the nurse without greeting. There was constraint between the two young women.

Grossvater Wupsch was sitting on the window seat, his ponderous Bible on his knees, its heavy German script much underscored. When he saw his daughter-in-law he laid the book aside and stood before her.

Tho he was past eighty, there was still some remnant of the grandeur of his manhood. He had been a giant in his prime—six foot four, with massive shoulders and arms, and barrel chested. His head was large and well shaped, and the thick growth of white hair framed it in patriarchal dignity. He had not lost his direct gaze, nor a certain vigor of aspect, but Paula knew these cloaked weakness. For he had aged rapidly in the three years she had lived under the same roof with him.

He was quickly exhausted and the victim of recurrent heart attacks. Wunsch, deeply solicitous for his father, had long ago installed the trained nurse to be in constant attendance upon him. And lately, as if he resented any contemplation of his fast waning powers, the old man shut himself more and more within his rooms, alone with the nurse, waiting in dignity and silence for the coming of death.

Paula spoke slowly and distinctly in answer to his look of inquiry. "Will you lunch downstairs with me? I am alone."

Perhaps he saw the wistfulness deep in her eyes, for something made him check his immediate refusal. He looked at her searchingly.

"Ja wohl," he said abruptly in his husky guttural tones.

He went into his bedroom, followed by Miss Doty, who helped him change his dressing gown for a loose jacket. Then he rejoined Paula, his cane grasped firmly in his gnarled old hand as he followed her stiffly down the stairs and into the dining room.

The butler signaled the footmen with a flicker of his eyelids, and the smooth, elaborate service of luncheon was under way.

Paula studied the old man, attacking his food with a primitive fierceness.

Did he wonder sadly why he had left his rich son transplant him to this foreign country, to this unsuitable luxury? There was something pathetic about the way he treasured the few possessions he had brought from his Bavarian farm—his Bible, his cane, a few faded photographs of people long dead, some snapshots of fish he had caught, game he had killed.

Paula spoke to him gently.

"What did you hear from Texie?"

He lifted his head sharply at the name of his granddaughter. "Where is Texie?" he demanded.

She told him patiently: "Texie is traveling in Europe. You remember that."

The old man looked at her suspiciously. "Alone?"

"No, no," she said kindly. "Maman is with her."

"Who?"

"My mother. You remember her. She sat there." Paula indicated the place next to him.

His eyes clouded and the wrinkles across his forehead deepened. He could not seem to remember Maman. Which, perhaps, was just as well. They had hated each other from the start.

"Why iss it that Texie goes away?" he asked.

"Her father thought travel would be a good experience for her," Paula explained, remembering bitterly that all Adolph had thought of was to get Texie away from Truman.

"When iss it Texie comes home?"

"I don't know," Paula admitted. "I presume when her father decides she should."

But even as she said the words, Paula had a sudden suspicion that Texie's prolonged absence might not be Adolph's doing, but Texie's way of getting even with her father.

Maman ought to know if this were so, Paula thought. But, always an indifferent correspondent, Maman's letters were notably infrequent on this trip. And her mention of Texie was perfunctory—mere notations of where the young girl had been and what she had seen. Nothing of her reactions or behavior. Which was a pity. Because Texie's reactions and behavior, whatever else you might say about them, were never dull. Of course Adolph heard from Texie regularly, Paula knew. But, no doubt because of Truman, he never discussed his daughter's letters with his wife.

Yes, it might well be, Paula thought with deepening insight, that Wunsch's increasing restlessness, his bad temper, and his recent addiction to night life, were caused by Texie's deliberately absenting herself in defiance of him.

Paula roused her musing as Grossvater grasped his cane, and shoved back his chair. The butler hastened to his assistance, and the old man struggled to his feet.

Paula watched him blankly. There were still salad and dessert courses to come. Then she thought, why should she linger for them? She overtook the old man and slipped her arm thru his.

"Come up to my boudoir," she said coaxingly, "and visit."

She knew that he was almost inarticulate, but he was not stupid. He had lived a long time. There was wisdom stored behind his sharp eyes.

But he disengaged himself firmly. "Nein," he said. "I go rest now."

She went with him to the door of his sitting room. He turned on the threshold and regarded her strangely. "Life iss hard on all," he said unexpectedly. "Iss only for us to do the Lord's will."

She turned back to the stairs feeling bleak and empty.

Tarkington Observes His 71st Anniversary

Kennebunkport, Me., July 29 (AP).—Booth Tarkington, Indiana author of such books as "Penrod" and "Monsieur Beaucaire," observed his 71st birthday quietly at his summer home today. He and his wife were the sole guests last night when a group of summer theater players had a dress rehearsal—which took on the tinge of a "special performance"—of his play, "Magnolia." Tarkington hasn't attended a regular theater performance in recent years because of dimmed eyesight.

Some one should erect a small sized monument to the cook who invented the jelly roll. Jelly roll is a dessert suited for alluring adornments; for example, a topping of ice cream, but adorned or unadorned, it is a welcome dessert in the average home. Small-sized jelly rolls are popular with iced tea or orangeade as afternoon refreshment, too.

The tart red jellies are most desirable as filling. Currant, raspberry, strawberry, and cranberry jellies are popular. Dark jams; such as blackberry, are attractive.

Many persons favor a somewhat moist dessert, especially after a large meal. So the dinner jelly roll usually is topped with whipped cream or ice cream, and may be saturated with a good wine.

Jelly roll must be handled quickly, fresh from the oven, if it isn't to crack. This recipe tells how.

Jelly Roll

¾ cup sugar
¾ cup sifted cake flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
4 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup jelly

Sift the sugar once. Sift flour once before measuring, then three times with baking powder. Beat eggs and salt until thick and light, then gradually sift in the sugar, beating constantly. Fold in the flour and vanilla, and turn into a shallow pan, 15 by 10 inches, which has been lined with waxed paper. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 12 minutes, until lightly browned. Turn out at once onto a cloth which has been wrung hard out of cold water. Strip off the waxed paper and quickly cut off crusty edges of cake, using a sharp knife. Spread the jelly in swift strokes. Raise one end of the cloth and gently bend over the edge of the sheet to start the roll. Then, with one motion, draw the cloth upward, rolling the cake out of the cloth and into complete roll. Wrap in a dry cloth over which confectioners' sugar has been sprinkled, and cool on a cake rack.

Fudge filling may be used instead of jelly for the roll, but this dessert obviously is no jelly roll, however good.

There's another method to use in making jelly roll by this same recipe, and some women prefer it. They think the results are generally more satisfactory. Here's how:

ALTERNATE METHOD FOR JELLY ROLL

Sift the flour once and measure. Combine baking powder, salt, and eggs in a bowl. Place over a smaller bowl of hot water and beat with a rotary beater until the mixture becomes thick and light in color. Remove bowl from hot water. Fold in sifted flour and vanilla. Turn into pan and bake as described.

Orange juice and sugar may be combined in equal parts and dripped over a jelly roll while it is cooling. The juice saturates the roll and makes it moist and flavorsome. In that case, it's advisable to use orange extract or a teaspoonful of grated orange rind to flavor the cake itself. Vanilla then may be omitted.

Chorus and Band to Give Concert for Veterans

An outdoor concert for patients at Edward Hines Veterans' hospital will be given tomorrow by the Carnegie-Illinois male chorus and the Carilico band, both made up of employés of the world's largest steel mill at Gary. The chorus of 60 voices is directed by Harry S. Walsh. The 100 piece band is under the direction of K. W. Resur.

July 30, 1940.

Universal Day—Express love thru service in the home and community.

Month Ahead—This will be the freest month in the year for those in a six-year, including today's celebraters, and if you haven't already had your vacation, get away in the middle of August by all means. A nice trip to somewhere interesting would be better than just the routine vacation at the shore or country. Do something to stimulate your mind. You should meet some new people and might even find romantic interest.

Year Ahead—Since six in a marriage number, and August brings new interests, you may now be feeling the full effects of the emphasis on family matters which this year brings for you.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1940 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

Two-Piece Fashion Idea

WOMAN'S AND MISS' BLOUSES AND SKIRTS.

The two-piece idea shines in today's two designs. One fashions a complete ensemble and the other separate blouses. There's a wide variety of styling afforded, all of which should find favor with career addicts and campus luminaries. These are wearable items, suitable for almost all hours of the day. Both summer and autumn fabrics will make up well, and color contrasts should be kept in mind.

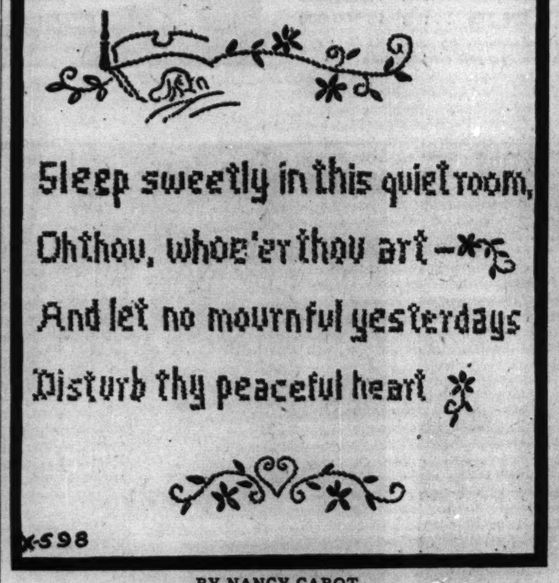
Style No. 2938 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for collarless blouse; 2 yards of 54 inch for skirt.

Style No. 2722 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 2½ yards of 39 inch material for short-sleeved blouse with yoke; 2¼ yards for long-sleeved one.

Each pattern costs ten cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Motto Done in Cross-Stitch



BY NANCY CABOT.

This gracious motto done in cross-stitch, in quiet colors, will do a great deal to make a guest feel welcome during a week-end stay. It may be framed in either light or dark wood, and the background fabric may be in natural or a pastel shade. Cross-stitch is one of the simplest of embroidery devices, and makes good pickup work for summer afternoons and evenings. Such a framed motto makes an excellent gift, too, for one's week-end hostess or for a party prize.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the cross-stitch motto, No. X-598, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Carnival to Mark Jubilee of St. Vincent's School

Alumni of St. Vincent's parochial school, 1010 Webster avenue, will hold a five evening carnival and homecoming, beginning Thursday evening, in celebration of the school's 50th anniversary. The carnival will be held on the De Paul university campus. A solemn pontifical mass will be celebrated Sunday by Bishop William J. O'Brien. The Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Morrison, rector of Holy Name cathedral and member of the class of 1902, will give the sermon.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central Daylight Saving Time.]

The Northerners at 9:30 tonight on W-G-N will present their weekly song concert, featuring an original arrangement of songs from the new motion picture, "Boys from Syracuse." Irene Verner, soprano, will be the featured soloist. Selections from the motion picture include "Sing for Your Supper" and "Falling in Love with Love." Miss Verner will sing "L'Amour, Toujours, L'Amour," by Friml, for her solo. Other old favorites to be offered will be Romberg's "Soldiers of Fortune," Buzzi-Peccia's "Gloria," and Schertzinger's "Marcheta." The popular 30 minute program is directed by Harry S. Walsh and presented from the station's main audience studio before 600 invited guests.

The dedication of the new North avenue beach will be previewed by Quin Ryan from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m. today. George T. Donahue, superintendent of the Chicago Park district, and James J. O'Rourke, park district engineer, will be among those interviewed. Formal ceremonies are to take place at 2 p. m.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra will be heard from Ravinia park on Chicago's north shore from 8:30 to 9 p. m. These concerts are broadcast over W-G-N each Tuesday at the same hour.

Nothing but the Truth, the interesting program featuring odd facts about persons and places is scheduled at 7:25 a. m. Alexander McQueen, radio favorite of many years, conducts the show.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dee of 6410 Glenwood avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Jane, to Dwight Van Duesen Lee, son of C. D. Lee of Ramona, Cal. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Dee attended Mundelein college and Mills college in Oakland, Cal., where she is now in the department of publications. Her fiancé, a graduate of Princeton university, took graduate work at the University of California. He is now teaching in the San Francisco bay area.

Mrs. Irving De Forest Vincent of Evanston announces the engagement of her daughter, Martha Bushnell Vincent, to Nicholas J. Hoos, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoos of The Hague, the Netherlands. The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock on Aug. 17 in the Lady chapel of St. Luke's Episcopal church in Evanston. Miss Vincent is a graduate of the Roycemore school and of Vassar college.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

We picked some perfume out of our cabinet the other day, used it, and discovered that its charms for summer use certainly deserve to be talked about. It's one of those naturals for hot weather wear.

Sophisticated perfumes, as a rule, are a little too heady for hot weather. But, if your tastes run to perfumes that have dash, you don't take whole heartedly to those of the sweet-simplicity class, even if the temperature is soaring. What you want—and what we found—is a perfume with character and charm and a certain lightness that make it refreshing as well as appealing.

The perfume we rediscovered is a blend that's quite sophisticated. But it has a lilting woodsy note that saves it from being overpowering and that gives it added charm in muggy weather. It's not sweet—and that's a point in its favor for us. Sweetness in perfumes, as in people, appeals to us most in small, sincere doses. Cloying coyness is hard to take under any circumstances.

This perfume is one of the lasting ones, and isn't nearly so expensive as you'd judge from its quality. It's the kind that's wearable with all types of clothes and every woman—unless she is faithful to straight florals—will find it fascinating. Men like it, too.

For real perfume fans cologne is no real substitute. A beautifully scented cologne has its place in grooming, but it can never do for your spirits and your sense of femininity what a lovely, mysterious perfume can do.

Mrs. Cecil I. Crouse, Mrs. Harry McLeod, Miss Sarah F. Hinde, Mrs. Philip B. Maher, Mrs. Samuel M. Rinaker, Mrs. Joseph C. Belden Jr., and Mrs. Charles W. Dempster will present a one act comedy written by Mrs. Samuel T. Chase and directed by Mrs. Richard Delafield, who will also take one of the rôles. Admission to the performance will be any article which can be sold at the shop.

Polo Championships On Today at Oak Brook.

The Central Circuit polo championships are starting today at the Oak Brook Polo club and will continue thru Sunday. This afternoon the Oak Brook team will meet the Cyclones, and the winner of that game will engage the 7-11 Ranch on Friday. The Saturday match will be between Cleveland and the Healy Farm, and the championship game will be played on Sunday afternoon.

The woman's committee, which includes Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Harry O. Owen Jr., Mrs. Roy D. Keehn Jr., and Mrs. Theodore A. Mohlman, reports a sellout of boxes in the center stands. Among those who have made season reservations are James S. Knowlson, Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, whose son, Steve, is in the tournament; J. Fred Butler, Col. P. Wilson Evans, Delmar L. Kroehler, Irving Clendenen, Curtis Mitchell, and Wilson Craig.

Lowden Family Passing Summer in Thousand Islands.

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois is having most of his family at his summer home in the Thousand Islands this season. The three children of Mrs. Frederick Wierdsma of New York, the former Frances Lowden Drake, are with their grandfather. The junior Albert F. Madleners and their youngsters will go north the middle of August for a month, and the George M. Pullman Lowdens of Belair, Cal., are expected there shortly after a visit in New York. Dr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller probably won't be able to get to the islands this summer, but in September they and their children will go to Gov. Lowden's Sinnissippi farm at Oregon, Ill., for a month.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

"You sent that pitcher to the well once too often," the erstwhile dummy, said bitterly to his partner. That individual, sunk in gloom, could offer no better defense of his own play than a deep [but ineffectual] sigh. The hand had been:

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.
Rubber bridge.

NORTH
♠ Q J 10
♥ A 7 3 2
♦ A K 7 2

WEST
♠ 9 6
♥ 8 5
♦ 10 9

EAST
♠ K 8 5 4
♥ K 10
♦ Q J 8 5
♣ Q 10 7

SOUTH
♠ A 7 3 2
♥ Q J 9 6 4
♦ 6 4 3
♣ 8

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 heart	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

North, despite his five and one-half honor tricks, was doing a bit of gambling when he made his abrupt leap to four no trump. If South had not held a high honor in spades there would have been two tricks off the hand immediately, with a heart or diamond loser also possible. Hence there was not the safety in even a five heart contract [which would be forced by the four no trump bid] that North apparently counted on. It would have been safer for North to have raised the heart response all the way to game, relying on South to bid again if he held any substantial values. However, the slam was certainly there on proper management, and North was all the more disgruntled that his own aggressiveness had come to naught.

West opened the diamond ten. Dummy won, and it was immediately obvious to declarer that success hinged only on a winning finesse in either spades or trumps. To try the trump finesse, however, it would be necessary to enter the closed hand, and since there might be difficulty or danger in this maneuver, declarer properly decided to test out the spade situation first. He led dummy's spade queen and let it ride. When it held [East was not accommodating enough to cover] declarer felt a little better, but still thought it possible that West was holding up the king. To clinch the matter one way or the other the spade jack was led. This time East did cover, for a very farsighted reason. He wanted to help declarer take the lead in his own hand.

The success of the spade finesse probably went to declarer's head and fired him with entirely too much ambition. He now had visions of taking all the tricks. So he finessed the queen of hearts thru West and was hit by a juggernaut. East pounced on the trick and returned a spade, all in one sweeping movement, and West gleefully ruffed.

It had been perfectly correct for the declarer to try out the spade situation, and even his second lead of that suit had some merit, but after the spade king was captured and the success of the small slam contract was virtually assured, it was criminal to finesse for the heart king. At that point declarer should have banged down the ace and another heart with alacrity and dispatch. True, he might be giving up 30 points by that safety play, but this, as compared to the 1,630 points involved in the slam, would have been fairly inexpensive insurance.

GIVING FUGITIVES MONEY IS LEGAL, U. S. COURT RULES

Decision Frees 5 Aids of Lepke and Gurrah.

New York, July 29 (AP).—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled today that supplying money to fugitives from justice—even as much as $500 a week to the nation's No. 1 racketeer—is not a violation of federal laws against harboring and concealing fugitives.

The unanimous decision reversed and set aside the conviction of five individuals and two corporations charged with conspiring to harbor and conceal the now imprisoned industrial racketeers, Louis [Lepke] Buchalter and Jacob [Gurrah] Shapiro.

The opinion, written by Justice Thomas W. Swan, indicated the appeals court decision was based largely on a previous legal interpretation by former Federal Judge Martin T. Manton, who now is serving a federal prison term for obstructing justice.

Follows Manton Ruling.

Asserting that the principal charge against all the defendants was that they had supplied money to Buchalter and Shapiro—up to $500 a week—while they were fugitives, the court ruled, as Manton previously had ruled, that:

"To pay money to a fugitive so that he may shelter, feed or hide himself, is not within the accepted meaning of to 'harbor' or 'conceal' him."

Referring to a previous United States Supreme court interpretation, the opinion of the appeals court held that "harboring must refer to some physical act tending to the secretion of the body of the offender."

Known as Racket King.

Buchalter—now serving a 14 year federal prison term at Leavenworth, with a 30 year to life term in Sing Sing awaiting him—had been the acknowledged king of the narcotics, fur, and trucking rackets in New York.

Shapiro—also serving a federal prison term at Atlanta—long had been a Buchalter associate identified with the industrial trucking and fur rackets.

The nature of the court ruling, federal authorities said, made retrial of the conspiracy defendants impossible under the original indictments on which they were convicted.

Freed by Decision.

Freed by the decision were:

Carl Shapiro, brother of Gurrah, who had been sentenced to a year and a day.

Nathan Borish, president of the Raleigh manufacturers [listed separately as Baltimore, Md., and New York companies], sentenced to a year and a day.

Samuel Smith, brother-in-law of Gurrah, six months.

Philip Kasakove, accountant, a year and a day.

Florence Dwayer, secretary of the Raleigh manufacturers, who had been given a suspended sentence.

Raleigh manufacturers [separately], $5,000 fines each.

DIES OF AUTO INJURIES.

La Porte, Ind., July 29 [Special].—Herman Demien, 55 years old, assistant street commissioner here, died today of injuries received Saturday when helping to clear a street of a felled tree. He was struck by automobile driven by Robert Jahns, 24, La Porte. It was the 24th traffic fatality this year in La Porte county.

MOTORIST, FINED $100 ON RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE

Carl Knudsen.

Harold Wood, 19 years old, 1655 South Trumbull avenue, was fined $100 and costs and deprived of his driving privileges for one year by Judge Gibson Gorman yesterday in Safety court. He was accused of reckless driving after being arrested by a police squad early Saturday following a five mile chase. Two companions, James Nosek, 22, of 2137 Roosevelt road, and Charles Frayer, 26, of 1700 Hastings street, were fined $10 and costs each for disorderly conduct.

Charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident were continued until Aug. 12 against Carl Knudsen, 50, of 3314 60th place, who struck two women with his truck March 22 at Taylor street and Western avenue. One of the women, Mrs. Louise Deiner, 65, of 1026 South Ashland avenue, died April 20. Her granddaughter, Irma Lou Toomey, 18, was injured.

Police said that after being stopped by other motorists, Knudsen left before the police arrived. A coroner's jury recommended that his driver's license be revoked, but held Mrs. Deiner's death an accident.

ALBANY FARMER, 76, DIES.

Albany, Ill., July 29 [Special].—Edward Haley, 76 years old, who lived on one farm near Albany for 67 years, died yesterday.

Clara Hirschberg, 9 months old, 2245 Grand avenue, died Sunday in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital of a stomach ailment. In a story Monday THE TRIBUNE erroneously stated that the infant died in the county hospital.

CAR LEAPS CURB; 2 PEDESTRIANS JUMP TO SAFETY

Two pedestrians leaped to safety yesterday when an auto driven by Harold Frossard, 20 years old, 310 South Damen avenue, climbed the curb at 206 West Jackson boulevard and ran into a store front. Frossard told police the car was owned by Robert O. Wilson, president of the Wilson Sales company, his employer, and that he was on an errand for him. Frossard had no driver's license.

David Stringer, colored, died in Mercy hospital in Benton Harbor, Mich., of injuries suffered in an automobile accident. Stringer was 53 years old and lived at 4243 Calumet avenue.

Father Joseph Carton, 37, of St. Matthew's church, 3040 Walnut street, was injured seriously Sunday night when his auto ran into a safety island in front of 5906 North Clark street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 479 persons had been killed in traffic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 361 died in Chicago, where 13,014 were injured during the same period.

REVEAL SEARS STORE BOMBED IN ATTEMPT TO EXTORT $100,000

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29 [Special].—Police revealed today that a small bomb exploded at a Sears, Roebuck & Co. store here last Wednesday night, 24 hours after Rowland H. Davie, Milwaukee manager for the company, received an extortion note demanding $100,000. The bomb did little damage.

Police made no report on the incident in the hope that secrecy would lead the extortionists to make a misstep. This strategy led the letter writers on Friday night to make a second contact—by telephone—with Davie. But they have made no move since, police said.

The note demanded that Davie get $100,000 together in used bills of $5, $10, and $20 denominations, put it in a strong bag and drop it from an airplane.

Police Chief Joseph Kluchesky said the bomb appeared to have been made by an expert mechanic.

DEDICATE NORTH AVENUE BEACH PROJECT TODAY

The park district's new $750,000 North avenue beach and beach house, informally opened to the public when construction was completed July 1, will be officially dedicated at 2 p. m. today. The program will feature aquatic events, life saving demonstrations, and music.

Principal speakers will be Robert J. Dunham, park district president; George T. Donoghue, park superintendent; Mrs. J. Sharpless Fox, president of the Woman's City club which is sponsoring the ceremonies, and Philip Seman, chairman of the recreation commission. From 1:15 to 1:30 p. m. Quinn Ryan will interview officials and describe the beach improvements over W-G-N.

The sand area of the beach is 877,500 square feet. It can accommodate 75,000 bathers at one time. The beach house, which cost $93,543, has complete shower, locker, first aid, and checking facilities.

PET DOG SAVES SIX; WOMAN, 82, PERISHES IN FIRE

A fire of undetermined origin caused the death of Mrs. Charlotte Bruce, 82 years old, early yesterday. Mrs. Bruce was at the home of her son-in-law, Carl Zeigler, 6235 South Kedvale avenue. The fire started on the back porch at 2:30 a. m. Zeigler, a locomotive engineer, was roused by the barking of his dog, Flossie. Flossie later burned to death.

Six members of the family escaped the flames. They are: Zeigler, his son, Thomas, 13; Mrs. Zeigler; another son, Robert, 20, and his wife, Hazel, 20, and the young couple's daughter, 6 months old.

Wilbur Barbain, 26 years old, 5207 South Richmond street, a clerk, who stopped to watch the fire, was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver.

For the first time in history—
a magazine with nearly 20,000,000 readers!

NEVER BEFORE in publishing history has an audience of such vast size been won by a magazine . . .

Never before have so many people been exposed each week to the pages of any magazine...

Why, then, has LIFE captured this enormous total of nearly 20,000,000*readers every issue?

. . . Because LIFE presents truth and reality to a world hungry for and vitally in need of both.

. . . Because LIFE's new-age journalism does this in a vivid, penetrating, and stimulating way . . . because people like LIFE's clarifying, picture-and-word editorial technique.

This presentation of urgently wanted information not only makes many millions willing to pay out more money for LIFE than is paid for any other magazine—it prompts them to pass LIFE on to millions more to see and read.

Thus LIFE, among all magazines, has attained unquestionably the largest audience and the most potent market in America.

ALL MISSOURI BACKS COACH FAUROT IN POLL

VALDINA STAR WINS ENGLEWOOD PURSE BY A NECK

Betty's Bobby 2d in Opening Feature.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Valdina Star, a dark brown colt owned by Mrs. Joe Grossman, was the hero of opening day at Washington Park. After the 8,000 spectators had demonstrated their confidence by backing him down to the position of 6 to 5 favorite he delivered a brilliant performance that earned him victory in yesterday's Englewood purse, a dash of a mile which headed the inaugural program.

After a 112 to 1 shot, Gambit, had set the early pace, he was overhauled by strong contenders. As they came into the stretch, Valdina Star charged up along the rail, just inside the pace setter. On Gambit's other flank came Inscolassie and Betty's Bobby while Plowshare was closing on the extreme outside.

The drive developed into a struggle between Valdina Star and Betty's Bobby and as they pounded across the line in a photo finish, it was Valdina Star by a neck. Inscolassie beat Plowshare for third money.

Float Away Wins Secondary.

Valdina Star was forced to run a fast mile to earn his victory. His time was 1:37. In the mutuels he returned $4.40, $3.20, and $2.40 across the board.

Paul Kelley's Float Away, which had been coming close without being able to catch the leaders during the Lincoln Fields and Arlington Park meetings, took full command of the six furlong dash for horses of the $4,000 class which was the secondary feature. After Jimmy Ashcroft sent him to the front on the break, he cut out a good pace and got home two and a half lengths ahead of C. W. Pershall's Royal Blue. Mrs. Emil Denemark's Court Dance was third.

While the others were chasing him futilely Float Away was at the quarter in 23 seconds and the half in 46 2-5. He came on home in the good time of 1:11 1-5. Those who backed him received $7.60, $3.20 and $2.60.

O, That Seventh Race!

Two spectators who took part in the patrons' handicapping contest, which is again a feature of the Washington park meeting, succeeded in picking the first six winners. Both picked Delta Dan in the seventh. They failed to win the $1,000 prize when Delta Dan finished second to Mordecai. They got quite a thrill out of it at that, because Delta Dan led thruout the early stages of the mile run and held on well during the stretch drive. Mordecai's margin was three quarters of a length. Under the terms of the contest, this $1,000 will be added to today's prize, making a total of $2,000 for any one who can pick the winners of the first seven races.

Joseph E. Widener's Roman, Tom Taggart's Yale o' Nine, Lexbrook Stable's Potranco, Woolford Farm's Technician and Joe Schenck and other high grade sprinters are among the nominations announced yesterday for next Saturday's $5,000 Chicago handicap. A field of 20 has been named.

Renew Duel Saturday.

Roman and Potranco will have an opportunity to renew the duel which they carried on so brilliantly during the Arlington Park meeting. After Roman had established the reputation of being the best sprinter in the Chicago area, Potranco gradually worked up to top form and then defeated Roman by a nose in one of the best races of the meeting. It was just about this time last season that Potranco was gaining distinction among the 2 year olds and the way he's going now he may be in for another good midsummer campaign.

Technician came back after a bad slump to win the Inaugural handicap at Arlington. Next Saturday will be his first appearance since then.

The field for the six furlong Chicago handicap follows:

Horse—	Owner.
Court Dance	Mrs. E. Denemark.
Prairie Dog	Mrs. E. Denemark.
Yale O'Nine	French Lick Springs Stable.
Black Brummel	A. L. Ferguson.

PASSEAU MAKES IT NO. 12 AS CUBS BEAT PHILS, 7-3

Chicagoans Put Over Four Runs in Seventh.

Ignore Curfew

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 30 [Tuesday].—Gabby Hartnett, manager of the Chicago Cubs, who for several days had been suspicious that certain members of his team were becoming unmindful of the midnight curfew, was waiting in the lobby of the players' hotel for late arrivals this morning. Six came in between 12:15 and 12:45 a. m., and Hartnett personally escorted each to his room. At 1 a. m., an hour after curfew, several members of the club still were at large.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 29.—The Cubs dilly-dallied for five innings today then cut loose against the poor Phillies for a 7 to 3 victory in the opener of the three game series in this, the home town of Humility and Humidity.

Claude Passeau, who lacked poise at the start, was a very steady gent after the first inning. He yielded four hits and a pass for two runs in the opening inning and only three hits the rest of the way. It was his twelfth victory of the season.

Joe Marty, former Cub, traded last year with Kirby Higbe, tomorrow's pitcher, for Passeau, drove in all the Philadelphia runs. Marty sent in the first two Philly markers with a single in the first inning and the third with a homer in the seventh.

Ike Pearson Loses.

Ike Pearson, whose two National league victories this season were over the Cubs, was the starting and losing pitcher.

In the first five innings he yielded a homer to Bill Herman and singles to Augie Galan and Passeau. In the sixth, however, the Cubs bruised Pearson for a pair to take the lead and in the seventh the young man gave way to Si Johnson in the course of a four run foray. Charley Frye, rookie right hander, checked the Cubs in the last two innings.

The success today kept the Cubs from falling to an even .500 in the league standings and put them one game over .500 on this trip, on which they have won four and lost three.

Phillies Take Lead.

Herman's fourth homer of the year gave the Cubs a lead in the first inning, but the advantage did not survive the Philly half of the session in which Passeau seemed to have nothing whatsoever. He was lucky to get out with a pair of runs.

Mahan opened the Phillies' half of the inning with a single. He stole second, but was thrown out by Leiber when he tried to reach third on Todd's throw into center field. Schulte and Klein also singled and Rizzo walked, loading the bases. Mazzera popped to Warstler but Marty socked the fourth single of the inning scoring Schulte and Klein.

The Cubs had a chance to tie the score in the fourth but missed it. Galan opened with a single, paused while Nicholson fouled out, and reached third on a steal and a toss into center field. Then he stood on third while Leiber fanned and Bonura tapped to Bragan.

Cubs Miss Again.

The Cubs folded on another scoring opportunity in the fifth. Warstler walked with one down and stopped at second on Passeau's single to left. Warstler took third on Hack's fly to Klein. Herman also flied to Klein.

The Cubs negotiated a 3 to 2 lead in the sixth inning. Nicholson doubled past Klein with one out and scored the tying run on Leiber's single to left, Hank reaching second on the throw to the plate. Bonura supplied his third out of the game, but Todd

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

THE last of the original set of clubs used by Jerry Travers of New York when he won the United States amateur golf championship in 1907, 1908, 1912, and 1913, and the open title in 1915 is being raffled. . . .

It is his midiron and will go to the holder of the lucky ticket at a drawing to be made Nov. 30. . . . There are three reasons why Chicago did not get the Louis-Baer fight, which at one time was set for Comiskey park in September. . . . They are Joe [Whitewash] Triner, Sheldon [Whitewash] Clark, and James [Whitewash] Fitzpatrick. . . . Their decision in the Harry Thomas case, which revealed flagrant acts of dishonesty in heavyweight boxing, has made promoters reluctant to risk substantial investments in Illinois bouts. . . . Harry Brooks, one of Indiana university's most dependable football backs, is hobbling around on crutches in summer school, the result of a sprained ankle incurred in a softball game. . . . G. A. Young, head of the mechanical engineering school at Purdue where he has been a member of the faculty for 47 years, is an unusually good left handed golfer. . . . At one time he offered an H grade, the highest obtainable, to any student who could defeat him. . . . He and his son, Keith, won the father and son tournament at the Indiana state amateur eight times. . . . Zeke Bonura's 27 home runs in 1934 stand as a White Sox record. . . .

Some one should tell Leo Durocher and probably Larry MacPhail that pennants are won with bats, not with fists. . . . Since they unleashed their blitzkrieg in the National league the Dodgers have won a lot of fights and lost a lot of ball games. . . . Furthermore, they have incurred the enmity of the Cubs, Cardinals, Pirates, and Reds. . . . No team needs to advertise its toughness. . . . If it has what it takes, the averages will show it. . . . The eyes of Texas were upon Herb Freitag and Joe Sinke, A. B. C. doubles champions, when they met Texas' champions, Chet Moss and Buddy Omar, in Galveston. . . . The 1,563 rolled by Freitag and Sinke—803 by Freitag and 760 by Sinke—was the highest total ever reported to the American Bowling congress. . . . And as proof that the alleys were not soft, the Texas pair turned in a 1,172 total—568 by Moss and 604 by Omar. . . . When the sunlight is glaring John Revolta of the Evanston Golf club wears a dark colored sweater. . . . The late Walter Travis used a rusty putter to escape the glint of the sun. . . . Neither Pittsburgh nor Ohio State ever has lost an opening football game, but that record will be endangered when they meet in Columbus, Sept. 28. . . . Twice during the 1912 season Eddie Collins, then with the Athletics, stole six bases in one game, the modern record. . . . Olivia DeHavilland, the film cutie, is taking golf lessons from Olin Dutra in Los Angeles.

SOX GO BACK TO WORK TODAY IN OPENER WITH A'S

Start Knott in New Drive Toward 4th Place.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Having had a refreshing pause after a strenuous week with the Red Sox and Yankees, the White Sox will put on their work clothes again today and try to create more surprises for the American league.

Eight and a half games away from the lead, three games from third, and only one lap behind the first division, the Sox will attempt to chisel down these figures, starting this afternoon against the Athletics, who, while tailenders, are capable of stirring up trouble.

The Athletics' stay embraces three games, the second tomorrow night and the final Thursday afternoon. Then the Senators will move in.

Solters Is Question Mark.

There's one problem in Manager James Dykes' plans for today and there's nothing he can do about it until game time. Julius Solters, the muscle man whose power bat has been of marked aid during the current splurge, aggravated his chronic charley horse in the second game on Sunday and was hastily withdrawn as a matter of precaution.

Dr. Ad Schacht, who looks after the complaints among the Dykes' troops, went to work immediately on the weak spot and afterward termed it not serious. But Solters won't be able to tell how sound he is until he gets on the field today. If he can't start, the vacancy will be filled by Larry Rosenthal, who is toting a fairly respectable batting average himself.

Sox Gain Speed.

Since July 11, when they suddenly decided they had been pushed around long enough, the Sox have been moving faster than any team in the league. They've won 13 of the last 19 games, nine of the successes being against the Red Sox and Yanks.

Jack Knott will be employed against the Macks today, seeking his seventh decision. John Rigney will perform tomorrow night and Eddie Smith will southpaw on Thursday.

The Sox yesterday optioned Wilbur [Whizzer] White to the Waterloo, Ia., farm club. White, a pitcher, was snared off the campus of Bradley at Peoria, Ill.

Anderson Gets Heavy Backing in Home Town

Mason City, Ia., July 29 [Special].—"Eddie Anderson for head coach of the All-Stars."

That is the battle cry ringing in Mason City this week and to show their loyalty more than 2,000 residents, young and old, have marched to the polls to back the hometown boy in The Chicago Tribune's balloting for coach of the College All-Star team, which will meet the Green Bay Packers, professional champions, in Soldiers' field, Aug. 29.

Eddie Anderson, the coach who pulled the 11 iron men of the University of Iowa thru a successful season last year, is a Mason City boy. Eddie came to Mason City in 1912 and played four years on the high school football team.

Mason City business men, with the coöperation of the Globe-Gazette, are uniting their forces in behalf of Anderson. Voting booths have been placed at various places in town and backers have kept the tally sheets busy with ballots for their favorite.

Several Mason City firms already have joined the "100 per cent" club by signing up the employes for Coach Anderson.

Before voting booths could be erected in town, 119 ballots came in for Anderson. On the second day of voting the count jumped to 1,336.

Anderson's father, E. M. Anderson, who lives in Mason City, is overjoyed by the progress his son is making in the nation-wide poll. Needless to say he cast his vote for his famous son.

Bill De Correvont Gains in Hospital After Operation

International Falls, Minn., July 29 [Special].—Bill De Correvont, Northwestern university's star half back, was resting comfortably in the Northern Minnesota hospital tonight after an emergency operation for appendicitis Sunday. Hospital attachés said De Correvont showed satisfactory improvement during the day. He will be in the hospital about 10 days.

De Correvont's mother, Mrs. Harriet De Correvont, and an older brother left Chicago today by automobile to join Bill at the hospital. K. L. Wilson, Northwestern's athletic director, who was vacationing at Bemidji, Minn., arrived today to check up on the youth's condition.

De Correvont had been spending the summer as a counselor at Camp Kooch-i-ching, on an island in Rainy lake near International Falls. He returned Saturday from a week's canoe trip and complained of not feeling well. His condition was diagnosed as appendicitis by the camp physician, Dr. Henry Lysne of Minneapolis, who took him the 60 miles from the camp to the hospital, where Dr. James Mason performed the operation.

Jack Dempsey Knocks Out Another Wrestler in 2d

Charlotte, N. C., July 29 (AP).—Jack Dempsey knocked out Ellis Bashara, former Oklahoma university football player and wrestler, in 37 seconds of the second round of their scheduled 10 round fight before a crowd of 6,500 tonight. Dempsey came in at 205 pounds. Bashara weighed 209.

RALLIES BEHIND NATIVE SON FOR ALL-STAR POST

Columbia Center of Campaign.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbia, Mo., July 29.—Missouri is the "show me" state, but this week Missouri intends to show the other states in the union that Don Faurot, coach of the state university football team, champion of the Big Six conference, is an All-American.

To this end, fans of the state, from St. Louis to Kansas City and from the Iowa border to the Ozarks, are piling up a vote the size of which would be the envy of professional politicians. Missouri intends to elect Faurot to the All-Star staff, which will direct the squad of 72 college players in their game with the Green Bay Packers Aug. 29 in Soldiers' field.

Many newspapers and radio stations in Missouri have participated in the annual poll to name the All-American football players and their coaches since the inception of the game in 1934 by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. The Kansas City Star and The St. Louis Globe Democrat also are members of the Golden Gloves group which annually brings together the largest number of amateur boxers in the world.

Campaign's On In High.

In the players' poll just concluded, Bob Waldorf, Missouri guard, a brother of Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern university coach, was chosen on the 1940 All-Star squad. His Missouri support largely was responsible for the honor. Now Missouri, with a record enrollment of newspapers and radio stations, is ready for the final test.

It is seeking for Faurot the position of midwestern staff member. Other coaches on the All-Star staff will come from the Western conference, the east, south, and the far west.

"In the first four days we cleared 76,000 votes in Columbia alone," Mark Cox, director of the University of Missouri sports publicity, said this afternoon. Cox came to Missouri, of which he is a graduate, from Peoria, Ill. Both there and at Champaign, Ill., where he worked on the News-Gazette for two years, he became familiar with conduct of similar campaigns.

Patterned After Iowa Drive.

"I know from experience," Cox continued, "that our efforts here follow the general line Iowa is pursuing in behalf of Eddie Anderson and those used to elect former coaches. But this intensive drive is new to Missouri and the fans are rallying to Faurot in a manner I didn't dream possible."

"We organized the student vote before the end of the semester. Each of the 5,300 students had opportunity to vote for our player candidates and for Coach Faurot before leaving Columbia. In addition, nearly all took petitions to their homes to be filled out. Each petition has space for 100 signatures. All have not been returned, but they eventually will come back to my office or they will be sent directly to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Conservatively, we are counting on a quarter of a million votes from this source.

"Columbia has a population of only about 20,000," Cox went on, "and except for organization work, it is obvious that we must depend on state-wide support and, in particular, from our two metropolitan centers, Kansas City and St. Louis. Missouri has a widespread alumni coverage thruout the United States, and this is another important factor. Because of our school of journalism, we have key men in many large cities. More than a score of these men are conducting campaigns for Faurot. In some instances they also have arranged to have his name on ballots in other sections as second choice.

He's a Native Missourian.

"Primarily, however, this is a Missouri campaign for a Missouri boy. Faurot was born in Missouri, at

SARATOGA FANS GIVE MUTUELS A COLD RECEPTION

Overdrawn Wins Flash Stakes as Meet Opens.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 29 (AP).—Tradition and innovation tangled today and tradition won in a common gallop. Saratoga's society crowd just didn't go for pari-mutuel betting.

A crowd of 7,701 came to the beautiful race course in the foothills of the Adirondacks and gaped. They watched George D. Widener's speedy 2 year old Overdrawn remove Anthony Pelleteri's High Breeze from the ranks of the unbeaten 2 year olds in winning the day's featured Flash stakes.

Some had fun on that one, those who bet on the winner at $34.20 for $2. They had a lot more fun in the day's secondary feature, the American Legion handicap, when Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Nedayr won at $19.60 to $2.

But they didn't bet. The New York crowd—society excepted—isn't in town and the natives, also opposed to the advent of the mutuels in the first place, refused to take the rubber bands off their bankrolls. Only $42,818 was wagered on the Flash stakes and the handle for the handicap was $35,311.

Wager Only $262,526.

The total day's pari-mutuel handle of $262,526 set a new low for New York tracks this season. The previous low was about $386,000 during Belmont's spring meeting.

Overdrawn, which won two of four races earlier this year at Delaware Park, today led all the way, after Victor Emanuel's Omission had been knocked out of it at the start. His margin was a length and a half over Mrs. D. A. Buckley's Grand Party. High Breeze was third, another two lengths back.

The race was worth $4,625 and Harry Richards rode the winner over the five and a half furlongs in 1:05.1.

Nedayr also won the Legion handicap last year in the colors of the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer. His victory today, with Basil James in the saddle, was worth $2,725. He came fast in the stretch to beat Dr. Whinny a half length. T. M. Dorsett was third.

Mrs. Kay Wins Tam o'Shanter Golf with 93

The bunkers and traps at Tam o' Shanter which proved hazardous to the nation's leading golfers in the recent Chicago Open, were even more troublesome to a field of 100 women in the club's annual interclub invitational tournament yesterday. At the conclusion of 18 holes of medal play Mrs. Olga Kay of Medinah was returned the winner with a score of 93. Mrs. H. W. Bauer of Illinois shot a 96 for second in the first flight.

Mrs. G. C. Johannes of Medinah and Mrs. N. J. Heckel of Edgewater tied for low net in the first flight with identical scores of 96—12—84. Mrs. Vj Laystrom of North Shore and Mrs. Helen Hurka of Medinah shared putting honors with 30 each. Other prize winners:

SECOND FLIGHT—First low gross, Mrs. William Tate, Illinois, 100; Miss M. G. Muench, Illinois, 104. First low net, Mrs. T. J. Edwards, Illinois, 102—17—85; Dale Reichelt, Medinah, 106—20—86.

THIRD FLIGHT—First low gross, Mrs. H. D. Hayes, Medinah, 98; Mrs. D. G. Grant, Illinois, 104. First low net, Mrs. R. H. Clark, Rolling Green, 102—22—80; Mrs. De Witt, Glenview, 105—24—81.

FOURTH FLIGHT—First low gross, Mrs. C. E. Sweaze, Westmoreland, 112; Mrs. E. W. Mueller, Ridgemoor, 114. First low net, Mrs. R. D. Steinbrucker, Evanston, 119—34—85; Mrs. J. T. Defrees, Ridgemoor, 114—28—86.

Monarchs Beat Giants, 6 to 1; Move Into Lead

With Ball Walker, Kansas City right hander, effective in the pinches, the Kansas City Monarchs won the final of a three game series from the Chicago American Giants, 6 to 1, yesterday in the Giants' park, and moved into a half game lead in the second half of the league race. The Giants will meet the Cleveland Bears in a three game series starting Sunday. Score:

SMILIN' JACK — SOLO SLEUTH

C. D. G. A. HOLDS SEASON'S FINAL HANDICAP PLAY

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The third and last of the Chicago District Golf association's 1940 one day handicap tournaments will be held today at the Bob o' Link club in Highland Park. Ted Quinn of Riverside, tournament chairman of the C. D. G. A., anticipates the largest field of the season for this concluding tourney, since no other competitive event is listed on today's program and Bob o' Link is one of the best tests in the central states, one on which nonmembers seldom have an opportunity to play.

The entry fee is $1, and every contestant must produce his C. D. G. A. handicap card. Two low net prizes will be awarded in each of three classes—A, B, and C.

All amateur golfers who aim to swing in the 44th national tournament at Mamaroneck, N. Y., from Sept. 9 thru 14, are reminded that entries close at 5 p. m., Aug. 13, at the offices of the United States Golf association, 73 East 57th street, New York City. The entrance fee is $5. Each entry must be certified by an officer of the entrant's club, preferably the secretary, or, in the case of a foreign entrant, by the organization governing golf in his home country. Each entrant shall name his employer, the nature of his employer's business, and the nature of his own duties. Entry blanks can be secured from member clubs of the U. S. G. A. and from sectional organizations conducting local trials for the tournament.

Sectional trials will be held at 36 holes of medal play on Aug. 27 in 29 centers thruout the country. The Chicago trials are set for Flossmoor.

The 44th national women's tournament, to be decided Sept. 23-28 at the Del Monte Golf and Country club, Del Monte, Cal., has two closing dates for entries. All golfers with an authoritative handicap computed by a member club or association of the U. S. G. A. must file their entries by Sept. 6 at the U. S. G. A. headquarters in New York. All players who do not have such a listed handicap must send five dated and attested score cards for rounds in the current season to the U. S. G. A. office by Aug. 30.

The Butterfield Country club tomorrow will hold its 18th annual cruise day, one of the oldest and best known invitational events in the Chicago district. One of the largest prize lists of the season awaits the winners, with awards for net and gross for members and guests at 18 and 27 holes.

Also on tomorrow's program are the final intradistrict matches of the Chicago Women's District Golf association at Edgewood Valley and the fifth series of matches in the North Shore league, with Edgewater the host club. The race in the North Shore league this season is one of the tightest in the organization's history, only eight and one-half points separating the first five teams. The point standings to date are: Skokie, 64; Sunset Ridge, 62½; Evanston, 61½; Westmoreland, 59½; North Shore, 55½; Edgewater, 51; Park Ridge, 42½, and Ridgemoor, 35½.

CHALLEDON GETS TOP WEIGHT FOR $20,000 EVENT

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29 (AP).—W. L. Brann's Challedon, which won Saturday's $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup with a 133 pound impost, drew top weight of 135 today for next Saturday's $20,000 mile and a half Sunset handicap, closing feature of the summer program.

Charles S. Howard's Kayak II., which carried 133 in the mile and a quarter cup event but finished far back, was dropped to 131. Bert Baroni's Specify, second to Challedon, drops a pound to 116 and Myron Selznick's Can't Wait, which ran third, will carry 113, two less than last Saturday.

Tragedy today marked a workout in which Harry Curland's Tactician stumbled and suffered broken front legs. He was destroyed.

Mills Girls Beat Rivals, League Leaders, 2 to 0

Outfielder Victoria Kuklinski and Pitcher Juanita Laberdee of the Mills team last night collaborated in dealing the league leading Rivals a 2 to 0 defeat in a Girls' Major Softball league contest in Spencer Coals field. Miss Laberdee gave up only four hits while Miss Kuklinski hit two doubles. The Rivals, still leading the league, tonight moved into Rockola stadium, Harlem and North avenues, to meet the Rockola team. In another league game the Mills team, which moved into third place over the Rockolas by virtue of last night's victory, will play the Hydrox team in Shewbridge field, 74th and Aberdeen streets.

GLENVIEW SEEKS NO. 6.

The Glenview semipro nine plays Edison Park in Roosevelt park, Glenview, at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Glenview will be seeking its sixth straight victory.

They're Off—the Ground—and Running!

Three of the first four horses to finish in the Englewood purse, feature of the inaugural program at Washington Park yesterday, are pictured with all four feet off the ground. Valdina Star (No. 2) is No. 1 at the finish line, altho the judges needed a photo of the finish to rule that he had beaten Betty's Bobby, which carried No. 1. The No. 8 is worn by Inscolassie which finished third, while No. 3 is Plowshare, which finished fourth. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Time, 1:37. Two dollar mutuels paid: Valdina Star, $4.40 straight, $3.20 place, $2.40 show; Betty's Bobby, $5.00 place, $3.40 show; Inscolassie, $3.80 show. Winner trained by J. Grossman. Went to post at 4:45½. At post 4 minute. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

VALDINA STAR, steadied along early, was sent to the inside when the field swung wide entering the stretch, was inclined to bear in thereafter, and withstood BETTY'S BOBBY. The latter, hustled along from the start, was forced wide approaching the stretch, came fast when straightened out, and was fast wearing the winner down. INSCOLASSIE, a factor from the start, tired in close quarters for a half mile, was in close quarters at the stretch turn and tired thereafter.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile. Four year olds and up. Claiming. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

MISSOURI PUTS ON FULL SPEED FOR DON FAUROT

Backs Native Son for Place on All-Star Staff.

Mountain Grove, down in the Ozarks. At that time his father was connected with the state experimental horticultural station. Later, Don lived in Columbia, when his father was a member of the university faculty. Don graduated from Missouri in 1925 after playing on the football, basketball, and baseball teams. He coached the freshman football eleven that fall and then went to Kirksville, Mo., Teachers. In nine years his teams won seven championships and then he returned to his alma mater.

"Last fall, under Faurot, Missouri won its first Big Six championship. Missouri won eight games, five in the conference; was beaten by Ohio State, and lost to Georgia Tech in the post-season game in Miami, Fla. So you can easily understand why it's no task to get out the voters for Faurot. Iowa is honoring its iron men and their coach, Eddie Anderson, for a successful season. We have identical reasons for being proud of Don Faurot."

It's Really a College Town.

Probably no city in the nation is so completely collegiate as Columbia. Without major industry, the city depends for existence on the state university, Stephens college, and Christian college.

Gaebler's restaurant, campus gathering place, with its black and gold motif and undergraduate atmosphere, is the center of local vote gathering for Faurot. The pleasant manager, Bill Capers, former roommate in Texas of Jack Russell, one-time Cub baseball pitcher, keeps one eye on his student help, the other on Faurot's petition.

Columbia's mayor, Rex Barrett, also operates the Uptown theater. He has opened voting booths at the city hall and in his theater. Hugh Points, secretary of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, is another key man in the Faurot campaign.

Newspapers Support Strong.

The rapidity with which the poll for Faurot has caught in the state is due fundamentally, of course, to support from newspapers and radio stations. The Kirksville Express, of which Howard Coons is sports editor, is campaigning for Faurot more intensively because of his former connection with the Teachers' college.

The list of sports editors and radio announcers is three times as large as the group which originally joined in the national poll. West of St. Louis the list includes Ray Holman, managing editor, Intelligencer, Mexico; W. T. Van Cleve, Monitor-Index, Moberly; Kelly Scruton, Democrat, Sedalia; Eddie O'Neil, Courier-Post, Hannibal; Bill Kirton, News, Boonville; Parke Carroll, Kansas City Journal and KCMO, Kansas City Journal radio station; Walt Lochman, KMBC; Kansas City Star; Gene Sullivan, News-Press, St. Joseph; William Haas Jr., Ledger, Mexico; Dale White, Post-Tribune, Jefferson City; T. Ted Branson, KFEQ, St. Joseph, and R. L. Rose, KWOS, Jefferson City.

Racing Yachts Becalmed; Will Try Again Today

Lack of wind kept the Star class fleet at Wilmette harbor from sailing the second race scheduled in the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's annual race week series yesterday. The 32 Star boats drifted out of Wilmette harbor to find no wind, and after vainly awaiting a breeze, the race committee called off the event. The series will be continued this afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock, and will continue daily until and including Saturday.

GIANTS' 4 RUNS IN LAST 4 INNINGS BEAT REDS, 4-3

New York, July 29 (AP).—The Giants came to life in the sixth inning today, scored a run an inning in the last four innings and nipped the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 3. Babe Young banged a double in the ninth to score Hank Danning, who had been hit on the hand by a pitched ball, with the deciding run. The winning pitcher was Jap Lynn, last of the trio of Giant hurlers, but Carl Hubbell was the hero. He held the Reds to six hits in 7 2/3 innings and collected three singles himself. Score:

DODGERS WIN IN 9TH.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 29 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers extended their string of feuds today to include the Pittsburgh Pirates and for the first time this season won a game in which they had a fight. Pete Coscarart's single with two on and the score tied in the ninth brought Brooklyn a 7 to 6 victory. Manager Frank Frisch was banished in the sixth for protesting a play at second base. In the last half of the ninth, Shortstop Arky Vaughan of the Pirates and Catcher Babe Phelps of the Dodgers tangled in a fist fight at first base and both were expelled.

Dennerlein, 1938 All-Star, Will Return to N. Y. Giants

New York, July 29 (AP).—Jerry Dennerlein, former St. Mary's tackle, will return to the New York football Giants this fall. Dennerlein played on the Pacific coast last fall while completing his school work. Unable to get a teaching job, he notified Coach Steve Owen today he would be on hand when the Giants start practice, Aug. 15. He was a member of the Chicago All-Star team in 1938.

All-Stars' Fourth Period Drive Thrills Fans in 1935 Battle

[This is the second of a series of articles on the highlights of previous All-Star football games.]

The Chicago Bears had another opportunity to meet the All-Stars in 1935. They won, 5 to 0, but only after they had courageously turned back a fourth period attack by the All-Stars which carried to the Bears' 5 yard line.

Jack Manders.

The collegians still could boast that the Bears had been unable to cross their goal line, a proud claim which rankles in the memory of Owner George Halas of the Bears and those veterans of these early All-Star games.

A crowd of 77,450 watched the Bears try again against a new cast of players. In the Bears' lineup were such All-Stars of 1934 as Bernie Masterson, Beattie Feathers, and Ted Rosequist, who undoubtedly assured their professional mates that All-Star spirit and ability should not be discounted.

The Bears' opening score, a 27 yard field goal by Jack Manders, with Masterson holding the ball, was routine. Manders—Automatic Jack he was called—kicked straight over the cross bar when the Bears' drive bogged down in the first period. And when a driving rain slanted across the lakeside stadium at the start of the second half, those three points loomed larger.

Thomas' Illness Unfortunate.

Under this handicap no one would have been surprised if the All-Stars never had threatened. Moreover, since the task of assembling and coordinating the college players always is gigantic, the illness which kept Head Coach Frank Thomas of the University of Alabama in a hospital for the first week of practice, was most unfortunate. Until Thomas could assume direction, Charley Bachman of Michigan State, Dr. Clarence Spears, then with the University of Wisconsin and now coaching at Toledo, and Edward [Slip] Madigan of St. Mary's carried on. Thomas had won the head coaching position with the mammoth total of 2,492,299 points.

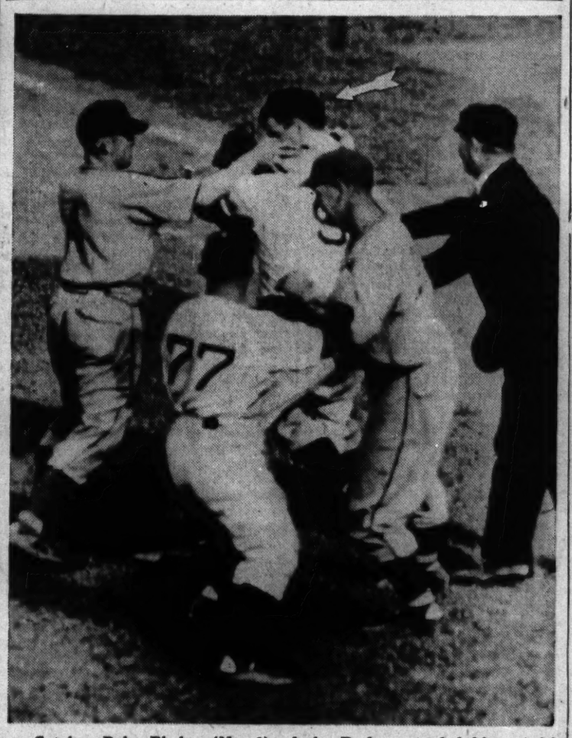
In the group of 43 college players there were Bill Shepherd, who had led the nation's scorers in 1934 at Western Maryland, and Alabama's Don Hutson. Both went on to fame in professional football, Shepherd as the key man in Detroit's attack and Hutson at Green Bay, where he established himself as the greatest offensive end in football.

The fourth period All-Star drive started after reception of a kick on the Bears' 42 yard line. Shepherd raced around the Bears' right end to the 25 yard line. Hutson grabbed the ball on an end around and finally was tackled on the Bears' 8 yard line. John Regeczi of Michigan plunged for 2 yards and then Minnesota's Pug Lund gained another yard. But on the next play, mixed signals let Shepherd get caught for a loss, and the thrilling bid for victory ended when Hutson, on another end around, was thrown 8 yards from the goal.

The other points for the Bears scarcely would have been scored except for the rain. Standing in his own end zone, after Feathers had kicked out of bounds on the All-Star 8 yard line, Shepherd fumbled the wet ball and dropped it. He recovered in the end zone, of course, and this safety completed the scoring.

By patronage and participation in the national players' and coaches' polls, the fans assured continuation of the series. And from the receipts a few weeks later $24,937 was divided among the Catholic charities, Jewish charities, and United Charities of Chicago. These organizations still receive the profits of the game and in six years have been given more than $175,000.

Just a Normal Day for the Dodgers



Catcher Babe Phelps (No. 9) of the Dodgers traded blows with Shortstop Arky Vaughan (arrow) of the Pirates during yesterday's game in Brooklyn. Shown trying to halt hostilities are Pep Young (No. 4), Pirates' second baseman, and Coach Chuck Dressen (No. 77). The umpire is Ziggy Sears. Both Phelps and Vaughan were banished from the field. RIGGS DEFEATS KEN BARTELT IN EASTERN TENNIS

Southampton, N. Y., July 29 (AP).—The 50th annual Meadow club invitational tennis tournament, which opened in crazy fashion today, settled down to normalcy as twilight approached when national champion Bobby Riggs, of Chicago, trounced Ken Bartelt, of Los Angeles, 6-3, 9-7, to enter the second round.

Before Riggs came along to halt the confusion, Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, who follows Riggs in the draw, showed up with a case of poison oak that may force him to default tomorrow, and Welby Van Horn of Los Angeles, rated third in the seedings, failed to appear at all.

The general mix-up was completed by Bobby Harman of Berkeley, Cal., and Frank Froehling of Chicago. After playing two sets without the services of an umpire, Harman walked off the court thinking he had won and Froehling joined him in the locker room for what he thought was an intermission, for Froehling believed he had taken one of the sets. The dispute wasn't settled until both agreed to replay the match, Harman eventually winning, 6-0, 6-3.

Athletics' Jinx Baffles Tigers Again, 9 to 7

Detroit, Mich., June 29 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers lost again today, dropping a 9 to 7 decision to their jinx, the Philadelphia Athletics. Freddie Hutchinson, the $70,000 pitcher recently recalled from the minors, had the A's eating out of his hand for four innings. Then the Athletics jumped on him for four runs in the fifth and shelled him from the hill in the seventh, in which they tallied five more runs. The defeat was Detroit's tenth in 17 games with Philadelphia. Score:

2 CONCERNS VOTE FIRST DIVIDENDS IN OVER 2 YEARS

Blaw Knox to Pay 12½ Cts. on Common Stock.

Blaw Knox company and the Michigan Sugar company yesterday announced the first dividends in more than two and a half years on issues of their respective stocks.

An interim disbursement of 12½ cents a share on the common was declared by Blaw Knox, manufacturer of metal products for use in various industries. Payable Aug. 31 to holders of record Aug. 10, this distribution is the first on the issue since Dec. 20, 1937, when a year-end payment of 50 cents was made.

Will Pay on Arrears.

Michigan Sugar company, producer of sugar from beets, authorized a dividend of 30 cents, payable Aug. 12 to stockholders of record Aug. 1, on the 6 per cent cumulative preferred $10 par stock. It had arrears of $8.20 a share as of June 30, 1940. The last payment was 50 cents, June 21, 1937.

Directors of the Savage Arms corporation announced a dividend of 50 cents on the common stock, payable Aug. 19 to holders of record Aug. 9. The company made payments of 25 cents in previous quarters this year.

An extra dividend of 5 cents in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of 10 cents was authorized by the Teck-Hughes Gold Mines, Ltd. Both are scheduled for payment Oct. 1 to holders of record Sept. 10.

EARNINGS GAIN FOR 3 LEADING OIL COMPANIES

Phillips' Sales Rise to Peak Levels.

Three large oil companies—Phillips Petroleum, Tide Water Associated Oil, and Skelly Oil—yesterday reported substantial increases in earnings.

Frank Phillips, chairman, and K. S. Adams, president, reported Phillips' sales are at the highest level in the history of the company. Consolidated net income for the six months ended June 30 was $6,378,198, or $1.43 a share, against $3,774,069, or 85 cents a share, in the first half of 1939.

Tide Water reported net profit of $5,904,865, or 75 cents a common share, for the first six months, against $1,206,410, or 19 cents a share, in the first half of 1939. June quarter earnings were $1,562,146, or 25 cents a share, against $534,729 and 8 cents a share a year ago.

Skelly Net Higher.

Skelly Oil company and its subsidiaries had net profit of $771,680, or 74 cents per common share, in the June quarter, compared with $517,838, or 42 cents a common share, in the corresponding quarter last year. For the first half of the year, net income totaled $1,544,961, or $1.42 a share, compared with $756,918 or 57 cents a share, in the first six months of 1939.

Earnings of General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis flour and cereal producer and distributor, declined in the year ended May 31 despite increased dollar volume of sales, James F. Bell, chairman, and Donald D. Davis, president, reported in a joint statement.

Consolidated net income for the year, Bell and Davis announced, was $5,639,274, or $6.61 per share of outstanding common stock after preferred dividends, compared with $6,451,226, or $7.69 per share, during the preceding year.

Sales Top 125 Million.

Sales for the 12 months totaled $125,574,139, against $121,943,449 in the preceding fiscal year, but the officials stated that fluctuations in the dollar value of sales chiefly reflect market conditions and do not indicate any corresponding variations in demand for the company's product. Federal income taxes and excess and undistributed profits taxes of $1,013,000 were provided for, compared with $1,515,000 in the preceding year.

Savage Arms corporation, weapon manufacturer, reported net profit of $202,789, or $1.21 a common share, for the quarted ended June 30, compared with $118,061, or 70 cents a share, in the June quarter last year. For six months indicated net profit was $226,206, or $1.35 a share, against $74,193, or 44 cents a share, in the first half of 1939.

C. Bedell Munro, president, reported the Pennsylvania-Central Airlines had a net income of $122,496 for the first six months of 1940, compared with net income of $4,836 in the first half of last year. June, he said, was the best month in the company's history. The net income figure included $96,532 from sales of equipment.

DELISTING OF 2 N. Y. EXCHANGE ISSUES APPROVED

Washington, D. C., July 29 [Special]. — The Securities and Exchange commission today granted the application of the New York Stock exchange for delisting of common stock of Ulen & Company and the Eitington, Schild company.

The application in the case of Eitington, Schild said the stock did not appear eligible for continued listing "in view of the depletion of the company's working capital, the small size of its assets, its records of losses, and information received to the effect that the company has virtually discontinued operations."

In the case of Ulen & Company the exchange committee on stock list referred to "the small amount of assets available to the issue and the small total market value of the issue."

Charge Missouri Pacific 'Milked' Its Subsidiaries

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—The Missouri Pacific system was charged today with "milking" numerous subsidiary railroads to the "verge of bankruptcy" between 1926 and 1931, in a report by a senate interstate commerce subcommittee. The report was written by Senators Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] and Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.]. They said many of the "abuses" followed acquisition of 80 system companies in 1930 by the Alleghany corporation, Cleveland holding company.

Minimum Coal Prices Go Into Effect Sept. 3

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—Howard A. Gray, director of the bituminous coal division of the department of the interior, said today minimum prices for soft coal at the mines would become effective Sept. 3 and range from 10 cents a ton for low grade Indiana coal dust to $5.25 for high grade lump produced in Washington state.

The secretary of interior said Gray had completed work on the long awaited minimum prices intended to stabilize the bituminous industry, and had already started mailing the schedules to members.

Specific Prices Withheld.

None of the specific prices other than the high and low will be announced until after they have been officially released thru the mails and after Gray has completed the task of duplicating the schedules.

The secretary said the first schedules covering mines in the Rocky mountain and far western states were placed in the mails over the week-end and those for the remaining districts would be in the mails by Aug. 1 or shortly after.

Reflect Difference in Grade.

The prices, the secretary continued, cover substantially all commercial bituminous coal and reflect the differences in quality. Producers who are members of the coal code may not sell their coal at less than minimum prices without risk of loss of their code membership which loss would subject them to a 19½ per cent tax and possibility of suit for triple damages by code member competitors.

Producers not members of the code are permitted to sell their coal at any price they wish, but their sales are subject to a 19½ per cent tax.

NEW C. I. O. FORD DRIVE INDICATED BY AUTO UNION

St. Louis, Mo., July 29 (AP).—Increasing organizing activity in the Ford Motor company and in the aircraft and farm implement industries was forecast today in a statement by George F. Addes, secretary treasurer of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Addess reported at the Congress of Industrial Organizations union's annual convention that $1,609,097 in dues and initiation fees had been collected in the 18 months ending last June 30. Expenditures were $1,501,958. He said expenditures would be greater in the forthcoming year because of "justifiable demand" for increased organizing work.

C. I. O. President John L. Lewis will address the convention tomorrow afternoon in his first public speech since President Roosevelt's renomination. In Lewis' last address, here at the Townsend convention July 2, he predicted the President would be defeated for reelection.

Small Town, Rural Sales Top Last Year by 4½ Pct.

Washington, D. C., July 29 [Special].—Sales of general merchandise in small towns and rural areas were about 4.5 per cent larger in June than in the 1939 month and continued at the same high level of May, the Department of Commerce announced today. The information is based on the department's seasonally adjusted index which measures sales of small town chain stores and mail-order business.

STEEL OPERATING RATE INCREASES TO 90.4 PER CENT

Week's Level Highest Since December.

Ingot production of the nation's steel mills is scheduled at 90.4 per cent of theoretical capacity this week, the highest point since last Dec. 11, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday.

Altho observers have reported a slackening of demand for some types of steel, the mills' backlogs are said to be sufficient to carry operations at near capacity. Last week the rate was 88.2 per cent; a month ago, 74.2 per cent, and a year ago, 59.3 per cent. This week's gain was 2.5 per cent.

Place Defense Orders.

Contracts for about 20,000 tons of structural steel were placed last week in connection with national defense plans, according to Dow-Jones & Co. This was more than in the preceding week, but new inquiries declined somewhat, the news agency said. The largest award was 12,500 tons of shapes for the naval air station at Corpus Christi, Tex. Structural awards of all types—1,000 tons or more—totaled more than 50,000 tons, and there were inquiries for another 20,000 tons, the agency said.

Most of the defense awards were for work in the east and south with one order of 2,000 tons for storehouses at the naval supply depot at Oakland, Cal.

Table Lists Week's Changes.

The following table shows the steel operating rate for this week and for corresponding weeks of recent years with changes in points and per cent from the preceding week:

	Per cent capacity.	Change points.	Change per cent.
1940	90.4	+2.2	+2.5
1939	59.3	−1.3	−2.1
1938	39.8	+2.8	+7.6
1937	84.3	+1.8	+2.2
1936	71.5	+ .6	+ .8
1935	44.0	+1.8	+4.3

LIBERALIZED RAIL JOBLESS AID IS VOTED IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—The senate voted today to liberalize unemployment benefits for railroad workers by amending the 1938 railroad unemployment insurance act.

Senator Wagner [D., N. Y.], sponsor of the amendments, told the senate that the accumulation of a $130,000,000 reserve demonstrated that present payments to unemployed railroad workers were inadequate. A Republican minority opposed the bill and urged a reduction in the 3 per cent pay roll tax on railroads, with a smaller increase in benefits. The substitute was defeated.

Wagner said the amendments would decrease the waiting period before unemployment compensation started; increase the maximum days of payment from 80 to 100 a year; and liberalize numerous other provisions. At present unemployment payments to railroad workers for 14 days range from $12.25 to $21. The amendments would increase this to between $17.50 and $40.

38 Millions More Asked for Farm Loan Payments

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt recommended today that $38,167,000 be added to treasury department appropriations for the 1941 fiscal year to cover payments to Federal Land banks and the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation. He said the funds were needed because of reductions in farm loan interest rates.

National Income This Year Is Running Near 1937 Level

Washington, D. C., July 29 (AP).—The department of commerce reported today that the national income for the first six months of 1940 was within 1 per cent of the corresponding 1937 period, the peak "recovery" year.

June payments, reflecting a rise in industrial activity as well as a seasonal gain in dividend and interest disbursements, reached $6,202,000,000. This was $551,000,000 more than in May.

Total Is 35½ Billions.

For the first half of 1940 total income payments were $35,338,000,000, a gain of $1,657,000,000 or 5 per cent over the 1939 period.

"In view of slightly higher living costs in 1937," the department said, "the real income of the American people is currently somewhat above the 1937 level."

Index Rises to 87.9.

The department's adjusted index, using 1929 as 100, rose seven-tenths of a point to 87.9 in June, which was approximately the October level and only 2 per cent below the year-end high. This advance occurred, the department said, despite sharp drops in farm operators' cash income and work relief earnings.

June pay rolls aggregated $3,823,000,000, an increase of $29,000,000 over May. Work relief wages declined $16,000,000.

RFC to Offer Traction Loan of 52 Million

BY LAURENCE BURD.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation is preparing to offer Chicago's traction lines a cash loan of 52 million dollars to help put thru the long delayed transit unification and modernization program, Emil Schram, RFC chairman, announced yesterday in Washington, D. C.

The new loan proposition, which originated with Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, and RFC officials, would be a substitute for the proposed loan of 25 million dollars requested by the transit companies from the RFC several months ago.

The latest proposal is being offered by Jones, it is understood, in order to permit the proposed unified transit company to reduce interest charges and start off on a sound financial basis. Under the program the RFC would take 52 million dollars in 4 per cent first mortgage bonds of the new company.

Two-Fold Purpose Bared.

The loan would be used to pay off some of the present securities holders of the surface lines and to finance part of the $102,000,000 transit modernization program planned for Chicago in the next eight years under the unified traction ordinance now being drawn. About half probably would be used for modernization.

Jones is expected to make the offer to transit lines' officials at a conference to be held soon in Washington. Traction officials said yesterday they had heard a new RFC proposal would be submitted, but that none of its details were known and no formal proposition had been made.

Provisions attached to the loan are not expected to affect materially the proposed unified traction ordinance on which the city and the transit lines have reached a substantial agreement.

Deny Intent To "Run" System.

Schram said the RFC has no intention of "running" Chicago's traction system. Under the loan proposal, however, the federal corporation would be the largest securities holder with a first lien on the new company's properties. Thus it would be in a position to control the financial operations of the company for several years.

The RFC plan, it was learned, would change substantially the financial merger plan which has been worked out by securities groups for the surface and elevated lines.

Holders of surface lines' 5 per cent first mortgage bonds with a par value of $72,700,000 would be offered a payment of 50 per cent of the par value of their holdings in cash or 50 per cent in 4 per cent first mortgage bonds of the new company.

In exchange for the remaining 50 per cent par value of their present securities, bondholders would receive 4½ per cent income bonds in the new company. These bonds would pay interest up to 4½ per cent to the extent that such interest is earned after payment of operating expenses, taxes, and the 4 per cent "fixed" interest of $2,080,000 a year on the 52 million dollars in first mortgage bonds the RFC would take.

Cuts Charges $2,500,000 Yearly.

This program would enable the new company to reduce its "fixed" interest charges by more than $2,500,000 a year, compared with the reorganization plan now contemplated by the lines. The present plan calls for fixed interest totaling $3,636,000 a year on $72,720,000 in new 5 per cent first mortgage bonds which would be issued in exchange for the present surface lines' first mortgage securities.

In addition, the RFC loan of $25,000,000 previously requested would cost $1,000,000 a year in interest at a 4 per cent rate, making a total of $4,636,000 a year in fixed interest charges as compared to $2,080,000 under the RFC plan. The total savings because of lower interest rates under the new plan, considering both fixed and income bonds, would be $545,000 a year.

Because such a program would change the merger plan agreed upon by the traction lines, it would have to be approved by the protective committees for 24 groups of securities holders and then submitted to a vote by the 75,000 holders themselves.

Spokesmen for several securities committees predicted last night that the plan probably would be acceptable to all classes of securities holders.

Negotiators for the transit lines will meet today with the council committee on local transportation to try to iron out the remaining points of difference on the unification ordinance.

EXPORT OF WAR GOODS BOOSTS TRADE IN JUNE

Half Year Showing Best Since 1921.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Sales of war supplies to belligerents raised exports from the United States in June to more than 350 million dollars the department of commerce announced today.

A total of $350,458,000 in merchandise exports for June compared with $325,306,000 in May, and $236,164,000 in June, 1939. June imports totaled $211,000,000. The sharp rise in June exports brought the total for the first half of 1940 to $2,067,734,000, compared with $1,416,011,000 in the first six months of last year.

The department said that the increase in exports brought the excess of exports over imports in June to 139 million dollars, and the cumulative total for the first half of 1940 to 774 million dollars, the highest export balance for any corresponding period since 1921.

Munition Shipments Soar.

Export trade statistics showed the heaviest dollar increases during June in munitions, aircraft, and iron and steel manufactures. Exports of explosives, firearms, and ammunition increased in value from approximately $2,400,000 in May to $26,400,000 in June; aircraft shipments increased from $22,600,000 to $27,600,000, and iron and steel mill products advanced from $35,900,000 to $43,100,000.

"Exports of these commodities increased mainly to the allied belligerents," said the commerce department report, "altho in the case of iron and steel, countries in the western hemisphere also increased their purchases.

"Despite the falling off in exports to France during the latter part of June, after the French armistice with Germany and Italy, the total value for the month of goods leaving United States ports for France was 8 million dollars larger than in May. The extension of the war to the Mediterranean during June resulted in a marked decline in exports to countries in that area, particularly to Italy."

32 Per Cent War Goods.

The export figures did not include a breakdown by countries. These will be covered in a later report.

The place of armaments in the United States foreign trade position—while this country itself is trying to rearm—is emphasized by statistics showing that in the first six months of this year the six leading commodities exported—all war materials—comprised 32 per cent of total exports, compared with 20 per cent in the corresponding period of last year.

The value of these commodities increased as follows during the first six months of 1940 compared with the first half of 1939: aircraft from $49,000,000 to $138,400,000; nonferrous metals from $58,400,000 to $114,600,000; iron and steel mill products, including scrap, from $96,400,000 to $220,000,000; metal working machinery from $55,700,000 to $109,100,000; explosives, firearms and ammunition from $4,900,000 to $34,500,000, and industrial chemicals from $13,100,000 to $26,400,000.

Ban Argentine Wheat Exports.

BUENOS AIRES, July 29 (AP).—Argentina tonight prohibited the export of wheat and wheat flour because poor crop prospects indicated there would be only a small surplus. Thus, by decree, further sales broad of Argentina's biggest money crop were chopped off except by special permit.

The decree empowered the ministry of agriculture to issue permits for sales to neighboring countries in amounts which would not endanger the home supply or to fulfill commitments already made. Argentina's winter wheat crop has been hard hit by prolonged rains and lack of cold weather needed for hardening.

AGREE TO PLACE TIDE WATER OIL ISSUE PRIVATELY

New York, July 29 [Special].—The Tide Water Associated Oil company and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. today signed an agreement under which $35,500,000 of new securities will be sold privately to provide funds with which to retire the company's 3½ per cent debentures of 1952, of which $40,000,000 were sold at 101 in 1937.

The new securities will comprise $19,000,000 of 1 to 10 year serial notes bearing varying rates of interest to be sold to a group of banks, and $16,500,000 of 15 year 2¾ per cent bonds which will be sold to two insurance companies. They will be priced at par. The outstanding debentures are callable as a whole at any time on 60 days' notice at 105.

No registration of the new securities is required. This factor is understood to have been a consideration in the current plants because the 20 day waiting period required after filing registration statements involves the risk of market fluctuation.

Refunding plans involving the public sale of securities were abandoned by the company last October.

Center Rogers Galvanizing Activities at East Chicago

The Rogers Galvanizing company, which recently sold its Blue Island galvanizing plant to the Equipment Steel Products division of the Union Asbestos and Rubber company, has centered its midwestern activities at its East Chicago, Ind., plant, Indianapolis boulevard and 153d street, according to F. C. Rogers, vice president. The company also has galvanizing plants at Tulsa, Okla., and Houston, Tex.

Military Equipment Costing 17 Millions Ordered by Army

The war department at Washington, D. C., yesterday awarded more than 17 million dollars in contracts, including $3,188,999 for Diesel motors and high speed earth boring machinery to be built by the Buda company at Harvey, Ill.

The $17,096,222 in contracts included various items aggregating $10,450,602 for the ordnance department, construction contracts totaling $3,066,859 and articles of clothing and equipage amounting to $2,145,501 for the quartermaster corps.

The Diesel contract, which was understood to call for 500 motors, was actually awarded the Guiberson Diesel Engine company of Dallas, Tex., but under patent and manufacturing agreements, the Buda company will produce the engines in its Harvey plant. The contract was for $2,915,255 and was the largest of the ordnance contracts involved.

Buy Earth-Boring Machines.

Buda company was awarded a $273,744 contract for earth-boring machines, four of which were supplied the army a month ago. It was said the contract called for 48 of the machines.

The Guiberson motor, suitable for operation of light tanks or, with a few changes, capable of running an airplane, presumably will power some of the 627 new tanks recently ordered.

Other contracts called for the products of a number of other Chicago area and middle western manufacturers. Delivery dates of the finished products were not announced.

The Continental Motors corporation, Muskegon, Mich., received a $1,342,681 order for radial air-cooled engines of the airplane type. This type motor has been used in tanks in the past.

Another order was placed with the American Bantam Car company, Butler, Pa., for 70 four-wheel drive one-quarter ton trucks to cost $171,185.

Allis-Chalmers Gets Order.

Other contracts included:

Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, medium tractors, $684,063; industrial type wheeled tractors, $37,728; heavy tractors, $512,346.

Budd Wheel company, Detroit, shells, $447,037.

Western Cartridge company, East Alton, Ill., cartridges, $5,206.

Onsrud Machine Works, Inc., Chicago, machine for producing hand guard, $15,549.

New York Handkerchief Manufacturing company, Chicago, handkerchiefs, $33,600.

Presto Gas company, Chicago, field range parts, $12,203.

Edward Katsinger company, Chicago, field range parts, $6,237.

James P. Marsh corporation, Chicago, field range parts, $18,960.

Barco Manufacturing company, Chicago, gasoline hammers, $42,885.

International Harvester company, Chicago, tractors, $32,873.

'WHERE'S HJALMER?' WALL STREET ASKS, BUT GETS NO ANSWER

New York, July 29 [Special].—Wall street today is asking with mild curiosity: "Where's Hjalmar?"

Ever since Dr. Hjalmar Schacht was removed from the presidency of the Reichsbank in January, 1939, there have been periodic rumors that he had fled Germany. Other reports were that the German government had decided to make use of his exceptional talents in confounding established economic and monetary laws by sending him to foreign fields. As late as last spring he was reported erroneously—to be in the United States.

Hjalmer Schacht.

Recently, it was reported in Berlin that Dr. Schacht would organize the "new European economy" after the war was over. Last week this was denied by Walther Funk, minister of economics, president of the Reichsbank.

CHECK BUSINESS IN 7TH RESERVE DISTRICT DROPS

Business done by check in the week ended July 24 in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district declined 6.6 per cent from the preceding week but showed a gain of 9.4 per cent above a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Debits to deposit accounts [except interbank accounts] as reported by 158 banks in 41 leading clearing house cities in the district amounted to $1,169,355,000 compared with $1,252,472,000 in the preceding week and $1,069,152,000 in the corresponding 1939 week. Total debits during the 13 weeks ended July 24 aggregated $15,772,823,000, a gain of 7 per cent above the corresponding 1939 period when debits totaled $14,747,196,000.

MEXICAN COURT FIGHT DIMS OIL COMPANY HOPES

Union Battles Move for Economy.

[This is the third and final article in a series by Mr. Thomis describing the events leading up to seizure of foreign owned oil lands by Mexico and the subsequent efforts to operate the properties.]

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—Never very bright, hopes of American, English, and Dutch interests for return of their oil lands seized by Mexicans in 1938 were further dimmed today as the revolutionary government and the powerful oil union here carried their battle into the Mexican courts.

Lazaro Cardenas.

In the first definite break between the union and the government, President Lazaro Cardenas last week ordered economy measures for the deficit ridden industry including the dismissal of 3,500 of the union's 18,000 members. Vicente Lombardo Toledano, de facto leader of the Confederation of Mexican Workers [CTM] countered with threat of a general strike and now has filed an injunction suit to restrain Cardenas' economy moves.

Debate "Adequate" Payment.

However, even prior to the further complication of the union-government squabble it had been apparent that negotiations between Cardenas and the oil companies had reached a

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, July 29 (AP).—A better than expected upturn in this week's steel mill operations estimate apparently touched off a selective stock market rally today that lifted favorites 1 to 2 points and a few as much as 4.

Steels and motors led the upturn after a morning of aimless wandering. The forward flurry was comparatively brief, but moderately active while it lasted. There was a subsequent price letdown, then another advance near the close. Most leaders finished at or near their best prices of the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues held net improvement of .2 of a point at 41.4, best upswing since July 16. Volume of 255,990 shares contrasted with 272,810 last Friday.

Traders seemed somewhat encouraged by British claims of strong resistance to German air raids, a moderately hopeful long term business outlook and the indication the market had been sufficiently liquidated to enable it to take advantage of any real good news to put on a broad recovery move. Considerable short covering, brokers said, helped in today's advance.

At the same time, lack of any substantial buying rush was attributed to tax and political problems at home and the far from clear Anglo Nazi war picture. In addition some analysts believed a summer industrial lull was approaching.

Chrysler shares jumped 4 points and ended up 3½. Well in front were United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Great Northern, Southern Railway, Crown Cork, Consolidated Edison, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Kennecott, and J. C. Penny.

Dow Chemical dropped 3. Slightly lower were Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas corporation, Boeing, Sperry, American Telephone, Western Union, Woolworth, and International Nickel.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 29 (AP).—Rails and industrials led the bond market slightly higher in restricted trading today. Gains of fractions to 2 points were registered for selected issues. Prospects for increased rail revenues were mainly responsible for the preference shown the carriers.

Among rising issues were Alleghany stamped 5s of '50, Interborough Rapid Transit refunding 5s, Missouri-Kansas-Texas 5s of '62, Southern Railway 4s, Standard Oil of New Jersey 2¾s, Erie 5s of '75, Armour of Delaware 4s of '55 and Kansas City Southern 5s.

United States governments, only lightly traded, gained as much as 6-32 point. Foreign government dollar loans generally declined by fractions. Among the exceptions were Brisbane 5s of '58 which gained 2; Canada 4s which gained ⅝; and fractionally rising issues of Argentina and Uruguay. German and Japanese liens slipped more than a point.

Chicago Stocks.

The mild rise in prices which began last Friday continued yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Of the 66 issues traded, 31 advanced, 13 declined, and 22 were unchanged. Trading volume remained light at 11,000 shares. Great Lakes Dredge and Dock closed up 1½ points at 19½, showing the most pronounced change among the leaders.

Bank Stocks.

American National shares gained 2 points and Chicago Title advanced a point yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. First National and Harris Trust were off a point each. Other leading issues were unchanged.

RAILROADS' NET ON OPERATIONS HIGHER FOR 1940

Class 1 Roads Earn More than 242 Millions.

Net railway operating income of class 1 railroads during the first six months of 1940 aggregated $242,366,834, compared with $165,623,219 in the corresponding period in 1939, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

Taxes of class 1 roads increased approximately $17,000,000 above the 1939 period to total $189,219,222. Taxes were about $11,000,000 above those of 1930. The association reported that 25 railroads failed to earn expenses and taxes during the first half of this year.

Gross operating revenues amounted to $1,995,596,635 against $1,804,126,557 last year and operating expenses increased to $1,497,536,082 from $1,400,744,163 a year ago.

Pennsy Taxes Revised Upward.

To provide for the higher taxes under the new 1940 federal income tax act, the Pennsylvania railroad reported yesterday that it had adjusted its appropriations for taxes in its income statement, making a sharp increase in these reserve funds.

Tax accruals of the Pennsylvania in the first five months of 1940 totaled $12,952,215 and amounted to $3,179,330 in June. Addition of these two figures would give a total reserve of $16,131,545, while the road reported actual appropriation of $17,103,480, or $971,935 more than was indicated.

As a result of the adjustment in reserves for taxes, the six month net railway operating income of the Pennsylvania was $971,935 less than would result from carrying forward the five months net operating income and adding it to the figure reported for June.

6 Months Net Is 11 Million.

Likewise the net income decreased. The road reported that its net income for the first six months of 1940 amounted to $11,296,274, or $974,101 less than indicated by adding the June net income of $2,998,306 to the five months net income of $9,272,069.

Net operating income of the Rock Island Lines in the first six months of this year aggregated $1,545,117 compared with $862,854 in the corresponding period in 1939. June net operating income of the road decreased slightly from the corresponding month last year, totaling $360,697 compared with $483,261 a year ago.

Railroads reporting larger net operating incomes for June included the Pittsburgh & West Virginia, the Denxer & Rio Grande Western, the Soo Line, and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie.

SOAP MAKER.

What is the position of Procter & Gamble in the soap industry? How have its earnings compared in recent years? Do you have any data on its earnings in relation to net worth or invested capital?—R. G.

Answer: Procter & Gamble, with its subsidiaries, is the leading manufacturer in this country of soaps, glycerin, and food products obtained from vegetable oils. It is the largest producer and consumer of cottonseed oil.

The edible products division makes vegetable oils, shortenings, and confectioners' butter from cottonseed and coconut oil. Sales of this division normally account for about one-fourth of total volume.

The company was formed originally as a soap, candle, oil, and glycerin business in 1837. It now has numerous factories in this country and subsidiary units in Canada, England, Cuba, and the Philippine Islands. In the last fiscal year the foreign business produced almost one-eighth of net profit.

Capitalization of the company consists of 22,500 shares of 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, 84,473 shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, and 6,410,000 shares of no par common stock.

Regular dividends have been paid on the preferred stocks. On the common stock, dividends have been paid continuously since 1891. In 1940, thus far, common dividends per share totaled $1.75 and 50 cents will be distributed Aug. 15 on stock of record July 25.

Consolidated net income and earnings per common share of the company and subsidiaries in recent fiscal years ended June 30 and dividends per common share in recent calendar years follow:

Net income.	Earned per com. share.	*Div. per com. share.
1935	$26,000,000	$2.23	$1.75
1936	16,138,000	2.39	1.87½
1937	26,803,000	4.08	2.75
1938	17,439,000	2.59	2.00
1939	25,400,000	3.80	†2.25

*Calendar years. †Stock dividend of 1-75th share also paid.

The company earned 13.52 per cent in its net worth [paid-in cash and assets plus surplus and undivided profits] in the 1935 fiscal year; 13.92 per cent in 1936, 21.70 per cent in 1937, 13.71 in 1938, and 19.59 per cent in 1939.

Net income in the nine months ended March 31, 1940, rose to $22,273,148, equal after preferred dividends to $3.40 a share, from $18,469,039, equal to $2.80 a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The new heat wave was the dominant factor in markets for meat and live stock yesterday.

Live costs of hogs tumbled 15 to mostly 25 cents, with some lights under 170 pounds off more.

Plain shorifed and grassy cattle sold off fully 25 cents a hundred pounds. Other kinds ruled weak to 25 cents lower.

Slaughter lambs slumped 25 to 35 cents to the lowest point of the year.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

6. The closer to sea level that a fountain pen is filled the greater the pressure. If the owner then goes up in an airplane or visits the mountains, the outside pressure is less and the ink tends to flow out of the pen. The train ride from Chicago to Denver and the airplane trip from New York to Chicago are the two which will cause this effect.
